Removal Would Aid Reds

Pres. Macapagal Notes Big Danger

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
MANILA (AP) — President Diosdado Macapagal declared today the United States should keep its military bases in the Philippines and warned that withdrawal would "play into the hands of the Communists."

"As everybody knows, the Communists have been advocating, in and outside the United Nations, the elimination of American bases scattered all over the globe," Macapagal told The Associated Press in an exclusive interview.

"It is unfortunate that some opposition leaders have advocated such a step, but this does not reflect popular opinion or the official view of the Philippine government."

Recent incidents involving American bases here have touched off demands for removal of the military installations and the recall of U.S. Ambassador William McCormick Blair Jr.

U.S. guards killed two Filipinos on the bases last winter, prompting protest rallies and attacks against the United States in the Philippine press.

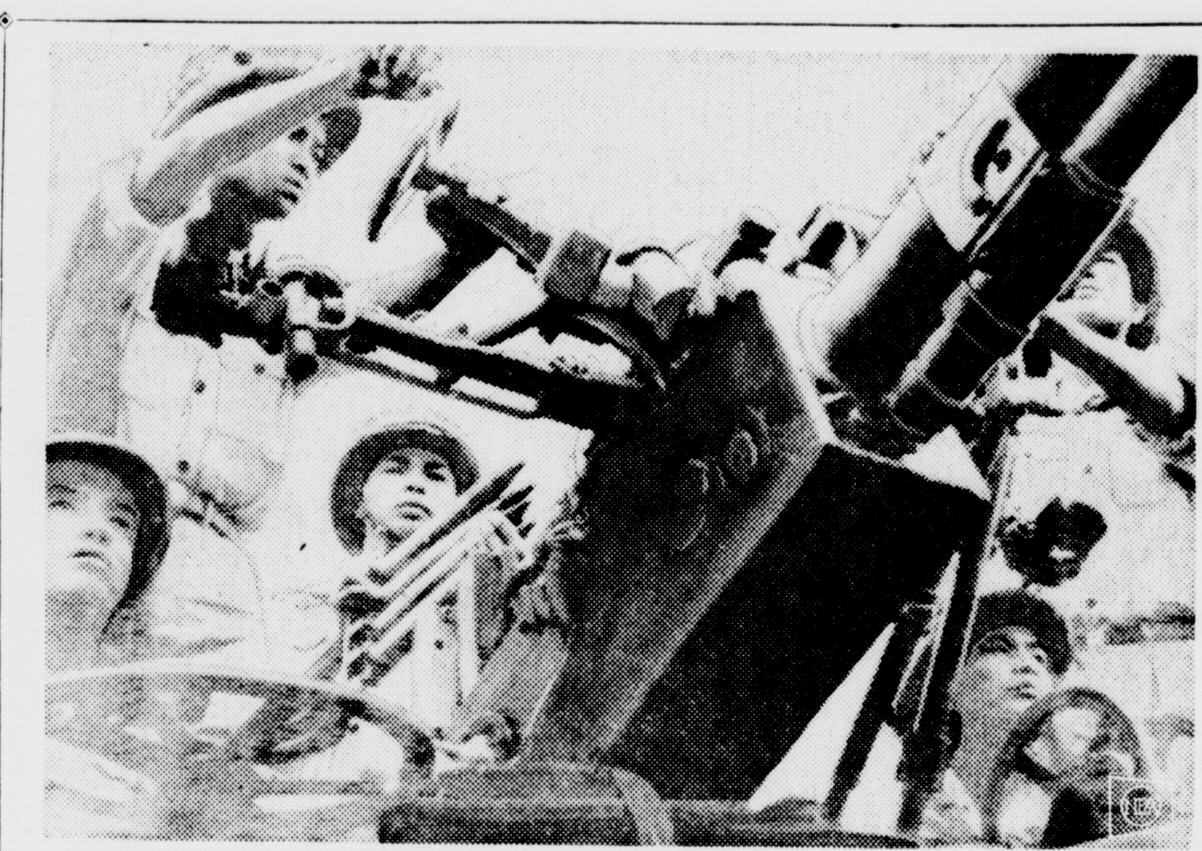

A World War II Japanese mortar shell was thrown into the American schoolyard at Clark Base while 750 children were inside. Blair set off a furor with a statement that two Filipinos had tried unsuccessfully to bomb the school.

Shooting incidents involving Filipinos led in 1956 to negotiations to revise the U.S.-Philippine military bases agreement. The negotiations have never been completed, but Macapagal said discussions are still going on.

"There are no irritants and misunderstandings between us that could not be resolved with satisfaction to both sides, the president said.

"The current talks to revise the military bases agreement are intended to promote this end."

Important Points
Here is a partial text of the interview:
Q — The United States and the Philippines long have enjoyed cordial relations, but there have been indications of strain in recent times. Do you think that recent incidents which have aroused public protest have done any damage to these relations?
A — No, I don't think that recent incidents have done any damage to Philippine-American relations. So deep and abiding is the friendship and affinity of ideals between our two peoples that honest differences of opinion cannot possibly undermine it. As has been demonstrated so often in the past, there are no irritants and misunderstandings between us that could not be resolved with satisfaction to both sides. The current talks to revise the military bases agreement are intended to promote this end.

FACES OF THE ENEMY—This defense unit of the North Vietnamese Army is on duty in Ha Tinh Province and helped bring down 13 U.S. planes recently, according to an official Communist source.

F105 Jets Drop 750 Missiles

Leaflet Shower Has Peace Theme

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist gunners shot down two U.S. Army helicopters today and damaged another, killing nine Americans.

The helicopters were hit by small arms fire as they were shooting up suspected Viet Cong positions prior to a helicopter assault by Vietnamese troops 10 miles north of Qui Nhon.

Two of the helicopters exploded when they hit the ground. All eight Americans — four officers and four gunners — in the two aircraft were killed.

Enemy ground fire hit another armed helicopter, killing the pilot, but the pilot nursed his ship back to Qui Nhon.

The operation in the flat coastal plain north of Qui Nhon was continuing later today. The area is in Binh Dinh Province, 280 miles northeast of Saigon.

U.S. Navy jets attacked a 100-vehicle truck convoy on Route 15 in North Viet Nam at 3 a.m. today, but the extent of damage to the convoy was not known.

Half an hour earlier four Navy Skyhawk jets made bombing and strafing runs on a convoy of about 20 trucks 140 miles south of Hanoi.

750 Bombs, Rockets
Ten U.S. Air Force F105 jets and an undisclosed number of support aircraft dropped 750 bombs and rockets over Routes 8 and 12 in North Viet Nam this afternoon.

A U.S. spokesman did not identify the targets and said the results of the action were not immediately available. He said there were heavy clouds and the planes encountered no enemy aircraft or antiaircraft fire.

Eight U.S. Air Force F105s made leaflet drops this afternoon on seven North Vietnamese cities. The planes dropped more than a million leaflets containing excerpts from President Johnson's speech on Viet Nam and the Vietnamese government commentary on the speech.

After Marines
A U.S. spokesman reported Communist guerrillas launched their first direct attack on the U.S. Marines based in the Da Nang area. They threw two grenades into a Marine battery late Sunday night, wounding two Marines. The Marines were reported in good condition.

U.S. war planes made their deepest penetration into Communist North Viet Nam Sunday night, probing within 60 miles of Hanoi. But four propeller-driven Navy fighter-bombers did not attack any targets and reported no encounters with Red aircraft.

Two other squadrons from the carriers Midway and Hancock made bombing forays into the North, and U.S. officials reported 32 air strikes in the South.

Fourteen Navy planes sank a ferry boat with cannon and rocket fire at Giap Tam, on the Song Tre river, about 60 miles north of the 17th Parallel frontier. Eleven others hit the Communist Long Thanh army barracks in the same area.

Hammer Positions
In the South, U.S. planes hammered Red positions in the Mekong delta area. An American pilot was killed when a bomb he dropped over a Communist objective 120 miles west of Saigon exploded prematurely.

Peace Theme Echoed at Eastertide

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An Easter theme of peace echoed around the world today. It was sounded on a windy hill in Korea, at an outdoor Mass in St. Peter's Square in Vatican City and in a tiny Episcopal church in the small central Texas town of Blanco.

The serenity and joy of Easter Sunday prevailed in the traditional Easter parades, topped by colorful ones in New York, Atlantic City and Philadelphia. In Korea, some 200 American servicemen and 50 Korean orphans knelt before a white wooden cross on White Cross Hill to say Easter prayers for eternal peace.

A half-million persons braved a cold wind and rain in St. Peter's Square to hear the annual Easter message of Pope Paul VI at an outdoor Mass.

The 67-year-old pontiff, in a plea clearly aimed at the fighting in Viet Nam, urged a negotiated end to "every war and guerrilla operation."

He sked for rejoicing on the Christian feast day commemorating the resurrection of Christ. He said it should be a time of optimism, inspiring the world toward peace and justice, and the desire "of a new start in the history of man."

President Johnson and the First Lady heard a sermon dealing solely with the Easter theme by the lay vicar of St. Michaels and All the Angels Church in Blanco, Tex.

Vicar Edwin A. Thayer urged in his sermon: "Let us see if we cannot put more into this Easter message than a pretty new hat or a pretty new suit."

The sermon was put into a single sentence capsule: "The three-fold Easter message is: God rules, Jesus lives, God loves, and it is proclaimed anew in the cry, 'He is risen.'"

Tens of thousands of West Berliners streamed to East Berlin to spend Easter Sunday with their loved ones whom the Communists do not allow to visit the West.

Marian Anderson Says Farewell After 30 Years

By GEORGE ESPER

NEW YORK (AP) — Stunning in an embroidered-satin scarlet gown, she stepped across the stage of Carnegie Hall.

The entire audience of 2,900 persons stood, applauding and cheering.

It was Marian Anderson's farewell concert Sunday, capping a legendary career that spanned 30 years across the United States, Europe and Asia, and transcended racial barriers.

A luxurious wide band of sable hemmed the neckline of her gown. Her eyes glistened. Her face looked more youthful than her 63 years.

Audience Captivated
The Negro contralto began singing Handel's "Tutta Raccolta a Anco." The audience sat captivated.

Then came her Haydn and Schubert medleys, a typical Anderson program.

Although she rarely turned loose the big contralto voice, her performance was relaxed and under perfect control. The jammed house, which overflowed onto the stage, could not get enough.

"Brava! Brava!" roared the audience.

In a generous gesture, Miss Anderson took special notice of the stage audience by turning her back to the house audience and singing two songs directly to the persons clustered behind the piano.

She came back for four encores.

After the two-hour recital, Miss Anderson returned to her dressing room to pose for pictures and receive congratulations of friends.

Impressario Sol Hurok, who introduced Miss Anderson to America in 1935 and had managed her ever since, said that (Continued on Page 10, Col. 2)

The Dutchess County motor vehicle death was the ninth to occur on highways in that county this year. The ninth death in 1964 occurred March 14 in a two-car collision on Dutchess Turnpike near the Taconic Parkway in the Town of Pleasant Valley.

Pinned in Wreckage
Fishkill State Police reported Clifford Junior Moore, 42, of Ozone Park, was pinned in the twisted wreckage of his car for about a half hour before he was extricated.

Dr. Michael Badeen, an assistant Dutchess County medical examiner, gave a preliminary finding of accidental death resulting from multiple head and internal injuries. Troopers said Edward Laroda, 39, Jamaica, L. I., operator of the car suffered severe lacerations of the legs, face and arms. He was admitted at Highland Hospital, Beacon, after treatment.

The car was northbound on Route 9 near Fishkill, when it crashed into a large tree. Troopers said the vehicle wrapped around the tree. Authorities reported there were no seat belts in the vehicle.

Mrs. Marie Hines, 60, of Brooklyn, was killed and three other persons injured in a two-car collision which occurred at about 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the intersection of Routes 23 and 32 (the Cairo bypass) in the Town of Cairo.

Cited As Dangerous
Troopers reportedly described the intersection as "dangerous" and noted many traffic accidents have occurred at that junction.

The mishap occurred during a heavy snowstorm that dumped several inches on the area during the Easter weekend. Troopers said visibility was poor at the time of the crash.

Injured in the collision were Mrs. Hines' husband, Thomas, 66; Ralph Petri, 44, of Claverack, operator of the other car, and Elsa Wells, 45, also of Claverack, a passenger in the Petri vehicle.

Greene County Coroner Henry Millsap said Mrs. Hines died of a skull fracture. She was pronounced dead at the scene. Hines was traveling west on Route 23 and Petri was going south on Route 32, when the vehicles collided.

The injured were all listed as good at Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill.

Leeds State Police said a number of fatal accidents have occurred at the same intersection in the last three years. "Most of the fatalities in the county take place there," a trooper was quoted. The intersection has no (Continued on Page 10, Col. 2)

Branches of NAACP and CORE Plan Picketing Rockwell Talk

A large picketing group from the Ulster and Dutchess county chapters of both the NAACP (National Association for the Advancement of Colored People) and CORE (Committee on Racial Equality) was expected to protest the appearance of George Lincoln Rockwell, leader of the American Nazi Party, as lecturer Wednesday at the State University College, New Paltz.

Rockwell was scheduled to speak at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the college campus in the first of a series of "Modern Political Ideologies." The lecture is one in a series sponsored by the college's Social Science Program in keeping with a college program exploring all phases of political philosophies, including the various "isms," ranging from "Communism" to "Conservatism."

Definite action on the picketing was expected to be taken at a meeting of the Ulster Branch of the NAACP scheduled for 8 to 9 p.m. at St. Mark's AME Church on Foxhall Avenue. However, a

Rare Blood Located by Computer

A mechanical brain drew blood recently to aid a local hospital patient, it was learned today.

Much needed and rarest of type, as it turned out to be.

Dr. Herbert Derman, director of the city of Kingston Laboratory, revealed that a rare type of blood was needed by a local young woman requiring a delicate operation, which could not be undertaken unless blood was available for transfusion in an emergency.

Miss Kay Wiseman, RN, blood bank nurse, he noted, reported that only one person in 5,000 might be expected to have the type blood to match that required by the patient.

Supply Not Enough
Kingston's blood bank, it was found, was able to locate one suitable donor locally, but several pints were needed to insure the patient's safety, and to meet this need, the mechanical brain became a saving factor.

The New York Blood Center, Dr. Derman reported, has a computer-operated directory of rare blood types, which "located three more compatible donors for the patient."

With cooperation of the Adirondack Trailways Bus Company and personnel, he said, "blood samples from the patient were rushed to Dr. Aaron Kellner, director of the New York Blood Center, and three bottles of the rare type blood were delivered in Kingston two days later."

Opened Recently
Dr. Derman explained that the New York Blood Center only recently opened its doors at 310 East 67th Street, New York, to centralize the blood transfusion facilities of that city.

"The center," he said, "came into being following a 1958 report by the New York Academy of Medicine Committee on Public Health describing the damage to the blood supply."

Protest against Rockwell's appearance mounted on the heels of a letter from Everett Hodze, president of the Ulster County Branch, NAACP, to Dr. William J. Haggerty, SUC president, and Dr. John Von Der Heide, Social Science Club adviser, which called the appearance of Rockwell an "insult to the intelligence of the fair minded people of this area."

Hodze's telegram said that Rockwell's appearance was "a step backward in the field of race relations," and that "You may be assured that every means will be employed to prevent the appearance of George Lincoln Rockwell or his representative."

Hodze was not available for elaboration on the statement, but William Bostic Jones, member of the NAACP board of directors and also a member of the Ulster Chapter of CORE,

Dirksen Is Against Halt in Bombings Now

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen sided today with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara against a proposal by Sen. J. W. Fulbright for a temporary suspension of U.S. bombings of North Viet Nam.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, made his proposal in an exclusive Associated Press interview. He said such a suspension would encourage the opening of peace talks.

The Arkansas Democrat said he supports President Johnson's course in Viet Nam, but added: "Within the near future, before the escalation goes too far, a temporary cease-fire might be advisable in order to give the people a little time to contemplate of peace talks."

Doesn't Work That Way
"The daily bombings are inclined to keep the atmosphere very tense, and I think perhaps, to make the North Vietnamese dig in, and as in Great Britain where the Germans thought the British might sue for peace when they started bombing them in World War II. Well, it didn't work that way."

"No one knows, if a temporary cease-fire, just to give opportunity for reflection and possibly to go to discussions as proposed by the President, might be possible. Maybe there are reasons why this is not feasible, but I'm judging from the press reports, the action of the Russians, and some of the others, that would indicate that the prospects for discussions might be enhanced by a temporary cessation of bombings."

Backs Johnson
"We don't have to make any commitments. We could resume bombing at any time there is no response. I don't see where there would be any great, very serious loss of position on our part. Anyway, it's something that I think could be considered."

Dirksen, who has strongly supported Johnson's course in Viet Nam, said he disagreed with Fulbright's views on a suspension of bombings. The Illinois Republican said the Communists have given no sign that they are willing to negotiate.

Will Use Troops In S. Korea if Students Persist

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korea's government will use the army to quell student demonstrations protesting the talks with Japan if the police are unable to control the demonstrators, high Defense Ministry sources reported today.

The sources said defense authorities have reached an understanding on use of troops with the head of the U.N. Command, U.S. Gen. Hamilton H. Howze, who has operational control of the Korean forces.

Injured In Crashes
Hundreds of police and demonstrators, mostly students, were injured last week in repeated clashes.

The government already has mobilized troops under the Capitol Security Command to help police guard such key government buildings as President Chung Hee Park's official mansion and the compound housing government ministries.

A spokesman for Howze said he had released additional troops to the operational control of the Korean army.

Demonstrations today were on a small scale and generally orderly although the day was the fifth anniversary of the 1960 student uprising which led to President Syngman Rhee's overthrow. The government and small groups of students held separate anniversary ceremonies.

County Vols Mark 30th Anniversary This Month; To Note Event Aug. 5-7

Thirty years ago on April 15, 1935, at the Dug-Out of Joyce-Schirick Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, East Chestnut Street, The Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association was organized and elected its first officers.

Attending that meeting and paying dues in the new organization were 24 members. Today the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association has a membership of 834, representing 75 fire companies and associations in the city and throughout the county.

During the 30 years of its existence the Association has been served by but three secretaries. Its present secretary,

Fred C. Harder of Kingston, has served in that capacity since July 1942, having succeeded Frank J. Wynne who served many years as the official recorder of the meetings. The first secretary was Lucius E. Dunne who served first as temporary secretary during the organization period and later as secretary. It was in 1936 that Frank J. Wynne took over the duties as permanent secretary, serving until 1942.

The 30th anniversary of the county organization will be observed during the annual convention in Highland August 5-7.

Prior to the formal organization of the County Association on April 15, 1935, there had been several meetings to discuss the formation of city and county fire volunteer units into a county group.

Edward Moran of Kingston was named first president of the County Association, William B. Martin Sr. was elected first vice president; Allen D. Porter of Ellettsville, second vice president; L. E. Dunne of Kingston was named acting secretary and George Hammesphar of Walkkill, treasurer.

The first man to sign up and pay dues in the newly formed organization was the late Joseph Disch Sr. of Kingston, who was issued membership card No. 1.

Workers Piling Sandbags As More Evacuate Homes

Churning flood waters slapped against dikes, made murky ponds of thousands of acres of farmland and relentlessly rolled through countless homes in five states today.

Workers sandbagged and kept an around-the-clock vigil at dikes along the Mississippi River from the Twin Cities in Minnesota to Cairo, Ill., as the high, icy water menaced levees.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said some of the rivers had crested and were receding.

The Mississippi began dropping in Hannibal, Mo., after coming to within 2 feet of the record 24.1 feet set in 1947. Late Sunday the river had fallen to 22.9 feet.

A broken levee near Quincy, Ill., flooded from 7,000 to 11,000 acres of farmland Saturday night. The break eased some of the pressure against other levees down river.

The Weather Bureau said the river will begin rising again, swelled by waters of flooded rivers in Minnesota.

THIS WAS EASTER (?)—Time: Easter Sunday; place: Old Dutch Church; situation: All white. That's the way it was, weather-wise. Church sign denoting Easter dawn services showed promise of a bright beginning as gay spring bonnets and other spring finery were much in evidence. But old man weather decided it was too good to last, even for Easter, and by late afternoon most of New York State was covered by a blanket of snow that was more to liking of reindeer than Easter Bunny. In fact, Kingston engineer's office reported precipitation of 0.35 inches, mostly of which was rain, while Pine Hill reported eight inches of snowfall. Calendar reminded us, however, that this was in reality "April showers" and that spring is a month old this week and summer is but eight weeks away. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

Branches of NAACP and CORE Plan Picketing Rockwell Talk

A large picketing group from the Ulster and Dutchess county chapters of both the NAACP (National Association for the Advancement of Colored People) and CORE (Committee on Racial Equality) was expected to protest the appearance of George Lincoln Rockwell, leader of the American Nazi Party, as lecturer Wednesday at the State University College, New Paltz.

Rockwell was scheduled to speak at 8 p. m. Wednesday at the college campus in the first of a series of "Modern Political Ideologies." The lecture is one in a series sponsored by the college's Social Science in keeping with a college program exploring all phases of political philosophies, including the various "isms," ranging from "Communism" to "Conservatism."

Definite action on the picketing was expected to be taken at a meeting of the Ulster Branch of the NAACP scheduled for 8 to 9 p. m. at St. Mark's AME Church on Foxhall Avenue. However, a spokesman told The Freeman today that picketing was expected from both the Ulster and Dutchess chapters of NAACP and CORE.

Protest against Rockwell's appearance mounted on the heels of a letter from Everett Hodze, president of the Ulster County Branch, NAACP, to Dr. William J. Hodze was not available for elaboration on the statement, but William Bostic Jones, member of the NAACP board of directors and also a member of the Ulster Chapter of CORE, said that both groups protested Rockwell's appearance, although CORE did not deny Rockwell's "right to speak."

Meanwhile, there were these developments today: College officials said that Rockefeller's lecture, scheduled for the main auditorium, was closed to the college students and faculty members only, and was barred to all others, including the press.

Supervisor Joseph Martorana (R-Plattekill), chairman of the Veterans Affairs Committee of the Board of Supervisors, called Rockwell's appearance "deplorable" and called upon fellow committee members and veterans' groups to join in the protest.

Members of the NAACP and CORE units from Poughkeepsie, a short distance from the college campus, were expected to join the Ulster County units in the picket protest.

Will Use Troops In S. Korea if Students Persist
SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korea's government will use the army to quell student demonstrations protesting the talks with Japan if the police are unable to control the demonstrators, high Defense Ministry sources reported today.

The sources said defense authorities have reached an understanding on use of troops with the head of the U.N. Command, U.S. Gen. Hamilton H. Howze, who has operational control of the Korean forces.

Injured In Crashes
Hundreds of police and demonstrators, mostly students, were injured last week in repeated clashes.

The government already has mobilized troops under the Capitol Security Command to help police guard such key government buildings as President Chung Hee Park's official mansion and the compound housing government ministries.

A spokesman for Howze said he had released additional troops to the operational control of the Korean army.

After Marines
A U.S. spokesman reported Communist guerrillas launched their first direct attack on the U.S. Marines based in the Da Nang area. They threw two grenades into a Marine battery late Sunday night wounding two Marines. The Marines were reported in good condition.

U.S. war planes made their deepest penetration into Communist North Viet Nam Sunday night, probing within 60 miles of Hanoi. But four propeller-driven Navy fighter-bombers did not attack any targets and reported no encounters with Red aircraft.

Two other squadrons from the carriers Midway and Hancock made bombing forays into the North, and U.S. officials reported 22 air strikes in the South.

Fourteen Navy planes sank a ferry boat with cannon and rocket fire at Giap Tam, on the Song Troc River, about 60 miles north of the 17th Parallel frontier. Eleven others hit the Communists' Long Thanh army barracks in the same area.

Leaflet Shower Has Peace Theme

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist gunners shot down two U.S. Army helicopters today and damaged another, killing nine Americans.

The helicopters were hit by small-arms fire as they were shooting up suspected Viet Cong positions prior to a helicopter assault by Vietnamese troops 10 miles north of Qui Nhon.

Two of the helicopters exploded when they hit the ground. All eight Americans — four officers and four gunners — in the two aircraft were killed.

Enemy ground fire hit another armed helicopter, killing the copilot, but the pilot nursed his ship back to Qui Nhon.

The operation in the flat coastal plain north of Qui Nhon was continuing later today. The area is in Binh Dinh Province, 280 miles northeast of Saigon.

U.S. Navy jets attacked a 100-vehicle truck convoy on Route 15 in North Viet Nam at 3 a.m. today, but the extent of damage to the convoy was not known.

Half an hour earlier, four Navy Skyhawk jets made bombing and strafing runs on a convoy of about 20 trucks 140 miles south of Hanoi.

750 Bombs, Rockets
Ten U.S. Air Force F105 jets and an undisclosed number of support aircraft dropped 750 bombs and rockets over Routes 8 and 12 in North Viet Nam this afternoon.

A U.S. spokesman did not identify the targets and said the results of the action were not immediately available. He said there were heavy clouds and the planes encountered no enemy aircraft or antiaircraft fire.

Eight U.S. Air Force F105s made leaflet drops this afternoon on seven North Vietnamese cities. The planes dropped more than a million leaflets containing excerpts from President Johnson's speech on Viet Nam and the Vietnamese government commentary on the speech.

County Vols Mark 30th Anniversary This Month; To Note Event Aug. 5-7

Thirty years ago on April 15, 1935, at the Dug-Out of Joyce Schirick Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, East Chestnut Street, The Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association was organized and elected its first officers.

Attending that meeting and paying dues in the new organization were 24 members. Today the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association has a membership of 834, representing 75 fire companies and associations in the city and throughout the county.

During the 30 years of its existence the Association has been served by but three secretaries. Its present secretary,

Fred C. Harder of Kingston, has served in that capacity since July 1942, having succeeded Frank J. Wynne who served many years as the official recorder of the meetings. The first secretary was Lucius E. Dunne who served first as temporary secretary during the organization period and later as secretary. It was in 1936 that Frank J. Wynne took over the duties as permanent secretary, serving until 1942.

The 30th anniversary of the county organization will be observed during the annual convention in Highland August 5-7.

Prior to the formal organization of the County Association on April 15, 1935, there had been several meetings to discuss the formation of city and county fire volunteer units into a county group.

Edward Moran of Kingston was named first president of the County Association. William B. Martin Sr. was elected first vice president; Allen D. Porter of Ellettsville, second vice president; L. E. Dunne of Kingston was named acting secretary and George Hammesfahr of Walkkill, treasurer.

The first man to sign up and pay dues in the newly formed organization was the late Joseph Dirsch Sr. of Kingston, who was issued membership card No. 1.

Unusual Play Is Slam Saver

Walter Malowan of New York has been overbidding by at least the 35 years that I have played with and against him. Not that I disapprove of overbidding. I have been doing it myself since the first day I played.

When he held today's hand at New York's Regency Whist Club he rebid to three spades after his partner's jump to three hearts with every intention of taking strong action later. However, his partner took full command and went to seven spades without giving Walter any chance to show his slight extra values.

Walter won the club lead and looked over dummy approvingly. With reasonable breaks he expected to run off 13 tricks with no problem. He played his king of spades and when East showed out the easy hand had toughened up considerably.

Of course, if hearts would break 3-3 there would be no trouble but Walter stopped to see what he could do against a 4-2 heart break. He saw that there would be no play to make the hand if East held four hearts but if West held four hearts the grand slam could still be made and he would not have to jeopardize the chance of making it against the even heart break.

Here is the unusual play Walter made. At trick three he cashed his ace of diamonds. Then he ran off dummy's three top hearts and discarded his last two diamonds. His next play was to ruff a diamond with a high trump. Then he led a low trump and won with dummy's eight. A heart was ruffed with his other high trump. His last trump was led and won by dummy's ten. Then he pulled the last trump with dummy's ace and the two remaining hearts were good.

Joi Lansing Is Also Warbler—
But Who Noticed

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sexy Joi Lansing took up singing a few years ago during the actors' strike and now she's a top night club act.

"I just had to look for a temporary means of support," recalls the well-endowed blonde. "I had never sung professionally in my life but I figured: Why not?"

Making More Money

"So now I'm making more money than I ever have in my life and finally getting noticed here in Hollywood, my home town."

She's been so busy on the saloon circuit that she hasn't had time for movies. But Frank Sinatra, an old friend, asked her to play Dean Martin's swarming secretary in "Marriage on the Rocks."

"Since I've been singing in clubs," says Joi, "producers have started to look at me differently."

Some of her gowns may have had something to do with that. When she opened in a New York club recently, she wore a gown cut below the navel. Miss Lansing, for the statistical minded, measures 39-23-35.

"I'm more sure of my singing now," she says. "So I'm wearing high-necked gowns from now on in."

Critics Convinced

One Washington critic, catching her act at the Shoreham, admitted that he just turned out for a night of girl watching.

"I was completely taken by surprise," he wrote. "Miss Lansing can sing."

She just cut her first record album — a group of songs written especially for her by composer Jimmie Haskell and actress Stella Stevens, no mean looker herself.

"Singing," says Joi, "is like lovemaking. You never know whether you will be good at it until you try it. If it hadn't been for a strike and some overdue bills, I never would have ventured out."

"Now, I'm seeing the world and getting paid more money than I ever dreamed existed for doing so."

The April meeting of the I.C.C.E. will be held in Room 38 of the New Paltz Central High School at 8 p. m., Wednesday, April 21. Room 38 is on the first floor of the old high school building on Manheim Boulevard. The reason for holding the meeting in this room is that part of the evening's program will be devoted to an inquiry into the present business offerings at the high school and future plans to enlarge the department.

Thomas Benenati, high school guidance director, will explain the program and answer questions.

Another part of the program will deal with forecasts of population increase within the district and what the schools must do to cope with the increase.

Frederick C. Dippel, supervising principal, will present this information. He will have statistics about the new apartment buildings in the town and statistics from some other towns showing what their experience has been in school growth and in tax revenues as a result of different types of new home construction.

All meetings of the I.C.C.E. are open to the public. The officers are grateful to Dippel and Benenati for giving up part of their spring vacation in order to take part in this program.

School Vote Set For June 10 on Site, Building

Voting on the proposed New Paltz Central High School site and building has been postponed from May 25 until June 10. After discussion, the New Paltz School Board, at a meeting last Wednesday decided to put off the vote for the following reasons:

Postponement will allow more time for a critical evaluation of site and for the architects to consult with teachers before presenting a preliminary workable plan. It will also give administrators and board members a chance to study the plan carefully and critically. It will allow the I.C.C.E. to become familiar with projected ideas for accommodating the improved educational program which the I.C.C.E. has been asking for. It will also make possible and additional voter registration on Friday, June 4, from 3 until 9, in the auditorium of the Central School.

Anyone who is registered to vote at the regular school election is also eligible to vote on June 10. Anyone who is not registered for the May election may register on June 4 if he possesses the following voting qualifications:

1. Is a citizen of the United States; 2. Is at least twenty-one years of age; 3. Has been a resident within the district for a period of thirty days next preceding the meeting at which he offers to vote; and in addition thereto possesses one of the three following qualifications: (a) Owns, or is the spouse of an owner, leases, hires, or is in possession under a contract of purchase of, real property in such district liable to taxation for school purposes; but the occupation of real property by a person as a lodger or boarder shall not entitle such person to vote. (Under the first clause, persons who hold a joint deed or joint lease may each vote.) (b) Is the parent of a child or children of school age, provided such child or children shall have attended the district school in the district in which the meeting is held for a period of at least eight weeks during the year preceding such school meeting. (Under this provision both father and mother may vote.)

(c) Not being the parent, has permanently residing with him or her child or children of school age who shall have attended the district school for a period of at least eight weeks during the year preceding such meeting. (Under this provision but one person may vote, namely the head of the household.)

Kitchen Contest Winners Listed

The winners of the Central Hudson's annual Kitchen Planning contest have been chosen from New Paltz High School. They are Diane Quick, first; June Phillips, second; Beth Carvey, third; and Mary Schulte, honorable mention.

Each girl remodeled an existing kitchen to make it more attractive and efficient. Central Hudson supplied each contestant with a kit from which to build a scaled model of her "dream kitchen." Accurate floor plans for the kitchen, before and after remodeling, were required. The entries were judged for their efficiency, amount of improvement, neatness, lighting, and decorative effect.

A colorful cook book will be presented to each girl who entered the contest and winners receive prize money, as well. The first place kitchen will be judged with kitchens from other schools in this area to determine the grand winner. The girls are all homemaking students of Mrs. Esther Winkky, homemaking teacher at New Paltz Central School. Miss Nancy Wheeler, Mrs. Jean DuBois and Mrs. Doris Bartow were the judges.

Asthma Formula Prescribed Most By Doctors—Available Now Without Prescription

Stops Attacks in Minutes . . . Relief Lasts for Hours!

New York, N. Y. (Special)—The asthma formula prescribed more than any other by doctors for their private patients is now available to asthma sufferers without prescription.

Medical tests proved this formula stops asthma attacks in minutes and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful asthma spasms.

This formula is so effective that it is the physician's leading asthma prescription—so safe when used as directed that now it can be sold without prescription in most states.

—in tiny tablets called Primatene. These Primatene Tablets open bronchial tubes, loosen congestion, relieve taut nervous tension. All without painful injections.

The secret is—Primatene combines 3 medicines (in full prescription strength) found most effective in combination for asthma distress. Each performs a special purpose.

So look forward to sleep at night, and freedom from asthma spasms. Get Primatene at any drugstore.

Three Trustees Seek New Terms

Three members of the New Paltz School Board whose terms will expire in July have indicated their intention to file for re-election. The candidates are Joseph Foley, who is now president of the Board; Jay A. LeFevre, and Mrs. Nathan Stillman. Other candidates for the three positions may obtain petitions in the Central School business office. Those petitions must be signed by 25 qualified voters and returned to Frank A. Hamilton, clerk of the Board by April 21.

Six other members of the Board, who will continue in office are Harry Cornwell, Richard Fall, Dr. William Hagney, Ashton W. Hart, Eugene Lawton, and Robert Reid.

The election of School Board members will be held at the New Paltz Central School on Wednesday, May 5, the day following the annual school meeting. In order to vote for school trustee or the budget, a voter must be registered. If you voted on the budget and school board candidates in 1964, or on the addition to the Duane School, or if you registered this spring at the Central School or the Gardiner School, you are eligible to vote on May 4 and 5. If you are not registered, you may register at the Central School on Saturday, April 24 between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. If you are not sure whether you are registered or not, you may find out by calling the office of Frank Hamilton, business manager of the Central School.

Republican Club Installs Leaders

The New Paltz Republican Club announces that at the April meeting the following officers were installed by president Fred DuBois: president, Thomas Roach; first vice president, Peter Savago; second vice president, George Ackert; secretary, Richard Corwin; treasurer, Roderick Dressel.

Following the installation Roach took the chair and thanked everyone for their vote of confidence. He stressed that because of so many local elections coming up this year the full cooperation of all would be needed in order to make this a successful year. Preliminary plans for a membership drive, setting up Republican headquarters, and the barbecue were discussed.

Peter Savago reported that the St. Patrick's Day dance had been a great financial success. Walter Dyer, recently appointed councilman, was introduced and thanked everyone for their support.

Justice of the Peace Robert Ferrigan, from the Town of Kingston, announced candidate for the office of sheriff of Ulster County spoke briefly to the club stating his qualifications for this position and pledging to perform to the best of his ability if elected. He asked for support in the Republican primary.

The next meeting of the club will be held May 11 at which time the date of the barbecue will be set and plans for the coming year finalized.

School Admission Policies Listed

The Campus School, State University College, New Paltz, in accordance with policies by trustees of the State University of New York, has instituted new admissions policies and procedures, according to Dr. George W. Bond, principal. The following procedures will take effect on May 1.

No applicant to the Campus School of the State University College will be given priority in admission because of race, color, creed, national origin, socio economic status, political affiliation, alumni affiliation, parental affiliation with the College or University or recommendations from persons within or outside of the State University.

Beginning May 1, admission to the Campus School will be by drawing of names from those who have made application.

Parents may obtain the necessary application form for nursery school in the Campus School office from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Monday, May 3, through Friday, May 7.

Drawing for nursery school and other grades will be held on Monday, May 10.

The New Paltz Campus School will be represented at a meeting sponsored by the Committee in International Outlook, April 23 and 24, at the Oakwood School, Poughkeepsie, by the Misses Sally Redfern and Joanne McElhenney.

This year's topic will be The Berlin Problem, and will bring together American and European speakers, student representatives and faculty members from schools throughout the eastern U. S. Mike VanRyn, assistant professor at the school, will accompany the student representatives.

Food Sale Planned

The Ulster County S.P.C.A. has announced that it will conduct a food sale at the Empire market on Upper Main Street on Wednesday, April 21, starting at 9:30 a. m. until sold out. There will be a fine assortment of baked goods including potato salad, home baked beans, honey wheat bread, and many more good things to eat.

C. C. Makes Survey

The New Paltz Chamber of Commerce has announced that questionnaires were mailed this week to hotel and restaurant owners in the vicinity of New Paltz to obtain information about facilities available, according to Dominick Siregola, Chamber's Area Relations Committee. Information obtained will be printed in a brochure which will be used to answer many inquiries from vacationists and tourists which the Chamber receives. Deadline for establishments to return the completed questionnaires is May 1, and the Chamber hopes to have a brochure in print by June 1.

Siregola said his committee will include all hotels and restaurants in this area on the questionnaire mailing list, but he indicated that a few establishments may have been overlooked. Any interested hotel or restaurant owner who did not receive a questionnaire, he said, is welcome to send a request to the New Paltz Chamber of Commerce.

Church News

New members were received into the fellowship of the Reformed Church of New Paltz Easter Sunday. The sermon was "Thoughts on Easter."

Members of the Reformed Church School and their teachers and superintendents were served the traditional Easter breakfast. There will be no Junior Choir rehearsal on Wednesday, April 21.

The Senior-Hi Youth Fellowship of the Reformed Church held an Easter sunrise service on the Knoll of the Arthur Kurtz property.

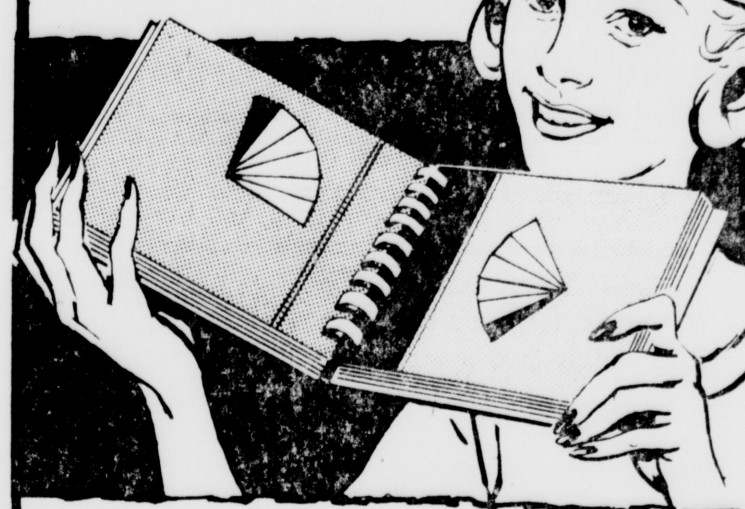

On Wednesday, April 21 at 7 p. m. the Junior-Hi Youth Fellowship of the Reformed Church will meet in the Youth Lounge for Game Night. Members are asked to bring their favorite table and game and some change for refreshments. This meeting will end at 8:30 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Martin are advisors to the Junior-Hi's.

The Ladies Aid of the Reformed Church will hold its first meeting Friday, April 23, at the home of Miss Matilda Blake.

All services of the Redeemer Lutheran Church are being held in the rented facilities of there until the congregation's Ahavath Achim Synagogue at new building is constructed, 8 Church Street, the building which is expected to be ready for occupancy by the end of this year. Services will continue to be held in the building.

LATEST SPACE PROBER

VHF and UHF—standing for very high and ultra-high frequency—are terms familiar to most users of radio and television sets.

Scientists know another range of electrical energy—VLF, or very low frequency—which is far below the normal broadcast band. Up to now, its only practical application has been to contact submarines, because VLF signals penetrate water to a limited extent.

Now the United States is building a 21 mile-long antenna near Byrd Station in the Antarctic, about 750 miles from the South Pole. If theories prove out, signals broadcast there will travel along earth's magnetic field and be picked up by another station near Hudson's Bay.

Because the magnetic field loops far out into space, it is possible that continuous communications with satellites or space probes can be maintained with VLF, even when they are not in direct line of transmission.

If so, man's venture into the new frontier of space will get a boost from research taking place on his home planet's last remaining land frontier.

PHENOMENAL? NOT REALLY

A 22-year-old Russian girl, Rosa Kuleshova, made international news in 1962 when it was reported that she possessed the mysterious ability to read print with her fingertips while blindfolded.

There followed a flurry of similar claims, both in Russia and the United States. A Michigan housewife was said to be able to detect colors by touch, even in complete darkness. A national magazine devoted an article to "dermo-optical perception."

Most scientists remained skeptical, however, especially since among the millions of blind persons, who could be expected to have been the first to make the discovery, none ever claimed the ability.

Now, reports Scientific American, the Russians have explained the "phenomenon," at least on their side of the world.

Carefully controlled tests at the Bekhterev Psychoneurological Scientific Research Institute in Leningrad showed—Rosa peeked.

POOCHES AND POUCHES

The Post Office Department has just announced that 7,000 mail carriers were bitten by dogs in 1964.

It wasn't explained whether the dogs were unhappy with the service or just didn't like mailmen. But it does indicate a strained relationship.

On the other hand, it's a common sight to see a mailman accompanied on his rounds by a dog or several dogs. And they must really like the guy, since it stands to reason all of them wouldn't be tagging along because they expect to get a letter.

Why do dogs bite some mailmen and like others?

It depends partly on the dog, of course. But it also may depend on the postman. Some carriers may go out of their way a bit to win over suspicious or hostile pooches with a friendly word and a confident approach.

The same technique has been known to work with people. And with nations. If it's important for the U.S. mail to get through, it's important for human understanding and good will to get through, too. And by special delivery.

'JOBS FOR ALL' PENALTY

Is full employment the Utopia it is supposed to be? Recent reports from countries which enjoy this state of affairs are disillusioning.

In West Germany, where there are not enough workmen to fill existing jobs, employees are called unreliable, careless, and frequently invisible as absenteeism mounts. Employers offer bonuses for job interviews. The wait for services or repairs may be months.

In Britain bad workmanship is said to be commonplace. New buildings are frequently defective and contractors indifferent. Swedish and Austrian hospitals are understaffed; there often is a long wait for admittance. In Japan good factory jobs at

RAY BLISS HAS NO TIME TO WASTE

When he was the organizer of Republican victories in Ohio, Ray Bliss was not noticeably friendly toward groups that preferred to work outside the official party apparatus. Possibly they offended his sense of regularity; after all, who could tell when an Ohio conservative might momentarily turn up in Democratic Senator Frank Lausche's pocket out of gratitude for Lausche's support of anti-Communist foreign policy positions? In his present job as head of the Republican National Committee, Bliss hasn't yet indicated any specific attitude toward the outside-the-party conservatives on a country-wide scale. But certain commentators who like to give the impression that they get all things from the horse's mouth would have us believe that Ray Bliss hasn't changed.

One hopes that this view of Bliss is a trifle over hasty. For as Ray Bliss will soon learn, the United States is not merely Ohio multiplied by fifty. Ohio happens to be a particularly well-balanced state in which Republican victories can be expected more than half the time anyway, no matter what the extra-party "muscle groups" may be doing. It is a state, moreover, in which "labor" is less apt to be led by the nose than elsewhere. The late Senator Taft taught the Ohio working man that legislative independence does not necessarily lead to union-busting. Consequently such left-wing "muscle groups" as labor's COPE have to labor long and hard to swing Ohio elections.

Politically speaking, Bliss has come to Washington from a comparative Eden. But when he really digs in to discover the realities of all too many of the remaining forty-nine states he will surely be impressed with what the leftist outside-the-party muscle boys have done to win national victories for John F. Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson.

What has made the modern Democratic Party such a potent instrument is its hospitality to all manner of extra-party groups. It has welcomed the "social democratic" (i.e. socialist) Americans for Democratic Action. The "position papers" prepared by ADA-ers have been accepted as the basis for foreign policy and for legislation—and one early darling of the ADA, Hubert H. Humphrey, is now Vice President of the United States. When Republican ex-Congressman from Indiana Donald Bruce says "DA-ers constitute the 'brain' of the Democratic Party even though this brain exists outside the party's body, he may be using an image that suggests an anatomical impossibility. Nevertheless, there have been times when it has been mere sober truth.

Then there are the political action groups and the committees on political "education" maintained by the labor unions. These are not official adjuncts of the Democratic Party, but they work day and night on a year-round basis to promote their pet local and national legislation and their own candidates for Democratic Party nomination. With the unions functioning in an extra-curricular way as fund collectors for the COPE-type "educationists," this means a plentiful supply of money which Democratic Party candidates and legislators find useful.

Then there are the university faculty "liberals" who know how to work as if they were all instrumentalists in a great symphony orchestra. The Rostows, the Schlesingers, the Galbraiths and the Eric Goldmans blow on their woodwinds and beat their cymbals, and their music is welcomed by the Democrats all the time, not merely in the latter-half of an election year.

What Ray Bliss should do as head of the Republican National Committee is to ponder the success of the Democratic Party in making use of extra-party brains and extra-party "muscle." He should spread the red carpet for such fledgling conservative groups as the National Federation of Conservative Organizations in Indianapolis, Indiana, and the American Conservative Union in Washington, D.C. Nor is it suggested here that he should cast a cold eye on other groups which, though proclaimed "liberal," are still sufficiently close to basic Republicanism to prefer working for their ideas through the Republican Party.

Since Ray Bliss is a man to recognize "problems," there is no reason to believe that he can't make the necessary transition from Ohio to Washington. But 1966 will be on him before he knows it, and there is no time to waste.

The DOCTOR SAYS

Diphtheria Still Brings Death to Many Children

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D., Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It has been said that there is no chance that an infectious disease will ever be completely wiped out because, when it becomes rare, people get careless about its prevention. Diphtheria is a case in point. Preventive measures have been known for nearly 50 years but several hundred children still die of this disease in the United States every year. In most cases this is due to a failure of the parents to have their children immunized.

At birth most babies have an immunity transferred from the mother who is herself immune but about 15 per cent are born to mothers who are susceptible. These babies receive no transferred immunity. As with transferred immunity to other diseases, this gradually disappears and is usually all gone before the child is one year old. That is why diphtheria toxin (usually combined with whooping cough vaccine and tetanus toxin) should be given when a child is between 6 and 9 months old.

Most doctors do not bother to make a Schick test to determine whether or not a child is susceptible to diphtheria at this time but it is wise to have this test made when the child is ready for school. If the Schick test is positive a booster dose of the toxin should be given but before this is done it is necessary to make sure that the child is not allergic to the toxin.

The first sign of diphtheria is usually a sore throat. A grayish membrane forms in this area and swallowing become extremely difficult. Every child with a severe sore throat and fever should have a throat culture but, if diphtheria is strongly suspected, diphtheria antitoxin should be given without waiting for the report of the culture.

Antitoxin, unlike the toxin, will combat the poisons produced by the infection but will not stimulate the production of immunizing antibodies. If it is not given in the first two days of the illness it will not help. Antitoxin contains horse serum and before it is given the child must be tested for allergy to this foreign protein, especially if he has previously had any kind of antitoxin.

Diphtheria is kept going by immune carriers. Some are persons who had the disease and recovered following which the causative organism, instead of dying out, happily set up housekeeping in the carrier's throat. Other carriers apparently have developed an immunity to diphtheria without ever having had the disease. In either case, when a carrier is discovered, he can be freed of these germs through the use of modern drugs.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Two dozen vacancies on the federal bench are contributing heavily to the burdens of the nation's overloaded judicial system.

Necessary senatorial recommendations are extremely slow in coming in a substantial number of cases. But the appointment of judges is being further delayed because President Johnson injects himself more personally into the selection process than did John F. Kennedy and other predecessors.

Says an official: "The President gets himself more deeply involved at an earlier stage than others have done."

"There are some places where he shouldn't be stepping in at all. He should only move in when he has to, when there is an impasse or a controversy."

RIGHT NOW THERE ARE 16 JUDGESHIP VACANCIES at the federal district level, not counting one in Puerto Rico. Five important spots are open in the U. S. Court of Appeals, and two on the U. S. Court of Customs based in New York.

The backlog of unfilled judgeships could get suddenly worse a few months hence. Chances are high for passage of South Carolina Sen. Olin D. Johnston's bill creating 41 additional federal judgeships to ease the judiciary's burgeoning caseload.

This is a follow-up, of course, of recommendations by the Judicial Conference of the United States, a body led by Chief Justice Earl Warren and meeting semiannually to study the court system. This is the first proposed expansion of the judgeship roster since 73 new federal posts were created under President Kennedy in 1961.

WHERE LYNDON JOHNSON FACES the biggest gun in the South's Fifth Circuit embracing Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

Two vacancies exist there on the normally nine-man appeals court panel. One, usually filled by a Texan, may not prove too troublesome. The other, going usually to a Mississippian, is the real stickler.

The dilemma is obvious. On the one hand the President must look to Mississippi's staunchly segregationist senators, Eastland and Stennis, for recommendations. On the other he must listen to Negro and other civil rights advocates who argue that the federal bench in the South already has too many segregationist judges.

Consequently the "Mississippi vacancy" could continue a long time. No resolution of the problem is anywhere in sight. Meantime, the Fifth Circuit's incredible workload goes on mounting precipitously. The proposed court enlargement would include four new but temporary appeals court judgeships for the overburdened Fifth. Yet the necessity of filling them, if they are created, will only heighten the President's southern dilemma.

CONTRARY TO MUCH OPINION, it is not civil rights cases which account for the rising caseload in this southern tier of states. Officials say it is just the expected result of a populous region exhibiting tremendous new growth.

The plan for four temporary judgeships (likely to be made permanent later) in the Fifth Circuit is a substitute for another more controversial proposal—splitting the Fifth into two separate circuits. This is opposed by the federal judiciary's administrative arm and the Department of Justice.

The more circuits, the more conflicts among them and the more cases winding up in the Supreme Court's crowded lap.

The while problem of swelling caseloads would be vastly eased if some judges pulled a stronger card. But of 78 judges eligible for retirement last year by reason of age and service, only 15 quit.

The lingering oldsters (one from Calvin Coolidge's day) help to throw the matter into Johnson's slow-grinding appointment mill.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

This was the night of the wake. The whole clan was at Finn's Funeral Parlor. They sat on camp chairs and whispered, or in standing groups chatting, or on the porch smoking. Some stood close to the casket, looking down at the bland face of Dan Hoolihan, lying on his back in a blue suit, his fingers entwined with a rosary.

Even knew Dan well. Each kept his thoughts to himself . . .

HIS MOTHER: He meant well. Now he's gone, just as his father went. Everybody says "Poor Dan." How about me? I'm the one who is suffering. Does anybody ever think of the poor mother? Ah, the look on the face of him. It's as though he sees the angels. Poor Dan.

THE DOCTOR: Lucky man. He was 35, and he got off easily. Ulcers, ulcers and more ulcers. Then cirrhosis. This one literally drank himself into the grave. When I think of all the visits, all the hospitalization, all the vows in dire extremis . . .

A SON, 10: I can't cry. He scares me. Look how still he is. Dad was never like that. He used to moan in his sleep, and sometimes he fell out of bed. Then Momma died and he made us look at her. I turned my face away and he slapped me and said: "That's your mother, son. That's your mother."

LOAN COMPANY MANAGER: I just wanted to make sure. We're going to have to write off $241. The children can't pay it and the aunt says there isn't enough left to pay for the funeral. Well, Dan, however far $241 will get you, you're welcome to it.

GROCER: They'll make a hero out of this one. He bought pea soup for the kids—"It will stick to their ribs," he'd say—and a jug of liquor for himself. I used to say "Dan my boy, it's none of my business" and he'd say "If it isn't, then shut up." God forgive him.

SCHOOL TEACHER: A good student. Could absorb knowledge like a blotter. But self-indulgent. Always sorry for himself when things went wrong. I should have predicted this finish in the seventh grade. It might have saved a lot of grief for others if it had happened then.

COP: A bad drunk. Dan Hoolihan. Sober he was as muck and mild as a child. Couldn't speak above a whisper. When he had his load on, he could roar like a lion. Poor Dan. He carries a few lumps from my nightstick; he does indeed.

PRIEST: I never saw him in church. Oh yes. Once. When his poor woman died. They say she put up with a lot. Well, tomorrow he'll be in church and we will celebrate a solemn high mass as though he was a martyr saint. God forgive me, maybe he was.

YOUNG WOMAN: They don't know him. I do. He was a good man to the core. Drink was his curse, but others have worse. He said he loved me, and he never loved her. Just put up with her for the sake of the children. I'm the one who will keep his memory green.

DAUGHTER, 5: Daddy is dead. What is dead? They said he is sleeping. Somebody wake him up because I have nobody to tuck me in. I know, they are

Civil Rights Hypocrisy And Frauds in Chicago

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Hypocrisy on the subject of civil rights is rampant in many parts of the United States — both North and South. Widespread acclaim is given the new voting-rights bill as a much-needed measure to prevent discrimination by reason of race or color. But, oddly enough, not a single line in the proposed legislation would prohibit the frauds and interferences with the right to vote which are prevalent, particularly in many of the big cities in the North.

A majority of the members of Congress are apparently willing to disregard the Constitution and let the Federal government take over control of all elections — state as well as Federal. Yet no provision has been adopted that would prevent the votes of the citizens in a state or county or city from being rendered meaningless through frauds. The Chicago Tribune, in an editorial, reveals the story of abuses in the election process in Illinois as follows:

"At the 1964 election the Democratic organization again made use of 'assistance' to voters to make the vote almost unanimous in many precincts. The practice is to approach every voter as he enters the polling place, hand him a form on which he can sign a request for assistance because he can't read English and then follow him into the polling booth to direct his movement of the levers."

"Many times in the 1964 election, voters were followed into polling booths and given 'assistance' even though they did not sign affidavits that they were illiterate. Detailed evidence of the illegal procedures was supplied in the recent report of the eagle eye organization, which had many observers in polling places."

"If such wholesale election frauds were permitted in Alabama or Mississippi there would be protests from coast to coast that civil rights had been violated. Clergymen and others would travel to the scene and stage huge demonstrations. Maybe the National Guard would be called into Federal service and assigned to guard the polling places. "We have not heard of a single Chicago clergyman who has carried a picket sign or even expressed any interest in the wholesale intimidation, bribery and fraud which goes on at every election here. We have not heard of a single clergyman who has supported the bill to prevent abuses of the 'assistance' to voters. We have not heard President Johnson emoting on television about the sacred right to vote secretly and to have the votes counted honestly in Chicago."

"When the vote came in the House Elections Committee (of the Illinois Legislature) all the Democrats, including the 'blue ribbon' Democrats, lined up against the reform bill. Chicago Democrats are strongly in favor of fair elections in Alabama and Mississippi. Their distant vision is good, but otherwise they are myopic. What a bunch of hypocrites!"

It has rightly been argued that the conduct of elections is a local affair and should be handled entirely by the states, as provided by the Federal Constitution. But punishment for any skulduggery connected with the registration of voters in certain states of the South now is regarded by the Administration here as a policing function of the Federal government. This is the fundamental concept of the new voting-rights legislation. So in order to be consistent, theoretically at least, the proposed voting-rights law should include ways and means of insuring not only the right to vote but the right to vote without being subjected to improper influences during the actual casting of one's ballot.

In many parts of the South, when Negroes are eventually registered in great numbers, there probably will be cases of manipulation of the Negro vote just as there has been of the white vote in certain areas where political bosses hold sway. Perpetrators of fraud are not confined to any race or ethnic group.

The conspicuous absence of any provisions in the new voting-rights bill to protect the nation against the stealing of elections is not surprising. Politicians do not inflict self-punishment.

There are many evidences of the hypocrisy of political leaders. They shout loudly about discrimination and the denial of voting rights, while at the same time they carefully avoid enactment of any legislation or local ordinances which will interfere with the way the big bosses control the votes in the large cities of the United States.

These cities, moreover, frequently hold the balance of power in electing a President of the United States. When Richard M. Nixon was running against John F. Kennedy in 1960, a heavy Democratic vote in the city of Chicago swung the electoral vote of the State of Illinois to Mr. Kennedy by a small margin. Charges of fraud and "assistance" in the election were heard at that time. But no satisfactory official inquiry was ever made into what actually happened. Since safeguards were not taken in advance by the passage of adequate laws, there was reluctance to collect legal proof of what was generally known — namely that the local elections were to no small extent fraudulent.

Quick Quiz

Q—What is a presidential salute?

A—Twenty-one guns fired in succession is the generally accepted salute to a reigning monarch. The custom originated in France and Britain, and the United States applied it to the president as a tradition until Aug. 16, 1875, when it became official.

Q—What is the origin of the word "tantalize"?

A—It stems from the Greek mythological character Tantalus who was punished by being plunged up to his chin in water which he could not drink, near a tree, the fruit of which he could not reach — hence the word "Tantalize" is taken from his name.

LATEST SPACE PROBER

VHF and UHF—standing for very high and ultra-high frequency—are terms familiar to most users of radio and television sets.

Scientists know another range of electrical energy—VLF, or very low frequency—which is far below the normal broadcast band. Up to now, its only practical application has been to contact submarines, because VLF signals penetrate water to a limited extent.

Now the United States is building a 21 mile-long antenna near Byrd Station in the Antarctic, about 750 miles from the South Pole. If theories prove out, signals broadcast there will travel along earth's magnetic field and be picked up by another station near Hudson's Bay.

Because the magnetic field loops far out into space, it is possible that continuous communications with satellites or space probes can be maintained with VLF, even when they are not in direct line of transmission.

If so, man's venture into the new frontier of space will get a boost from research taking place on his home planet's last remaining land frontier.

PHENOMENAL? NOT REALLY

A 22-year-old Russian girl, Rosa Kuleshova, made international news in 1962 when it was reported that she possessed the mysterious ability to read print with her fingertips while blindfolded.

There followed a flurry of similar claims, both in Russia and the United States. A Michigan housewife was said to be able to detect colors by touch, even in complete darkness. A national magazine devoted an article to "dermo-optical perception."

Most scientists remained skeptical, however, especially since among the millions of blind persons, who could be expected to have been the first to make the discovery, none ever claimed the ability.

Now, reports Scientific American, the Russians have explained the "phenomenon," at least on their side of the world.

Carefully controlled tests at the Bekhterev Psychoneurological Scientific Research Institute in Leningrad showed—Rosa peeked.

POOCHES AND POUCHES

The Post Office Department has just announced that 7,000 mail carriers were bitten by dogs in 1964.

It wasn't explained whether the dogs were unhappy with the service or just didn't like mailmen. But it does indicate a strained relationship.

On the other hand, it's a common sight to see a mailman accompanied on his rounds by a dog or several dogs. And they must really like the guy, since it stands to reason all of them wouldn't be tagging along because they expect to get a letter.

Why do dogs bite some mailmen and like others?

It depends partly on the dog, of course. But it also may depend on the postman. Some carriers may go out of their way a bit to win over suspicious or hostile pooches with a friendly word and a confident approach.

The same technique has been known to work with people. And with nations.

If it's important for the U.S. mail to get through, it's important for human understanding and good will to get through, too. And by special delivery.

'JOBS FOR ALL' PENALTY

Is full employment the Utopia it is supposed to be? Recent reports from countries which enjoy this state of affairs are disillusioning.

In West Germany, where there are not enough workmen to fill existing jobs, employees are called unreliable, careless, and frequently invisible as absenteeism mounts. Employers offer bonuses for job interviews. The wait for services or repairs may be months.

In Britain bad workmanship is said to be commonplace. New buildings are frequently defective and contractors indifferent. Swedish and Austrian hospitals are understaffed; there often is a long wait for admittance. In Japan good factory jobs at-

RAY BLISS HAS NO TIME TO WASTE

When he was the organizer of Republican victories in Ohio, Ray Bliss was not noticeably friendly toward groups that preferred to work outside the official party apparatus. Possibly they offended his sense of regularity; after all, who could tell when an Ohio conservative might momentarily turn up in Democratic Senator Frank Lausche's pocket out of gratitude for Lausche's support of anti-Communist foreign policy positions? In his present job as head of the Republican National Committee, Bliss hasn't yet indicated any specific attitude toward the outside-the-party conservatives on a country-wide scale. But certain commentators who like to give the impression that they get all things from the horse's mouth would have us believe that Ray Bliss hasn't changed.

One hopes that this view of Bliss is a trifle over hasty. For as Ray Bliss will soon learn, the United States is not merely Ohio multiplied by fifty. Ohio happens to be a particularly well-balanced state in which Republican victories can be expected more than half the time anyway, no matter what the extra-party "muscle groups" may be doing. It is a state, moreover, in which "labor" is less apt to be led by the nose than elsewhere. The late Senator Taft taught the Ohio working man that legislative independence does not necessarily lead to union-busting. Consequently such left-wing "muscle groups" as labor's COPE have to labor long and hard to swing Ohio elections.

WASHINGTON — Hypocrisy on the subject of civil rights is rampant in many parts of the United States—both North and South. Widespread acclaim is given the new voting-rights bill as a much-needed measure to prevent discrimination by reason of race or color. But, oddly enough, not a single line in the proposed legislation would prohibit the frauds and interferences with the right to vote which are prevalent, particularly in many of the big cities in the North.

A majority of the members of Congress are apparently willing to disregard the Constitution and let the Federal government take over control of all elections—state as well as Federal. Yet no provision has been adopted that would prevent the votes of the citizens in a state or county or city from being rendered meaningless through frauds. The Chicago Tribune, in an editorial, reveals the story of abuses in the election process in Illinois as follows:

"At the 1964 election the Democratic organization again made use of 'assistance' to voters to make the vote almost unanimous in many precincts. The practice is to approach every voter as he enters the polling place, hand him a form on which he can sign a request for assistance because he can't read English and then follow him into the polling booth to direct his movement of the levers."

"Many times in the 1964 election, voters were followed into polling booths and given 'assistance' even though they did not sign affidavits that they were illiterate. Detailed evidence of the illegal procedures was supplied in the recent report of the eagle eye organization, which had many observers in polling places."

"If such wholesale election frauds were permitted in Alabama or Mississippi there would be protests from coast to coast that civil rights had been violated. Clergymen and others would travel to the scene and stage huge demonstrations. Maybe the National Guard would be called into Federal service and assigned to guard the polling places. "We have not heard of a single Chicago clergyman who has carried a picket sign or even expressed any interest in the wholesale intimidation, bribery and fraud which goes on at every election here. We have not heard of a single clergyman who has supported the bill to prevent abuses of the assistance to voters. We have not heard President Johnson emoting on television about the sacred right to vote secretly and to have the votes counted honestly in Chicago."

"When the vote came in the House Elections Committee (of the Illinois Legislature) all the Democrats, including the 'blue ribbon' Democrats, lined up against the reform bill in favor of fair elections in Alabama and Mississippi. Their distant vision is good, but otherwise they are myopic. What a bunch of hypocrites!"

It has rightly been argued that the conduct of elections is a local affair and should be handled entirely by the states, as provided by the Federal Constitution. But punishment for any skulduggery connected with the registration of voters in certain states of the South now is regarded by the Administration here as a policing function of the Federal government. This is the fundamental concept of the new voting-rights legislation. So in order to be consistent, theoretically at least the proposed voting-rights law should include ways and means of insuring not only the right to vote but the right to vote without being subjected to improper influences during the actual casting of one's ballot.

In many parts of the South, when Negroes are eventually registered in great numbers, there probably will be cases of manipulation of the Negro vote just as there has been of the white vote in certain areas where political bosses hold sway. Perpetrators of fraud are not confined to any race or ethnic group.

The conspicuous absence of any provisions in the new voting-rights bill to protect the nation against the stealing of elections is not surprising. Politicians do not inflict self-punishment.

There are many evidences of the hypocrisy of political leaders. They shout loudly about discrimination and the denial of voting rights, while at the same time they carefully avoid enactment of any legislation or local ordinances which will interfere with the way the big bosses control the votes in the large cities of the United States.

These cities, moreover, frequently hold the balance of power in electing a President of the United States. When Richard M. Nixon was running against John F. Kennedy in 1960, a heavy Democratic vote in the city of Chicago swung the electoral vote of the State of Illinois to Mr. Kennedy by a small margin. Charges of fraud and "assistance" in the election were heard at that time. But no satisfactory official inquiry was ever made into what actually happened. Secret safeguards were not taken in advance by the passage of adequate laws, there was reluctance to collect legal proof of what was generally known—namely that the local elections were to no small extent fraudulent.

Quick Quiz

Q—What is a presidential salute?

A—Twenty-one guns fired in succession is the generally accepted salute to a reigning monarch. The custom originated in France and Britain and the United States applied it to the president as a tradition until Aug. 16, 1875, when it became official.

Q—What is the origin of the word "tantalize"?

A—It stems from the Greek mythological character Tantalus who was punished by being pined up to his chin in water which he could not drink, near a tree, the fruit of which he could not reach—hence the word "Tantalize" is taken from his name.

DA Asks Public Help in Smut Literature Drive

At a recent meeting of St. Joseph's Holy Name Society, District Attorney Joseph Torracca asked the public to help him rid the county of smut literature.

Using the term "Cess Pool Publications", Torracca said that "smut" is a two billion dollar a year business. The district attorney claimed that pornography is the major cause of sex crime in the United States.

"Rape is committed every 33 minutes in this country," he said, "40 per cent of which is committed by men under 25 years of age. Torracca urged parents to check the magazine racks in the stores they patronize, and if any smut literature is displayed, ask the proprietor to remove it. The district attorney added that "if you are too embarrassed to do this, call his office or the police department and report it. You do not have to divulge your name," he stated. His office will then contact the store owner and inform him of the complaint and ask him to remove this material from the magazine rack.

In closing his address, Torracca urged every citizen of the county to write their state representative and ask him to support new legislation to combat this problem.

Dear Abby . . .

A Male's Viewpoint!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You women are all alike, aren't you? "ALL THROUGH" whined that she had been hurt so bad by her husband she had never got over it. All he said after she had just been through the most excruciating pain ever inflicted on a human, while giving birth to their second girl, was, "You're never going to have a boy, are you?" And you, DEAR ABBY, gave her typically womanish advice: "Tell HIM he can have the next baby."

This husband was probably just kidding. And if he chose a poor time for a joke he should have been excused. After all, while his wife was having the baby, he spent hours praying and worrying, and his judgment was not the best. Women today are so doped up during childbirth that they do not experience anywhere near the pain their ancestors felt. Furthermore, the woman who does suffer a little pain three or four times in her life, and wears her martyrdom like a badge, gives ME a pain. No man can know the exact degree of pain a woman feels in childbirth, but I seriously doubt that it is any more painful to her than a kick in the groin is to man. And WE feel that pain a heck of a lot more than three or four times in our lifetimes. Sincerely,

ALL THROUGH WITH "ALL THROUGH"
DEAR ALL THROUGH: Ave, come on, I've had two children, and I'd rather have a kick in the groin any time.

DEAR ABBY: Why are parents considered selfish and inconsiderate when they refuse to burden themselves with debts in order to give an elaborate wedding reception for their daughter?

We have always lived within our means and are willing to give her a reception that will not necessitate floating a loan, but she is not satisfied with the kind of reception we can afford. Her father makes less than $7,000 a year and there are younger children to educate. I would appreciate your views on this.

CONFUSED
DEAR CONFUSED: Sensible people do not spend more than they can afford on anything. And that includes wedding receptions. You need not apologize to anyone for refusing to go into debt.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married twice. My first husband showered me with love, but he seldom worked, and we lived on what I earned, plus borrowed money, for six years. All I got from him were three kids, a stack of bills and more loving than I wanted. He works hard and doesn't bother me with any loving at all. I am only 26, but I think I am in a position to tell other women that all that love stuff is way overrated, and if I never get any more than a goodnight kiss on the cheek I will be satisfied. You hear and read so much about "love" that I wish you would print this for girls who think they have to have a man.

SATISFIED
DEAR SATISFIED: You are confusing "love" with sexual fulfillment. Many people live contentedly without the latter—but life is empty and meaningless without "love."

DEAR ABBY: Sometime ago you answered a question as to the time and place for women to wear hats. This interested me as I have never felt completely dressed without a hat. I can't understand the women in my church (Baptist) who have nice clothes, but they don't wear hats to church. (Especially our pastor's wife.) I think, when a woman gets all dressed up for church, she should wear a hat. It sort of shows respect. Are you with me?

ONE HAT HATTIE
DEAR HATTIE: Personally, I like to see women under hats in church, but I am quite sure that God couldn't care less—as long as they're there.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By Sophie Miller

I received several small items from a reader. One is a nicely printed invitation reading thus:

"Young Folks' Surprise—You are respectfully invited to attend a surprise party to meet at the residence of Miss Maria Lundy, Union Avenue, at eight o'clock Wednesday evening, April 9th, Committee H. W. Thomas, W. C. Cray and Wm. Smith." I would say the printing is of the 1870's. In my Kingston City Directory, 1872-73, (given to me by Tom Walsh of the Boulevard, collector of Catskill Mountain and Hudson River items), I see William Joseph, Hugh and Mrs. L. (widow) Lundy on Union Avenue.

According to the items I run across, there was much more printing done in those early years for private little social affairs than there is today, and each item was a work of art, like this fancy blue printing on good paper.

Another item from same collection is in red printing on a similar folded paper folder. This reads: "Compliments of Star Social, requesting the pleasure of your company at Private Soiree, at Quigley's Hall, Monday Eve., March 17, 1879. Music by Prof. Abrams, D. J. Travis, Sec. Hugh Donnelly, Pres. Committee, J. Hickey, Frank Arthur, Daniel Harney. Tickets—Fifty Cents. F. P. Carter, Printer, Strand."

Another little item, is The Delaware and Hudson Co. A time table of trains between Albany, Troy, Mechanicville and intermediate stations, dated 1906.

From time to time I have had many requests on the Delaware and Hudson Canal. I was glad to receive from Dorothy Hurlbut Sanderson, former director of the Ellenville Public Library her beautifully illustrated "The Delaware & Hudson Canalway—Carrying Coals to Rondout." I know she has been collecting, for several years, pictures and information on the D & H Canal. I usually referred questions and information to her.

I see that the Rondout Valley Publishing Co. Inc., of Ellenville, New York did the work. It is clear, sharp and large printing. Those wanting to buy copies can get them from Dorothy H. Sanderson, 15 Maple Avenue, of Ellenville or from the Canal Society of New York State, 311 Montgomery Street, Syracuse. There are some 80 pages, the old original printing was used where possible and reprinted pictures. It would make a fine gift for a graduate, and old-timers will enjoy it no end. For instance she writes in part: "In the early 1800s, trying to change people from wood burners to coal users was equally as difficult as trying to convince house owners of this 20th century to convert from coal to fuel oil or to heat by gas or electricity instead. Wood was abundant, and every hillside offered fuel, without cost, to the woodman who chose to gather it. So why pay for something else?" She also goes back further to the Chinese who were supposed to have used coal for smelting at least 3,000 years ago, and writes that there are cinders which bear evidence of its having been utilized in Great Britain during the Roman occupation.

At this time of urban renewal of the Broadway East downtown it is interesting to read and learn how the carrying of coal to Rondout via the Delaware and Hudson Canal began an "unusual-at-that-time, two-state affair, conceived by Pennsylvanians and financed primarily by New Yorkers . . . was the first million-dollar private enterprise in the United States . . . Sylvester adds that "it was the first great public work in the County of Ulster and its completion was an era from which dates a rapid advance in industrial enterprises." Will urban renewal do for Rondout, in the late 1960's what the D & H Canal did for Rondout in the early 1820's up to nearly 1900. Only time can tell the wisdom of these projects.

Today is Monday, April 19, the 109th day of 1965. There are 256 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1775, dawn was breaking on the Lexington village green where six companies of British regulars faced about 70 Massachusetts Minute-men. No one knows who fired the first shot, but the Revolutionary War had begun.

On this date in 1783, the cessation of hostilities and the end of the Revolutionary War was proclaimed by Congress.

In 1861, President Abraham Lincoln ordered a blockade of all seceding states.

In 1898, Congress recognized the independence of Cuba and demanded Spain's withdrawal from the island.

In 1933, the United States abandoned the gold standard.

In 1956, actress Grace Kelly and Prince Rainier of Monaco were married in a church ceremony; the civil ceremony was performed the day before.

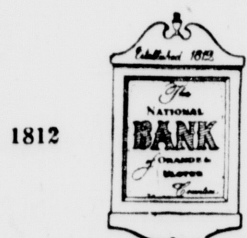

Ten years ago—Britain announced reductions in the basic income tax rate, freeing more than two million persons from tax liability.

Five years ago—President Dwight Eisenhower approved a 10 per cent raise in wages for Panamanians working in the Canal Zone.

One year ago—Premier Fidel Castro charged that U.S. U2 flights over Cuba were violating the island's sovereignty.

DO YOU TAKE VITAMINS AND STILL FEEL TIRED?*

If you take vitamins and still feel tired, your trouble may be due to iron-poor blood. Vitamins alone can't build up iron-poor blood. But GERITOL can! Because just two GERITOL tablets, or two tablespoons of liquid GERITOL contain 7 vitamins plus twice the iron in 1-lb. of calves' liver.

In only one day GERITOL-iron is in your bloodstream beginning to carry strength and energy to every part of your body. Check with your doctor and if you've been feeling tired because of iron-poor blood, take GERITOL, liquid or tablets, every day. You'll feel stronger fast in just 7 days or money back from GERITOL.

Mrs. Kennedy Keeps Busy Helping Retarded Children

EDITOR'S NOTE — Amid triumph and tragedy, the remarkable Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy carries another sorrow — that of her mentally retarded daughter, Rosemary. But there's no time for self-pity. Mrs. Kennedy is busy working to help the thousands of others afflicted as is Rosemary.

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, looking youthful for all her 75 years, settled herself in an arm chair, and spoke of one of the many sorrows that have punctuated her remarkable life.

—A child among the several in her family who was tapped by misfortune.

—A young Kennedy whose very being called attention to and improved the welfare of a forgotten group, Rosemary, her mentally retarded daughter.

It was midmorning when Rose Kennedy entered the study of her husband, the former ambassador to Great Britain.

She sat in an unpretentious arm chair, and, having strained a tendon, rested one leg gently on a leather foot sling. In the small book-lined room around her were mementos of her famous family.

Don't Talk About It

Over the fireplace just slightly awry was a framed copy of the inaugural address of her son, the late President John F. Kennedy. Atop the television set were snapshots of the ambassador in healthier days romping with grandchildren. There were also pictures of sons and daughters posed with their offspring.

Rosemary was not destined to have the kind of exuberant Kennedy family life pictured there. "We don't usually talk about it," Mrs. Kennedy began hesitantly, focusing her clear blue eyes on some faraway spot. What she meant was that the family does not ordinarily elaborate.

The fact that the Kennedy family had not chosen to remain completely silent has played an important part in the growth of hospitals, institutions and research programs for at least some of the nation's six million mentally retarded.

First Daughter

Rosemary, now 46, was the first daughter and the third Kennedy born to Joseph Patrick and Rose Kennedy. Her elder brothers, Joseph and John, as well as the sister to come later, Kathleen, are now dead.

"Rosemary was one of a large family and so she ran and played and seemed a happy child, and we didn't notice anything wrong at first," said Mrs. Kennedy. "Oh, she would seem a little slow at times — but there is usually always one child in a large family who develops a little less rapidly than the rest."

But as the pretty, blonde child grew older, Mrs. Kennedy began to realize something was wrong.

"Then as she matured even more it got to be even more difficult. It is always more difficult for the parent, you know."

Could Not Understand

"Privileges were a problem too. Why couldn't she take a boat out alone when her brothers and sisters were able to do so? These were conflicts in the family, things she could not understand."

"Eventually, it was obvious that she felt more comfortable, was a great deal happier with youngsters like herself, and well, we placed her in this Catholic home."

The Kennedy family could afford trained help and institutional care, Mrs. Kennedy has always been keenly aware of this.

"When I was campaigning for Jack," she recalled, "people would come up and thank me for the Joseph Kennedy Foundation we established as a memorial to my oldest son. We did it because he was very fond of children, and because this business of retardation which was a problem to us had affected so many children."

Stresses Research

Within a few years the Kennedy Memorial Foundation discovered that it could not possibly build hospitals and homes fast enough to care only for retarded children.

As a consequence the foundation now emphasizes research, public health education, all preventative measures.

Mrs. Kennedy appears occasionally at fund-raising benefits. Since her husband's stroke several years ago, she has been unable to attend as many as she would like. She describes his condition as "only fair."

Recently, she has made some television appearances to ease the minds of mothers of retarded children who may worry about the possibility of bearing still another retarded child. She said the chances are slim. In her speech Mrs. Kennedy points out that daughter Rosemary was one out of nine children. The other eight included a pres-

Easter Horrible For Dad, Death Takes 2 of Family

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — For Louis Leeth of nearby Puyallup, Wash., Sunday will always be "a horrible Easter."

Leeth, 34, was driving his daughter, Debra, 4, critically ill with tubercular meningitis, to a Tacoma hospital in the family car.

She was cradled in the arms of her mother, Anna, 37, when the speeding car was involved in a collision with another at a busy Tacoma intersection.

Mrs. Leeth was thrown from the car and killed.

Leeth hailed a passing motorist who took him and Debra the rest of the way to the hospital.

Police later told him Debra died shortly after arriving at the hospital.

ident and two U.S. senators.

"Was there a Divine reason for the seeming misfortune of Rosemary in the great Kennedy family?"

"I have often thought of it that way," replied Mrs. Kennedy.

Demo State Chairman Sees Merit in Primary

NEW YORK (AP) — Democratic State Chairman William H. McKeon says there is "great merit" in proposals for a statewide primary in conjunction with the state's traditional system of nominating candidates for statewide office at party convention.

"The proponents," McKeon says, "contend that both major political parties and the voters would benefit and that support would be found among all New Yorkers, regardless of political persuasion — and I am inclined to agree."

McKeon made the statement in a letter to the 62 county Democratic chairman, which was made public Sunday.

U. S. Airmen Are Building Chapel With Own Money

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Besides carrying out the most intensive air war since Korea, U. S. airmen here are building a chapel and paying for it themselves.

The United States has poured millions of dollars into Da Nang Air Base, which has a key role in bombing raids on North Viet Nam and Communist-held sections of Laos. The base is jointly occupied with the Vietnamese air force.

The largest chunk of construction money went into such items as runway and maintenance facilities and equipment. Many of the airmen sleep in tents and the base commander lives in a trailer.

The Marines on Da Nang Air Base have their own chapel and the Army advisory team for 1st Army Corps plans to build one soon. The Air Force says it has no money available.

"So we decided to raise the money ourselves and build our own," says Capt. Wayne L. Stork, a Protestant chaplain from Greencastle, Ind.

As airmen filed through the pay line recently, they donated $1,200 toward the $3,000 project. Stork says the rest of the money will be raised with further requests for donations and possibly bingo or casino parties where the house's percentage goes toward building the non-denominational chapel.

At present the base theater is used for chapel services, an arrangement Stork said is somewhat unsatisfactory.

"Besides movies, the theater is used for commander's call and every other large meeting here. We need some place where a man can go to pray and meditate privately any time he feels the need," Stork said.

Local materials and Air Force volunteers are being used to put up the 30-by-50-foot building. An engineer with an American contractor here pledged four weeks of work to help make sure the corners are square and the doors are in the proper places.

Kilburn Injured

CANTON, N.Y. (AP) — Clarence E. Kilburn, 71, a former New York Congressman, was injured slightly in an automobile accident Sunday.

His car collided with another on Route 11 near this village southeast of Ogdensburg. State Police said he suffered a cut mouth but was not hospitalized.

CREAM OF AMERICA

Every investor in America ought to be a stockholder. For the decade 1965-1975, I predict an unprecedented growth of the national economy. By 1975, the population will be around 225,000,000 and the gross national product (the value of all goods produced and services rendered) should be at least $750,000,000,000 yearly.

In recent years, growth has been phenomenal. The corporate wealth of the country is being shared by more and more investors. Stocks of leading corporations are being split up, thus enabling small investors to participate more fully in America's prosperity.

American Telephone and Telegraph, with 522,000,000 common shares outstanding, has more owners than any other enterprise. There are about 2,750,000 stockholders. By 1975, there should be at least five million. AT&T's great popularity among investors is due to its long dividend record.

General Motors, another giant, has 284,000,000 shares outstanding and about 1,250,000 stockholders. By 1975, and probably long before that date, GM will have a bigger capitalization and at least two million owners.

Standard Oil of New Jersey, the petroleum leader of the world, is owned by 700,000 stockholders who have 215,000, 000 shares. By 1975, the owners should total 1,500,000 and the outstanding stock will be much larger.

A fourth giant, Sears Roebuck, whose shares have recently been split, has only about 175,000 stockholders who own the 152,000,000 common shares.

Now, anybody who has purchased the shares of any of these four corporations in recent years, has done very well. And they will continue to do well in future years.

The question before the house now is: name four high-ranking enterprises whose shares may be bought today for future growth and profit. From a list of 25, I have chosen these four. Three are high-grade bank stocks that have not been merchandised well by investment dealers.

The first is Chase Manhattan Bank of New York. It is a Rockefeller bank. There are 21,000,000 shares outstanding. Presently, there are about 100,000 stockholders. By 1970, there should be 200,000 owners and by 1975, 400,000.

First National Bank of Chicago is a Blue Chip. There are only 8,750,000 common shares outstanding, owned by about 6,000 stockholders. At $60 a share, it is one of the best under-priced values.

Morgan Guaranty Trust of New York has accounts from 97 of the leading corporations. It is the classiest bank in the world. There are a little more than 9,000,000 shares outstanding, owned by 40,000 stockholders. There should be 200,000.

Du Pont is another corporation with a terrific 1965-1975 potential. There are only 46,000,000 shares outstanding and these are owned by 225,000 stockholders. Today, Du Pont should have 500,000 owners and by 1975 there should be one million.

An industrial executive friend of mine recently inherited $50,000. He has invested it all in Du Pont, First National Bank of Chicago, and Morgan Guaranty. By 1975, he should be worth $100,000 - $150,000 at least.

Health for All

Age of Upoar

A "quiet evening at home"? Soothing hours of retreat from the noisy workaday world?

It's a beautiful thought. But for many people in these super-mechanized days it's just a wistful memory. "Today's Health" magazine unquietly sums it up thus:

"In almost any 'quiet' suburban home, the mixer and blender grind away in the kitchen. Dad's power saw runs full tilt in the basement. Junior shoots it out with the TV badman in the living room, while upstairs, sister plays her favorite Beatle record for the sixth time."

Not to mention the automatic cooling or heating system, the plumbing, the occasional passing truck, plane, fire engine. . . .

Let's face it, we live in an age of noise; and noise is a factor in health. U. S. industry loses about $4 billion in lowered production and higher accident rates due to skyrocketing decibels. Office workers waste almost one-fifth of their energy "just fighting noise." A too-loud environment can bring on or aggravate gastrointestinal distress, allergic reactions, or migraine headache, according to Dr. Lee E. Farr of the University of Texas.

Many cities now have noise abatement programs, with varying success. For the private home owner, some good do-it-yourself possibilities exist. Carpets or rugs on floors, curtains or drapes or well-filled bookcases along the walls, help to rob sound of its "bounce." Sound-reducing materials can be obtained for insulating ceilings. Natural noise reflectors, such as hard wall surfaces or large picture windows, should be avoided by the noise-conscious householder.

Life, growing richer, isn't likely to grow quieter. If we can't lick noise, we might as well join it on the most livable terms.

Underwater Lights Used by Egg-Hunters

EDMONDS, Wash. (AP) — Edmonds police were baffled last weekend when they were flooded with calls from residents who reported seeing strange underwater lights moving about off a ferry dock.

The mystery was finally solved by patrolman Norm Sedor, who reported the lights were manned by members of the Marker Buoys Diving Club of nearby Seattle.

They were holding an underwater Easter egg hunt.

Taylor in Honolulu For Conference on Asia

HONOLULU (AP) — Maxwell D. Taylor, U.S. ambassador to Viet Nam arrived unexpectedly Sunday night to join a top-level conference in Honolulu on the Southeast Asian situation.

Taylor arrived in Honolulu from Saigon about 7 p.m., Hawaii time, aboard an Air Force jet. Taylor was accompanying Gen. Hunter Harris, commander of the Pacific Air Force.

Harris had been on a two-week trip to Southeast Asia to inspect Air Force operations.

U. S. Airmen Are Building Chapel With Own Money

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Besides carrying out the most intensive air war since Korea, U.S. airmen here are building a chapel and paying for it themselves.

The United States has poured millions of dollars into Da Nang Air Base, which has a key role in bombing raids on North Viet Nam and Communist-held sections of Laos. The base is jointly occupied with the Vietnamese air force.

The largest chunk of construction money went into such items as runway and maintenance facilities and equipment. Many of the airmen sleep in tents and the base commander lives in a trailer.

The Marines on Da Nang Air Base have their own chapel and the Army advisory team for 1st Army Corps plans to build one soon. The Air Force says it has no money available.

"So we decided to raise the money ourselves and build our own," says Capt. Wayne L. Stork, a Protestant chaplain from Greencastle, Ind.

As airmen filed through the pay line recently, they donated $1,200 toward the $3,000 project. Stork says the rest of the money will be raised with further requests for donations and possibly bingo or casino parties where the house's percentage goes toward building the non-denominational chapel.

At present the base theater is used for chapel services, an arrangement Stork said is somewhat unsatisfactory.

"Besides movies, the theater is used for commander's call and every other large meeting here. We need some place where a man can go to pray and meditate privately any time he feels the need," Stork said.

Local materials and Air Force volunteers are being used to put on the 30-by-50-foot building. An engineer with an American contractor here pledged four weeks of work to help make sure the corners are square and the doors are in the proper places.

Mental Health Association Sets Annual Meet

The annual meeting of Ulster County Association for Mental Health will be held Wednesday, May 5 at 8 p. m., in the auditorium of the George Washington School, Kingston.

A very special program has been planned, particularly interesting to everyone working in the schools and other community agencies, the clergy, doctors and nurses, and members of the legal profession, as well as to the general public.

Emeline Place Hayward, M.D., director of the Ulster County Mental Health Center, and her staff, assisted by members of the Coach House Players, and directed by Bill Skilling, will present: A Demonstration of the Mental Health Center at Work.

"Commander" of the "American Nazi Party," has been an outspoken critic of recent Civil Rights demonstrations in the south for voting registration and franchise rights for Negroes.

Exactly what Hodge meant by employing "every means" to prevent Rockwell's appearance was not made clear, but Jones told The Freeman that the local NAACP chapter would meet as a full membership body tonight to decide what action would be taken. He said that "action" in this case meant picketing of the university appearance of Rockwell, and that it was understood that both the NAACP and CORE units here and Poughkeepsie, would join in the picketing.

CORE's participation was apparently a departure from a previous - announced "hand off" statement issued by Thomas Greene, chapter president.

Greene said today that, "CORE protests the Rockwell ideology and tactics, not his right to speak. However, we join with our sister organizations, The Ulster County Branch of NAACP, Dutchess County Branch of NAACP, and Dutchess Chapter of CORE in this rally against the Rockwell view."

Greene told The Freeman Saturday that, "CORE is more interested in surplus foods, urban renewal and economic opportunities in Ulster County than it is in denying Rockwell's right to speak."

However, he said, that was not to be construed that CORE agreed with what Rockwell says. "We feel," he said "that people should have the right to peaceful demonstration for voting rights, and franchise rights for all people."

Supervisor Martorana, a past adjutant of Ulster County American Legion, said that he has asked the other five members of the Supervisor's Veterans Committee to join him in protesting Rockwell's appearance, by sending telegrams to Governor Rockefeller and to Dr. James Allen, state education commissioner.

Martorana said, "If this is the only way that modern political ideologies can be taught to our college students, then maybe we ought to start changing our basic laws and teachings of Americanism."

"I am sure it was not the intent of our forefathers who framed our Constitution that in granting freedom of speech, we also had to open the doors of our schools to our enemies, giving them aid and comfort in this attempt to inculcate a foreign and Un-American ideology in the minds of our youth."

Dean Robert Pyle of the SUC said that admission to Wednesday's lectures would be open only to students who identify themselves by their college library card, and to the college faculty and officials. College officials indicated that the lecture would be on a "classroom basis," designed for the benefit of the students.

Cases on Slate In County Court Before Judge Mino

Selection of a jury to try the indictment charging Joseph Bowman and Lottie Mae Bowman with second degree robbery and second degree assault was started in County court this morning before County Judge Raymond J. Mino.

The Bowmans are charged with robbery and assault at the Chelsea Furniture Store on lower Hasbrouck Avenue. Francis Martocci appears for defendants and Assistant District Attorney Robert MacKinnon for the prosecution.

Imposition of sentence in the Anthony C. McKendall and William Moran cases was postponed to Monday, April 26, at 2 p. m. when counsel for McKendall, Harry Gold, was unable to be present in court due to a prior engagement. Judge Mino said both should be sentenced at the same time. McKendall, 28, Walker Valley and Moran, 20, Highland Mills, were found guilty of sticking up a card game at the Ellenville Taxi office last Oct. 8. Moran was represented by James Murray.

Harold Dave Levenson, charged with second degree grand larceny, entered a plea of guilty to issuance of a fraudulent check, a misdemeanor. William Dwyer appeared for Levenson. Sentence will be pronounced on April 26 at 2 p. m. after a presentence probation report is available. He was remanded to jail.

Kabil Bajramovic, charged with burglary, grand larceny, unlawful entry and attempted bribery, as a felony failed to appear in court. Charles Saccomano was assigned as counsel. Defendant resides in New York City and along with others is charged with entrance to a Route 28 restaurant where a slicing machine was taken. It is alleged the men attempted to bribe sheriff's deputies to allow them to go after they had been stopped and charged with the crime. The case was adjourned to April 26 at 2 p. m.

Irving Weinsoff of Ellenville was assigned to Davis Marshall, 21, Accord, who stands charged with attempted burglary. The case was set down for April 26 at 2 p. m.

Several other cases were called by District Attorney Joseph Torrace and adjournment dates set.

Trouble Over Pistol

Accused of pointing a loaded Italian make semi-automatic pistol at another man, Bernard Boswell, 40, of Highland, was arrested Sunday by State Police on a second degree assault charge. Sergeant Henry S. Rhodes of the Kingston sub-station, said Boswell was held in $500 bail pending a hearing Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. before Justice of the Peace Linn Baker, Town of Lloyd. BCI Investigators Roger Gardner and Harry Schulte made the arrest. Boswell, troopers said, allegedly pointed the pistol at George Dougherty, Highland, and threatened him.

Drivers Fined Today

Charles J. Pugliese, 24, of 138 Clifton Avenue, charged with speeding as a second offender, was fined $50 in city court today, and also paid $5 on the charge of failure to keep right. Charged with speeding and fined $15 each were: Benjamin Hamilton, 31, of Lake Katrine, and Alfred F. Henion, 17, of 24 East St. James Street. The latter also paid $10 on a stop-sign charge. George D. Mang, 31, of 33 Mulligan Street, Little Falls, charged with speeding, paid $20.

Injured in Car

Edward Galbreth, 18, of Port Ewen, sustained an injury of his nose at 11:30 p. m. Saturday when his 1962 car went out of control on a curve on Route 9W at Millbrook Drive, Port Ewen and hit a utility pole. Trooper Robert Houghtaling investigated.

Dog Aids Mailman

NORWICH, N.Y. (AP) — In Norwich, the mail-carriers look for the dog, instead of vice-versa.

Rusty, a year-old mongrel, keeps his daily schedule almost as rigid as those of the mail carriers.

Next, he picks up the trail of the foot postman and stays with him until time to greet Charlene after school.

Charlene's mother, Mrs. Robert Byrne, says that on a recent Saturday, when Rusty had their car skidded on wet pavement, the mail truck - driver and the carrier appeared at the house to ask where he was.

One postman has become so fond of the dog that he confided to Mrs. Byrne:

"That animal really understands me."

Car Crashes Tree

Two persons were severely injured at 6 p. m. Saturday, when their car skidded on wet pavement and crashed head-on into a tree off Route 28 east of Phoenicia. Sergeant H. S. Rhodes reported Robert Janitz, 43, of Phoenicia, was driving his 1959 suburban vehicle west on the highway when it skidded into the tree. Janitz and his wife, Grace, 35, were taken to Kingston Hospital by Gormley's ambulance. Janitz suffered a fractured left arm. His wife sustained a fracture of the skull and leg injuries. Trooper David Wachtel investigated.

Boy Cyclist Injured

Thomas Lawler, 8, of 133 Mary's Avenue, was injured in a car-bicycle mishap reported at 4:30 p. m. Saturday on West O'Reilly Street near the MJM School entrance. Police said the bicycle came down the driveway into the path of a car driven by Dr. Howard B. Mass, of 83 Maiden Lane. The boy was taken to the Benedictine Hospital by the doctor for treatment of contusions and abrasions. Officer Raymond Wells investigated.

Scores Red Embassy

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri accused the Communist China Embassy in New Delhi of "objectionable activities." He said his government is considering ways of dealing with it.

Shastri told Parliament that the embassy "is functioning in a manner not at all correct." He asked the members not to press him for the present on what measures his government proposes to take.

Ready for Talks

In a statement he read to newsmen in Texas, the President said the United States is ready for Viet Nam peace talks without preconditions "next week, tomorrow or tonight." If anyone doubts it, he said, "come to the meeting room - we will be there."

But he said the United States "will finally settle for no less" than assured independence for South Viet Nam.

"Until that independence is guaranteed," the President said, "there is no human power capable of forcing us to leave South Viet Nam."

A member of Fulbright's Foreign Relations Committee, Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., said in an interview that Fulbright's suggestion "is worth considering."

Sen. Frank Carlson, R-Kan., another Foreign Relations committee member, said the President ought to "weigh the merits" of Fulbright's proposal.

Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, long a foe of U.S. policies in Viet Nam, joined Fulbright in calling for a cessation of bombings and the initiation of efforts toward negotiating a cease-fire.

Specialist Due Here on Export Trade Wednesday

In line with the program to expand America's exports, Joseph D. Ludeman, trade specialist, U. S. Department of Commerce, will be in Kingston Wednesday to confer with area firms interested in expanding overseas sales.

Appointments to confer with Ludeman can be made by calling the office of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce before Wednesday or by calling for an appointment during the day which he is here. He will be at the Chamber of Commerce office in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The phone number is 338-5100. The Chamber of Commerce urges that any firm interested in finding out how to get started in the export market or expanding such sales, take advantage of the opportunity to confer with Mr. Ludeman on Wednesday.

Dirksen

President had talked with Fulbright or would have any comment on the senator's views.

Reedy said to his knowledge, Johnson had not talked with Fulbright recently and "certainly, we have no comment on that."

Two Have Comment

But two of Johnson's top Cabinet members did have comment on the subject of bombings.

Sunday night, McNamara issued this statement through the Pentagon's information chief, Arthur Sylvester:

"We have no indications that a cessation of the bombing would move the North Vietnamese to discussions leading to termination of their aggression against the South."

"It is clear, however, that termination of the strikes against the North without similar termination of the aggression against the South Vietnamese would discourage and dishearten the people of South Viet Nam - a brave people who continue to resist with determination the campaign of terror which is directed against them and which is dependent upon the daily flow of men and materials from Hanoi."

Saturday, a few hours before the Fulbright interview which was recorded last week appeared in print, Rusk issued a statement saying that even a temporary halt in air strikes "would only encourage the aggressor and dishearten our friends who bear the brunt of battle."

Rusk said the administration had tried publicly and privately to find out if this action could lead to an end of Communist aggression but there "has been no response."

"Others say such a pause is needed to signal our sincerity, but no signal is needed," he said. "Our sincerity is plain."

After Rusk's statement, Fulbright said the secretary's view didn't change his own position.

"Of course," Fulbright said, "I should like to see a cease-fire on both sides. But if that can be obtained, then I believe there might be some value in stopping the bombings temporarily. I don't know if it would work, but it seems to me to be worth trying."

Rusk's statement came shortly after Johnson said he regretted "the necessities of war have compelled us to bomb North Viet Nam."

Roy Van Buren Dies, Was Boxer, Baseball Player

William L. (Roy) Van Buren, 63, a former National Guard boxer and semi-pro baseball player, died in Kingston Sunday after a long illness.

A painter by trade, Van Buren was employed by various painting contractors and was a member of Painters Union No. 255 of Kingston. He achieved considerable prominence as a boxer in the golden era of local boxing and played with many baseball teams in the downtown area and the old City Baseball League. He was a member of the Old Timers Baseball Association.

A son of the late William and Sarah Van Wagenen Van Buren, he is survived by his wife, Helen Kolano Van Buren; a son, Edward L. Van Buren; two daughters, Miss Regina M. Van Buren and Mrs. Leonard (Rose Mary) Parise; a sister, Mrs. Irene Deccio and a brother, Dewey Van Buren, who also was widely known as a boxer and baseball player. Five grandchildren also survive.

The funeral will be held from the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home, 7 Smith Avenue, on Wednesday at 9 a. m., thence to Immaculate Conception Church where a Mass of requiem will be offered at 9:30 o'clock. Burial will be in Mt. Calvary Cemetery.

Friends will be received tonight from 7 to 9 p. m., and Tuesday from 3 p. m. to 5 p. m. and 7 p. m. to 9 p. m.

Ellenville Woman Hurt as Car in Skid at Tillson

A 27-year old Ellenville woman escaped serious injuries early this morning when her car skidded on slippery pavements at Tillson, ran 72 feet off the roadway, broke five guard posts went off an embankment, flew through the air for some distance, flipped over with the top of the car striking a tree. She was pinned in the car for 45 minutes before sheriff's deputies could free her.

Amy, A. Young, 27, of Greenfield Road, Ellenville, was taken to Benedictine Hospital by Moylan's Ambulance service of Rosendale. She suffered abrasions of the neck, arms, hands, face and possible concussion.

Ulster County Investigator Thomas Mayone said the car had been traveling north on Route 32 when slippery pavement was encountered on a downgrade just north of the Ballantine plant. She was riding alone. The top of the car was crushed when the vehicle struck a large tree.

The accident happened at approximately 12:20 a. m. Assistant in the investigation was Deputy Sheriff Burdette Wolven and Bernard Ellsworth.

Sunny Easter Turn to Snow During Afternoon

On Easter Sunday morning many residents of the county were seen on their way to church services attired in their finest, some had left their topcoats at home, although the air was chilly. Some residents were seen picking flowers in their yards.

But, the afternoon weather was anything but Easter-like. Rain started to pelt the area early, and then a drop in the mercury changed the storm to a driving snowstorm throughout the county. The storm seemed to move in from the northwest.

The Easter snowstorm forced the County Highway Department to order out snow removal forces Sunday night in the northwest sector of Ulster, according to George Fichtner, administrative assistant. He told The Freeman slippery conditions resulted on highways and the snow ranged "from nothing to eight inches."

Fichtner said plows were used on Routes 214 and 42 and on other highways in the Highmount, Boiceville, Bushnellville areas and on roads in the Greenfield and Dairyland sections of Ellenville. He reported eight inches of snow in Highmount, Pine Hill and other communities in the northwestern section of Ulster County.

Shandaken Cancer Drive Dinner Set Saturday, May 1

The donation dinner, grande finale of the Shandaken Crusade against Cancer, will be held at the Hofbrau, Phoenicia on Saturday, May 1, between 5 and 9 p. m. Dancing will follow the serving.

The dinner is free, but the committee hopes that guests will give to the fight against cancer as generously on this occasion as in the past. Envelopes will be provided on the tables for this purpose.

This year, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Ricciardella, new managers of the Hofbrau, will be hosts to the Shandaken Community. They are donating the restaurant facilities and the roast beef for the dinner. Sharing in their generous contribution are the Farmers' Market of Port Ewen, donor of all vegetables; George Hucker of the Phoenicia Village Bake Shop, who is furnishing the cake, the Hunter Bakery, the rolls; Arthur Short, the butter and cream and Fresh-keets, the coffee.

Green's Florist, Fleischmanns, is sending flowers for the tables. Midge Gossow will act as dining room hostess, seating guests in the order of their arrival. Lucy Erickson, Lorie Clutch, Bonnie Booth and Emily Osborne are giving their services as waitresses. James Holgate and Lucy Rogers have volunteered to man the kitchen for the occasion.

Town Justice of the Peace Amiel E. Hess of Mt. Tremper will act as master of ceremonies. Town merchants have provided a wide variety of gifts to be distributed. Each dollar donated during the Crusade entitles the donor to one coupon in the distribution.

The first donation dinner to augment the Cancer Fund was dreamed up and given by Louise Casese, formerly of the Phoenicia Hotel. It was an outstanding success. John and Marjorie Painting followed suit at the Phoenicia Hotel with the same tremendous response from the community. This effort, shared by more and more people each year, has played a vital part in establishing Shandaken's record for highest per capita contribution to cancer in the United States.

Mental Health Association Sets Annual Meet

The annual meeting of Ulster County Association for Mental Health will be held Wednesday, May 5 at 8 p. m., in the auditorium of the George Washington School, Kingston.

A very special program has been planned, particularly interesting to everyone working in the schools and other community agencies, the clergy, doctors and nurses, and members of the legal profession, as well as to the general public.

Emeline Place Hayward, M.D., director of the Ulster County Mental Health Center, and her staff, assisted by members of the Coach House Players, will present: A Demonstration of the Mental Health Center at Work.

Branches of

"Commander" of the "American Nazi Party," has been an outspoken critic of recent Civil Rights demonstrations in the south for voting registration and franchise rights for Negroes.

Exactly what Hodge meant by employing "every means" to prevent Rockwell's appearance was not made clear, but Jones told The Freeman that the local NAACP chapter would meet as a full membership body tonight to decide what action would be taken. He said that "action" in this case meant picketing of the university appearance of Rockwell, and that it was understood that both the NAACP and CORE units here and Poughkeepsie, would join in the picketing.

CORE's participation was apparently a departure from a previous - announced "hand off" statement issued by Thomas Greene, chapter president.

Greene said today that "CORE protests the Rockwell ideology and tactics, not his right to speak. However, we join with our sister organizations: The Ulster County Branch of NAACP; Dutchess County Branch of NAACP; and Dutchess Chapter of CORE in this rally against the Rockwell view."

Greene told The Freeman Saturday that, "CORE is more interested in surplus foods, urban renewal and economic opportunities in Ulster County than it is in denying Rockwell's right to speak."

However, he said, that was not to be construed that CORE agreed with what Rockwell says. "We feel," he said, "that people should have the right to peaceful demonstration for voting rights and franchise rights for all people."

Supervisor Martorana, a past adjutant of Ulster County American Legion, said that he has asked the other five members of the Supervisor's Veterans Committee to join him in protesting Rockwell's appearance, by sending telegrams to Governor Rockefeller and to Dr. James Allen, state education commissioner.

Martorana said, "If this is the only way that modern political ideologies can be taught to our college students, then maybe we ought to start changing our basic laws and teachings of Americanism."

"I am sure it was not the intent of our forefathers who framed our Constitution that in granting freedom of speech, we also had to open the doors of our schools to our enemies, giving them aid and comfort in this attempt to incite a foreign and Un-American ideology in the minds of our youth."

Dean Robert Pyle of the SUC said that admission to Wednesday's lectures would be open only to students who identify themselves by their college identity card, and to the college faculty and officials. College officials indicated that the lecture would be on a "classroom basis," designed for the benefit of the students.

Cases on Slate In County Court Before Judge Mino

Selection of a jury to try the indictment charging Joseph Bowman and Lottie Mae Bowman with second degree robbery and second degree assault was started in County Court this morning before County Judge Raymond J. Mino.

The Bowmans are charged with robbery and assault at the Chelsea Furniture Store on lower Hasbrouck Avenue. Francis Martocci appears for defendants and Assistant District Attorney Robert MacKinnon for the prosecution.

Imposition of sentence in the Anthony C. McKendall and William Moran cases was postponed to Monday, April 26, at 2 p. m., when counsel for McKendall, Harry Gold, was unable to be present in court due to a prior engagement. Judge Mino said both should be sentenced at the same time. McKendall, 28, Walder Valley and Moran, 20, Highland Mills, were found guilty of sticking up a card game at the Ellenville Taxi office last Oct. 8. Moran was represented by James Murray.

Harold Dave Levenson, charged with second degree grand larceny, entered a plea of guilty to issuance of a fraudulent check, a misdemeanor. William Dwyer appeared for Levenson. Sentence will be pronounced on April 26 at 2 p. m., after a presentence probation report is available. He was remanded to jail.

Kabil Bajramovic, charged with burglary, grand larceny, unlawful entry and attempted bribery, as a felony failed to appear in court. Charles Sacco, here and Poughkeepsie, would join in the picketing.

Defendant resides in New York City and along with others is charged with entrance to a Route 28 restaurant where a slicing machine was taken. It is alleged the sheriff's deputies to allow them to go after they had been stopped and charged with the crime. The case was adjourned to April 26 at 2 p. m.

Irving Weinsoff of Ellenville was assigned to Davis Marshall, 21, Accord, who stands charged with attempted burglary. The case was set down for April 26 at 2 p. m.

Several other cases were called by District Attorney Joseph Torracca and Adjournment dates set.

Trouble Over Pistol

Accused of pointing a loaded Italian made semi-automatic pistol at another man, Bernard Boswell, 40, of Highland, was arrested Sunday by State Police on a second degree assault charge. Sergeant Henry S. Rhodes of the Kingston sub-station, said Boswell was held in $500 bail pending a hearing Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. before Justice of the Peace Linn Baker. Town of Lloyd, BCI Investigators Roger Gardner and Harry Schulte made the arrest. Boswell, troopers said, allegedly pointed the pistol at George Dougherty, Highland, and threatened him.

Drivers Fined Today

Charles J. Pugliese, 24, of 138 Clifton Avenue, charged with speeding as a second offender, was fined $50 in city court today, and also paid $5 on the charge of failure to keep right. Charged with speeding and fined $15 each were: Benjamin Hamilton, 31, of Lake Katrine, and Alfred F. Henion, 17, of 24 East St. James Street. The latter also paid $10 on a stop-sign charge. George D. Mang, 31, of 33 Mulligan Street, Little Falls, charged with speeding, paid $20.

Injured in Car

Edward Galbreth, 18, of Port Ewen, sustained an injury of his nose at 11:30 p. m. Saturday when his 1962 car went out of control on a curve on Route 9W at Millbrook Drive, Port Ewen and hit a utility pole. Trooper Robert Houghtaling investigated.

Dog Aids Mailman

NORWICH, N.Y. (AP) — In Norwich, the mail-carriers look for the dog, instead of vice-versa.

Rusty, a year-old mongrel, keeps a daily schedule almost as rigid as those of the mail carriers.

Next, he picks up the trail of the foot postman and stays with him until time to greet Charlene after school.

Charlene's mother, Mrs. Robert Byrne, says that on a recent Saturday, when Rusty had other business to attend to, both the mail truck - driver and the carrier appeared at the house to ask where he was.

One postman has become so fond of the dog that he confided to Mrs. Byrne: "That animal really understands me."

Car Crashes Tree

Two persons were severely injured at 6 p. m. Saturday, when their car skidded on wet pavement and crashed head-on into a tree off Route 28 east of Phoenicia. Sergeant H.S. Rhodes reported Robert Janitz, 33, of Phoenicia, was driving his 1959 suburban vehicle west on the highway when it skidded into the tree. Janitz and his wife, Grace, 33, were taken to Kingston Hospital by Gormley's ambulance.

Janitz suffered a fractured left arm. His wife sustained a fracture of the skull and leg injuries. Trooper David Wachtel investigated.

Boy Cyclist Injured

Thomas Lawler, 8, of 133 Mary's Avenue, was injured in a car-bicycle mishap reported at 4:30 p. m. Saturday on West O'Reilly Street near the MJM School entrance. Police said the bicycle came down the driveway hill into the path of a car driven by Dr. Howard B. Mass, of 83 Maiden Lane. The boy was taken to the Benedictine Hospital by the doctor for treatment of contusions and abrasions. Officer Raymond Wells investigated.

Scores Red Embassy

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri accused the Communist China Embassy in New Delhi of "objectionable activities." He said his government is considering ways of dealing with it.

Shastri told Parliament that the embassy "is functioning in a manner not at all correct." He asked the members not to press him for the present on what measures his government proposes to take.

Specialist Due Here on Export Trade Wednesday

In line with the program to expand America's exports, Joseph D. Ludeman, trade specialist, U. S. Department of Commerce, will be in Kingston Wednesday to confer with area firms interested in expanding overseas sales.

Appointments to confer with Ludeman can be made by calling the office of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce before Wednesday or by calling for an appointment during the day which he is here. He will be at the Chamber of Commerce office in the Governor Clinton Hotel. The phone number is 338-5100. The Chamber of Commerce urges that any firm interested in finding out how to get started in the export market or expanding such sales, take advantage of the opportunity to confer with Mr. Ludeman on Wednesday.

Dirksen

President had talked with Fulbright or would have any comment on the senator's views. Reedy said to his knowledge, Johnson had not talked with Fulbright recently and "certainly, we have no comment on that."

Two Have Comment

But two of Johnson's top Cabinet members did have comment on the subject of bombings. Sunday night, McNamara issued this statement through the Pentagon's information chief, Arthur Sylvester:

"We have no indications that a cessation of the bombing would move the North Vietnamese to discussions leading to termination of their aggression against the South."

"It is clear, however, that termination of the strikes against the North without similar termination of the aggression against the South Vietnamese would discourage and dishearten the people of South Vietnam—a brave people who continue to resist with determination the campaign of terror which is directed against them and which is dependent upon the daily flow of men and materials from Hanoi."

Saturday, a few hours before the Fulbright interview which was recorded last week appeared in print, Rusk issued a statement saying that even a temporary halt in air strikes "would only encourage the aggressor and dishearten our friends who bear the brunt of battle."

Rusk said the administration had tried publicly and privately to find out if this action could lead to an end of Communist aggression but there "has been no response."

"Others say such a pause is needed to signal our sincerity, but no signal is needed," he said. "Our sincerity is plain."

After Rusk's statement, Fulbright said the secretary's view didn't change his own position.

"Of course," Fulbright said, "I should like to see a cease-fire on both sides. But if that can't be obtained, then I believe there might be some value in stopping the bombings temporarily. I don't know if it would work, but it seems to me to be worth trying."

Rusk's statement came shortly after Johnson said he regretted "the necessities of war have compelled us to bomb North Viet Nam."

Ready for Talks

In a statement he read to newsmen in Texas, the President said the United States is ready for Viet Nam peace talks without preconditions "next week, tomorrow or tonight," he said. "I don't doubt it," he said, "come to the meeting room—we will be there."

But he said the United States "will finally settle for no less" than assured independence for South Viet Nam.

"Until that independence is guaranteed," the President said, "there is no human power capable of forcing us to leave South Viet Nam."

A member of Fulbright's Foreign Relations Committee, Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., said in an interview that Fulbright's suggestion "is worth considering."

Sen. Frank Carlson, R-Kan., another Foreign Relations committee member, said the President ought to "weigh the merits" of Fulbright's proposal.

Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, long a foe of U.S. policies in Viet Nam, joined Fulbright in calling for a cessation of bombings and the initiation of efforts toward negotiating a cease-fire.

The proposed headquarters as outlined in an architect's drawing, shows a modern, glass-front building of simple austere design, set back from the street on a landscaped site.

The Board of Trustees president said construction should begin this summer, with the building scheduled to be ready for occupancy by late spring or early summer of 1966.

According to Reiffer the entire stock of reference materials will be moved from the present library building to the new headquarters when it is completed. The old building will be demolished.

"This new building will provide much needed space for present programs and staff, Reiffer said, "and will provide for extended services to the members libraries and library users."

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

George Gill

George Gill, 60, of New Paltz, formerly of Kingston, died in

New Paltz Sunday after a long illness. Born in Kingston, he was the son of the late Joseph and Anna Jagubowski Gill. Mr. Gill, a retired painter, was a member of Immaculate Conception Church. Surviving are four brothers, Frank Gill of New Baltimore, John and Stephen Gill of Kingston and Peter Gill of Perth Amboy, N. J. He was the uncle of the Rev. John Gill of St. Patrick's Church, Verplanck. Several nieces and nephews also survive. Funeral will be held from the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home, 27 Smith Avenue, Wednesday, 10:15 a. m., thence to the Immaculate Conception Church where a high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul at 10:45 a. m. Burial will be in Mt. Calvary Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home tonight 7 to 9 and Tuesday 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m.

William G. Paddon

William G. Paddon, 71, of Old Mill Road, Rifton died Sunday morning following a long illness. A native of Charleston, S.C., he spent most of his life time in Astoria, L. I., until making his home in Rifton eight years ago. He was a retired machinist, a Navy veteran of World War I and a member of the Rifton Fire Department. His wife, the late Marion Simpson Paddon died in 1962. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Robert J. Barbertich, Rifton; a brother, William Paddon, Spring Valley; five grandchildren and a great-grandchild. Funeral services will be held at the George J. Moylan Funeral Home, Main Street, Rosendale, Tuesday at 7 p. m., the Rev. David Edman, priest-in-charge of the Episcopal Church of Christ The King, Stone Ridge will officiate. Burial will be Wednesday in Cedar Grove Cemetery, Flushing. Friends may call this evening 7-9 p. m. and Tuesday, 2-4 and 7-9 p. m.

The building will be constructed at 100 Market Street, next to the present library, and it will be about four times as large. Reiffer said. The present library quarters contain 3,000 square feet of floor space, and the new building will have 12,000 square feet of floor area to accommodate the growing needs of the 50 member libraries and library users in Ulster, Greene, Dutchess, Putnam and Columbia counties.

Reiffer said tentative approval has been given for a federal grant, which will come from the Library Services and Reconstruction Act of 1964. The balance of the building cost will be provided by private sources.

The proposed headquarters as outlined in an architect's drawing, shows a modern, glass-front building of simple austere design, set back from the street on a landscaped site.

The Board of Trustees president said construction should begin this summer, with the building scheduled to be ready for occupancy by late spring or early summer of 1966.

According to Reiffer the entire stock of reference materials will be moved from the present library building to the new headquarters when it is completed. The old building will be demolished.

"This new building will provide much needed space for present programs and staff, Reiffer said, "and will provide for extended services to the members libraries and library users."

The dinner is free, but the committee hopes that guests will give to the fight against cancer as generously on this occasion as in the past. Envelopes will be provided on the tables for this purpose.

This year, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Ricciardella, new managers of the Hofbrau, will be hosts to the Shandaken Community. They are donating the restaurant facilities and the roast beef for the dinner. Sharing in their generous contribution are the Farmers' Market of Port Ewen, donor of all vegetables; George Hucker of the Phoenicia Village Bake Shop, who is furnishing the cake, the Hunter Bakery, the rolls; Arthur Short, the butter and cream and Fresh-keets, the coffee.

Green's Florist, Fleischmann's, is sending flowers for the tables. Midge Gosso will act as dining room hostess, seating guests in the order of their arrival. Lucy Erickson, Lorie Clutch, Bonnie Booth and Emily Osborne are giving their services as waitresses. James Holgate and Lucy Rogers have volunteered to man the kitchen for the occasion.

Town Justice of the Peace Amiel E. Hess of Mt. Tremper will act as master of ceremonies. Town merchants have provided a wide variety of gifts to be distributed. Each dollar donated during the Crusade entitles the donor to one coupon in the distribution.

The first donation dinner to augment the Cancer Fund was dreamed up and given by Louise Casasse, formerly of the Phoenicia Hotel. It was an outstanding success. John and Marjorie Painting followed suit at the Phoenicia Hotel with the same tremendous response from the community. This effort, shared by more and more people each year, has played a vital part in establishing Shandaken's record for highest per capita contribution to cancer in the United States.

Memorial

In loving memory of my dear husband, J. Edward Bernard, who passed away 9 years ago April 19, 1956.

I have only a beautiful memory. To remember a whole life through.

But its sweetness will last forever.

As I treasure each memory of you.

Your loving wife, VIEVA

Memorial

In memory of Minnie Parker on her birthday, April 19. Birthdays are treasured memories.

We bless the birthday years

We spent with our mother. We, who loved you, sadly miss you.

As it dawns another year. In our lonely hours of thinking Thoughts of you are near.

FAMILY OF THE LATE MINNIE PARKER

Memorial

In loving memory of Burton Roosa who passed away 2 years ago April 19, 1963.

Loving memories never die. As years roll on and days pass by.

Ulster Constables Hear Fatum on Need for Training

Town of Ulster constables will meet at 8 p. m. Wednesday at Lake Katrine Grange Hall at which time Francis Fatum, proprietor of Fatum's Ambulance Service will speak on the need for first aid training.

Fatum, who has conducted Fatum's Ambulance Service since 1958 in the City of Kingston and surrounding areas, will show pictures of accidents he attended and explain to the constables the need for training and what should be done in the event of emergencies.

Fatum is a qualified attendant and has had much experience in first aid. He resides on Sherry Lane in the Town of Ulster.

This will be the regular monthly meeting of the constables and at which time topics of interest to the constables will be discussed.

On March 30 Constables Norman Canit, Donald Crespiro, Jason Ward, Ralph Hayner and Leo Robinson attended the Tri-City Criminal seminar on narcotics and search and seizure law held at Britt's department store. This seminar was held under the direction of District Attorney Joseph Torrace of Ulster County.

LEGAL NOTICES

The annual meeting of the Town of Ulster, held at the Olive Bridge Firehall on April 26th at 8 P. M. All plot owners are urged to attend.

STATE OF NEW YORK COUNTY OF ULSTER.

THOMAS J. PLUNKET, Plaintiff, against:

CLARENCE JOHN YARLE, SARAH YARLE, YARLE SAVINGS BANK, KINGSTON TRUST COMPANY AND HOME CREDIT CO., INC., Defendants.

INDEX NO. 36391.

In pursuance of judgment of foreclosure and sale entered in the above entitled action and hearing held at the City of Kingston, N. Y., on the 14th day of April, 1965, the undersigned, the Referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the Court House in the City of Kingston, N. Y., on the 26th day of April, 1965, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold and therein described as follows:

ALL THAT TRACT OR PARCEL OF LAND AND PREMISES hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the Town of Rosendale, in the County of Ulster and State of New York, bounded and being as follows:

BEGINNING at a certain tree on the bounds of William Snyder; thence running north 73° west 28' 15" 50 links along the bounds of George Freston; thence south 22° 15" 15 links to the bounds of Peter C. LeFevre; thence along the same south 75° east 2 links and 56 links; thence north 18° east 18 links to the place of beginning. Containing one and seven-tenths of an acre, of land, be the same more or less.

Also, ALL THAT TRACT OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate in the County of Rosendale, in the County of Ulster and State of New York, on the south side of the railroad, and near the quarry of the North River Cement Company and bounded as follows:

BEGINNING at a stone set in the ground on the south side and near the quarry of the North River Cement Company; thence south 28° west 6 chains and 5 links thence north 75° west 2 chains and 56 links; thence south 18° east 18 links to the place of beginning. Containing one and seven-tenths of an acre, of land, be the same more or less.

Also, ALL THAT TRACT, PIECE OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate at a place locally known as the Quarry Section at Bloomingburg, in the Town of Rosendale, County of Ulster and State of New York, bounded and being as follows:

BEGINNING at a point which is formed by the intersection of the westerly line of the premises of Rosina Yonetti, hereinafter described, with the easterly line of lands of Myers; thence (1) westerly along said line of Myers to the easterly line of lands of Otto Herman; thence (2) northerly along the easterly line of said Herman to a point where the line of the intersection of the easterly line of Herman with a line running easterly and westerly and parallel to and distant two feet easterly from the easterly line of the foundation of a poultry house, said poultry house being located approximately midway between the points 2 and 3; thence (3) easterly along said line which is parallel to and distant two feet easterly from the southerly end of said concrete foundation of said poultry house mentioned in the foregoing, to the southerly end of said line of said lands of Rosina Yonetti, hereinafter described, and thence (4) southerly along said westerly line of said lands of Rosina Yonetti to the point and place of beginning.

Also, granting unto the heirs, assigns forever, the right, easement and privilege to take and use the water from the quarry tunnel on the remaining lands of the party of the first part for all domestic purposes and the right and privilege to maintain at said tunnel a proper and adequate pump and other equipment for the purpose of transporting and conveying said water to the lands of the party of the second part, hereinafter described, and the right and privilege to maintain a line of electric pole line with the necessary cross arms, wires, guys, braces and other accessories over the remaining lands of the party of the first part, for the purpose of providing electric power for the pump to be maintained at said quarry tunnel.

Excepting easement, if any, of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation for electric pole line. Excepting parcel conveyed to Town of Rosendale by deed dated April 27, 1943 and recorded in Ulster County Clerk's Office on August 9, 1943 in Book 635 of Deeds, at page 9.

Said premises will be sold subject to the lien of a prior mortgage held by the Kingston Savings Bank upon the date of this notice the sum of $4,739.02, but which will have been reduced upon the date of the sale and the balance advanced at that time.

Dated Kingston, New York April 15, 1965.

Plattekill Appoints Borean, Peace Justice

Plattekill Town Board appointed Frank Borean of Clintondale justice of the peace to fill the vacancy caused by the death earlier this month of Justice Vincent J. Porcelli.

Borean, long active in civic and community affairs is a former Commissioner of Clintondale Fire District and also served as a school tax collector in Marlboro School District. He is presently co-chairman of the Town of Plattekill Republican Club. Born and raised in Marlboro Borean is a brother of the late Harold Borean who ran for supervisor in the Town of Lloyd just before his untimely death a few years ago. The new justice of the peace is a 25-year employee of Shell Oil Company.

In other business the Plattekill Town Board called for a public hearing on a local law introduced by Supervisor Joseph Martorana which provides primarily for the licensing and controlling of auto junk yards. The hearing is to be held at Hasbrouck Hall in Modena on Wednesday, April 28 at 8 p. m.

The Town Board also unanimously adopted a resolution offered by Supervisor Martorana which calls for the Public Service Commission to request the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company to install "Spark Resistors" on their engines as a means of preventing grass fires.

In his resolution Martorana points out that on numerous occasions last year sparks emitting from the engines passing through the town were the cause of many grass fires alongside the railroad tracks.

Woman Hurt in Car

Angela R. Yerry, 29, of 42 Country Club Drive, Mt. Marion Park, suffered injuries to her back Saturday evening when her car was reported struck in the rear as she attempted to turn into the Victory Market at Saugerties.

Frederick A. Ruger, 22, Rt. 2, Box 445, New Paltz, was charged with driving with unsafe tires and following too close.

Deputy Sheriffs Thomas O'Brien and Guy A. Rider, reported the Yerry car was attempting to turn into the market when the Ruger car struck it in the rear.

State Traffic

traffic light and is "poorly constructed," the trooper said.

The four-lane highways change to two lanes at the intersection, authorities noted.

Elsewhere in the state, the Associated Press reported that four were killed in one traffic accident and three lives each were lost in three other mishaps.

5 Die in Fires

Five persons perished in fires and there was one drowning in the 54 hours from 6 P.M. on Good Friday to midnight Easter Sunday.

A heavy, wet snowfall surprised residents of Western and Central New York Saturday, and by Sunday night almost all of Upstate had been hit by the king-sized snowflakes.

During a Saturday snowfall, two accidents near Batavia claimed a total of seven lives.

Killed in a two-car crash on Route 5 were John Burzio, 59, his wife, Susie, 56, and Michaelina Astuto, 68, all of Rochester, and Joseph Socha Sr., 58, of Buffalo. Socha was alone in his car.

The accident came about four hours after three sisters, Carmelita, 58, Mary, 56, and Adele, 50, were killed when the auto they were in skidded off a road and struck a tree.

Plunged Into Creek

A married couple from the Town of Hermon, St. Lawrence County, and a boy died when their car plunged into a creek in Hermon as they drove to Sunday church services. Police recovered the bodies of Rolfe Durham, 66, his wife, Evelina, 55, and Ronald Rowe, 13, of Talcottville.

The deaths, by community, included:

Friday Night

Rome — Mrs. Marietta Deming, 63, of Rome, struck by auto near her home.

Uniondale — Michael Stubbach, 23, Robert Mueller, 21, and Donald Robinson, 19, all of Hempstead, their car hit a parked trailer-truck.

Saturday

Brant Lake — Robert Kelly, 15, of Massapequa, drowned when canoe capsized on Schrom River.

Buffalo — Mrs. Sadie G. Rivette, 68, of Kenmore, auto hit tree.

Sunday

Castile — Linda McCready, 19, of Castile, auto she was in struck power pole.

Sodus — John M. Rose, 23, of Sodus, auto swerved off curve.

Keesville — Barbara E. Mero, 18 months, of Willsboro, auto driven by her father, Leon, and another vehicle collided at Routes 9 and 22.

Marian Anderson

while ending her recital career, she would continue making appearances on "extraordinary occasions."

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market flirted with new highs early this afternoon in active trading.

An irregular rise pushed popular averages above the record closing highs established last week, but the rise was hesitant and there were many losers.

Selective strength among motors, cigarette stocks, oils, mail order - retailers and coppers helped boost the market indicators.

The business-economic news background was regarded as highly encouraging.

Upward pressure on copper prices, increases in cigarette prices and new records for personal income and industrial production were part of the Wall Street backdrop.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 4 at 339.7 with industrials up 1.0, rails off .4 and utilities up .5. The AP average made a historic closing high of 339.6 on Wednesday.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .85 at 912.76, backing away from an early gain of 1.50 which put it above its historic closing high of 912.86 made Wednesday.

Prices advanced in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Mishap Sends Taxi Driver to Hospital

Joseph Corkery, 56, of Colonial Gardens, was admitted to Kingston Hospital today following a head-on collision on Route 9W at Albany Avenue.

According to an investigation by Kingston Troopers Robert Houghtaling and Thomas Crowley, Corkery was driving a Fatum's taxicab north on Route 9W and making a left turn when the vehicle was in collision with a car operated by Arthur Evans Sr., 50, of Barclay Heights, Saugerties.

After the accident, troopers said, Corkery complained of a neck injury. He went home and later was removed to the hospital by Fatum's ambulance. Evans complained of possible injuries of the knee and left thumb.

Philippine ...

Should Remain

Q — Do you believe the United States should withdraw from its bases in the Philippines?

A — Definitely no. The Philippines has never asked for the withdrawal of American bases in the Philippines. To do so would be to play into the hands of the Communists. As everybody knows, the Communists have been advocating in and outside the United Nations the elimination of American bases scattered all over the globe. It is unfortunate that some opposition leaders have advocated such a step but this does not reflect popular opinion or the official view of the Philippine government.

Q — The Philippines obviously has an abiding interest in what happens in Southeast Asia and specifically to Indochina. How do you view current American policy with regard to the war in Indochina, particularly with regard to the bombing attacks on North Viet Nam?

A — Undoubtedly the Philippines views with serious concern the present situation in Viet Nam. This is a situation that poses a serious threat to our security in this part of the world. As a SEATO member and American ally in the United States-Philippines mutual defense treaty and as an immediate neighbor, the Philippines has a great stake in what is going on in Viet Nam. It is for this reason that the Philippine government has decided to extend aid to that beleaguered country as a manifestation of our good will and of our determination to resist Communist aggression in the area.

The American decision to bomb Viet Cong bases inside North Viet Nam seems to have been dictated by the desire to stop the reinforcements into South Viet Nam. Adequate response must have to be made if further provocations from the other side are to be halted. The bombing attacks are an indication of American determination to stay in Viet Nam until the latter's safety from Communist aggression is assured, a development which has heartened the free nations of Southeast Asia.

No Damage Yet, He Thinks

Q — The avowed intention of Indonesia to crush Malaysia seems to pose a threat of yet another dangerous crisis for Southeast Asia. Do you foresee any immediate danger, and how do you assess the policies of the United States and Britain with regard to Malaysia and Indonesia?

A — For the present I do not see any immediate danger with regard to Indonesia's "crush Malaysia" policy. I still maintain the belief that the two countries could come to a peaceful settlement of their dispute. On our part we have bent every effort towards the attainment of that end. Without discounting the beneficial influence that the great powers, particularly the United States and the United Kingdom, can lend towards this end, it is felt that the solution that will commend itself to the contending parties is one within the context of an Asian solution.

Modesty aside, I feel that the Afro-Asian conciliation commission which I proposed to President Sukarno and Prime Minister Rahman in Tokyo last June affords a practical approach to this problem.

Book 2 Drivers, One on 6 Counts, Following Mishaps

Two drivers were booked on charges after one-car mishaps in the city over the weekend.

Lester Hynes, 39, of 71 Newkirk Avenue, was booked on six charges after the sedan he drove overturned, crashed on a sidewalk and damaged a hedge on Clifton Avenue near Stephen Street Saturday at about 2:30 p. m.

He was charged with driving an unregistered vehicle while his license was revoked, with lacking proof of insurance, failure to keep right, driving recklessly and at a speed not reasonable and prudent.

Hynes was taken to Kingston Hospital by Fatum ambulance for treatment of cuts and bruises.

City Judge Joseph D. Saccam today adjourned hearing to Tuesday to permit him time to obtain counsel. Bail of $750 was not immediately posted.

Police said the car damaged shrubbery on the property of Frederick Baechtle, of 175 Clifton Avenue. Officers Harry Short and Joseph Ferrara investigated.

Dennis Landerway, 21, of 10 Tompkins Street, was charged with failure to keep right after the car he drove struck a pole on East Strand near Tompkins Street in a mishap reported at 3:10 p. m. Sunday.

He pleaded guilty in city court today, was fined $15, plus a suspended jail sentence of 10 days and was ordered to attend a drivers' education school. Officers Harry Short and Charles Diers investigated the mishap.

Rare Blood

aging effects of disunity on the blood needs of New York City.

This committee, he noted, "recommended that a community blood center be established to standardize blood procurement, distribution and utilization in the city. Blood was being collected in 57 different agencies in a chaotic arrangement paradoxically combining shortage and wastage."

Combine Of Agencies

To meet New York's need "for a community-wide blood bank" he said, The Blood Center has been created under the joint sponsorship of many community agencies such as the Blue Cross, New York State Blood Banks Association, State Medical Society, Red Cross and New York Central Labor Council.

Miss Wiseman, he said, in expressing her appreciation of the assistance of the New York Blood Center, noted that Kingston has known the advantages of a community-sponsored blood center for 23 years.

The Kingston Blood Bank was established in April, 1942 under the direction of Dr. J. Spottiswood Taylor, who had directed the local laboratory, and its services have been shared by the Benedictine and Kingston hospitals ever since.

Its staff now includes Miss Wiseman as blood bank nurse; Lionel B. Harrington as immunohematologist; Charles P. Emerick, as hematologist; John Hill, junior hematologist, and three pathologists: Dr. Robert E. Benitez, Dr. Derman, and Dr. N. Richard Gershon.

Ten new U.S. Air Force F104 jet fighters arrived at Da Nang air base to improve the protection of U.S. bombers against Communist MIG fighters. Four more F4s were expected later in the day.

Two Americans were wounded in separate operations near Da Nang today. Government forces were reported locked in heavy battle with the Viet Cong 50 miles southeast of Da Nang.

Heaviest Fighting

The heaviest fighting was reported in Quang Tin Province where some 800 government troops battled a large Communist unit. Preliminary reports said seven of the government troops were killed and 32 wounded, including an American sergeant.

The pilot of a U.S. Army helicopter was seriously wounded in a smaller operation just outside of Da Nang on "Monkey Mountain."

Guerrillas machine-gunned a convoy of newly arrived U.S. Marines at Phu Bi. Two trucks were damaged slightly but there were no casualties.

The Soviet Union threatened Sunday to permit "volunteers" to fight for North Viet Nam if the United States steps up military action. The declaration was part of a joint Soviet-North Vietnamese communique issued in Moscow at the end of a week-long meeting between leaders of the two countries.

The Soviet Union also demanded again that the United States pull its men, planes and military equipment out of Viet Nam at once.

In Washington, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said a temporary halt in air strikes against North Viet Nam might open the way to peace negotiations.

First Ship Arrives

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The unloading of the steamer, George R. Fink, was underway today after the vessel sailed through ice in Lake Erie to open the 1965 navigation season in Buffalo harbor.

The steamer, out of Ashtabula, Ohio, docked Sunday night at the Hanna Furnace Co. pier. The first arrival was exactly one week later than last year's first passage in or out of Buffalo's ice field.

NEW YORK (AP) — The days when Goldfinger could either settle or upset the bookkeeping on the U.S. trade by a heist of gold from Ft. Knox may be gone forever.

Trading Too Complicated
All the gold in the world can't settle the world's international trading bills at one time. Also, the mechanics of trading between nations, and between blocs of nations, is too complicated now.

Beyond that, just figuring out how to balance the payment, or credit, for these transactions may be fast outgrowing the system in use before World War II, which seemed pretty complicated itself in those days.

Getting one nation's raw materials and finished goods to another country where they were badly needed, or at least could be sold, used to be a matter of salesmanship and shipping, of credit and of balancing accounts — with gold, U.S. dollars and British pounds as the units of accounting — or with other goods in barter deals.

Now there are not only single nations to be considered. There are trading blocs of nations, like the European Common Market, or fledgling groups in South and Central America and in the Middle East.

There are tariff barriers, import quotas, currency controls, purchasing agreements with favored nations, to keep such trade at specified levels. And these ground rules change with political fortunes as often as with economic needs.

Also, there are various international groups for specific commodities, such as sugar, coffee, tin. These supposedly protect producing nations on one hand without hurting consuming nations on the other.

Over all this there is GATT, charged with trying to whittle down such barriers when political and economic conditions permit. This General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade is tackling the problems right now, in a world so confused that the results of the parley are highly unpredictable.

Right now there's a quest on for some medium of exchange in international trade settlements other than the gold, dollar and pound reserves. Britain's trouble in maintaining the value of its pound, and French President Charles de Gaulle's snubbing of the U.S. dollar in favor of gold, have spurred this quest by international monetary experts. Actually, most of the world's trade is carried on by credit, with one nation's paper I.O.U.s balancing another's. Example: Germany's credit slip to France may be sold to Italy, which can use German marks to pay for goods it wants. The actual dollars and pounds and gold rarely cross borders — just the slips of papers standing for gold or dollars or pounds.

Urges Measles Fight

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State health chief advises local health officers to mount an effective anti-measles campaign through well-child conferences and immunization clinics.

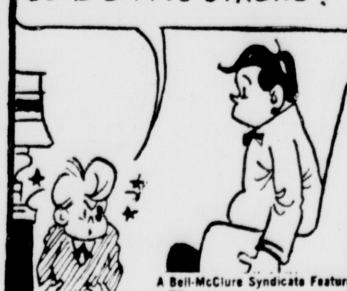

Dr. Hollis S. Ingraham noted Sunday that the state is in a period of peak measles incidence and that, in the past 15 years in New York State, the annual average of deaths attributable to measles was 25.

America's toughest gasoline mileage test ends in Times Square

3,266-mile Mobil Economy Run winds up in Times Square, N. Y. with an all-car average of 20.34 miles per gallon.

Below, the map of the entire route and all the results certified by the United States Auto Club.

In America's mileage classic—the Mobil Economy Run—48 different makes and models of American cars crossed the continent from Los Angeles to New York. The cars traveled at an average speed of 51.6 mph and were under the strict supervision of the United States Auto Club (USAC). All-car average: 20.34 miles per gallon.

What does this mean to you? Simply this: while other gasolines talk about good mileage, Mobil's High Energy Gasoline proves its mileage potential in public! Over all kinds of roads from city streets to superhighways; through all kinds of conditions from deserts to 11,000-foot mountain passes.

The cars that compete in the Mobil Economy Run are not "specials" or "doctored" in any way. They're selected at random from dealer showrooms all across the country. The gasoline is the same gasoline you can buy at any Mobil station.

It's the world's toughest test of gasoline. Check the results at the right. Then, try Mobil's High Energy Gasoline in your car—Premium or Regular.

Car Hit on Tracks

A 32-year-old Castleton man escaped injury Sunday when his car was struck by a north bound New York Central train near Stuyvesant in Columbia county. Clifton Reginald Baird woke up at 12:01 a. m. to discover his car was parked on the railroad tracks on Route 9-J. State Police at Claverack reported Baird jumped from the car and ran down the tracks and attempted to flag the North Star limited. He failed and the train smashed the front end of the car.

A recent national count by the Young Women's Christian Association showed more than 2,230,000 registered as members and program participants.

Found Dead in Car

A 68-year-old Poughkeepsie man was found dead Saturday night slumped over the steering wheel of his car after it jumped a curb on Lincoln Avenue a few blocks from his home. Police said Alexander Tschepurnov, of 33 South Bridge Street, apparently died of a heart seizure before the car hit a stonewall. The man was employed locally as a kitchen worker and is survived by his wife who resides in Bulgaria.

Question: Permanent Peace

South Viet Nam Could Fall To Reds Later, No Attack

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and his administration have not made clear whether they are talking about temporary or permanent solutions for South Viet Nam.

He says he wants peace there and a truly independent South Viet Nam, and he has promised the United States will clear out when that independence is fully guaranteed.

This could mean a neutralist South Viet Nam whose safety from attack is agreed to by a combination of larger powers. But in time it could be captured by communism without outside attack.

Two examples:
1. South Viet Nam's government might become so corrupt, unstable or tyrannical that the people would abandon hope for it and voluntarily welcome absorption by Communist North Viet Nam.

2. The same result, without outside attack, might be achieved through Communist intrigue or revolution.

For eight years under President Diem there was dictatorship. After his assassination one government after another was toppled. Without the American presence, South Viet Nam might have collapsed in chaos.

How Does He Know?
Johnson has said the people of South Viet Nam want their country independent. But how does he know? The South Vietnamese leaders with whom this country is dealing may truly want their country independent.

But recently, it was reported, only 42 per cent of the people support their American-backed government, 8 per cent support the Communist guerrillas and over 50 per cent, sitting on the fence, are indifferent.

With the United States withdrawn, South Viet Nam might truly collapse or wish to join with the Communist North. Would the United States attempt to go back in if this happened?

It would be interference then with South Viet Nam's internal affairs.

One thing is sure, Red China already is the dominant force in Asia. In a few years, when it has its own nuclear weapons, its power will be enormous and so will its self-confidence in dealing with the United States.

The history of China has been one of aggression and attempts to absorb its neighbors, particularly Viet Nam. There is no reason to expect a change under China is in a better position to assert itself.

China Could Swallow All

Would the United States be willing to risk war in Asia—for the sake of Viet Nam—if a truly strong, nuclear China in one way or another, short of direct attack, tries to absorb Viet Nam or make it totally submissive.

Johnson foresaw that when he recently said:

"There are those who say that all our efforts there (in South Viet Nam) will be futile—that China's power is such it is bound to dominate all Southeast Asia."

"But there is no end to that argument until all the nations of Asia are swallowed up." But that doesn't answer the question.

In this same talk two weeks ago Johnson also said: "We will always oppose the effort of one nation to conquer another." In this case "oppose" does not necessarily mean the United States would be willing to fight anywhere, any time to stop one nation's aggression against another.

Intent on Viet Piece

It wasn't, for instance, willing to go to war with Russia to prevent the Russian intrusion in Hungary and its suppression of the revolt there in 1956.

Right now Johnson is intent on getting peace restored in Viet Nam. It isn't a happy situation, even without war with China. He acknowledged this past weekend criticism of his policy of bombing North Viet Nam.

Actually, Johnson is in a box not of his own making. He inherited the obligation to help South Viet Nam from the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations which pledged American aid.

But he has reaffirmed that pledge and, without getting specific, seems to be broadening it to the whole world with the statement that this country will always oppose the effort of one nation to conquer another.

TOGETHERNESS—Two students in New York try out a new twin bicycle which permits cycling abreast rather than placing the riders one behind the other. The new bike is made to order for those who like to hold conversations or hands.

Open House at Westover

WESTOVER, AFB, MASS.—Westover's 16th annual open house celebration, observing not only Armed Forces Day this year, but also the base's 25th anniversary, will begin at 9 a. m. Saturday, May 8. By 4 p. m. that day, the time at which the celebration will come to a close, some 100,000 visitors are expected to have passed through Westover's gates.

The once-a-year event, held this year at the beginning of Armed Forces Week, will give civilian and military personnel a chance to view many areas of the base that are closed the remainder of the year. Westover's open house, the largest in Western Massachusetts, attracts visitors from a five-state area. In addition to the aircraft displays and flyovers, demonstrations, variety shows and drill exhibitions have been programmed to interest airmen and civilians alike.

TV Reviews and Best Bets

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Just about once a year some TV network has the idea of doing a special program from California's Marineland. And Sunday night CBS took us on our annual vicarious visit.

It seems to me that over the years I've inspected Marineland with Roy Rogers and Dale Evans, Lloyd Bridges and the Beverly Hillsbillies to mention a few. Sunday night it was the Munster family that had the difficult job of trying to provide some land-locked comedy moments for the youthful audience in "Marineland Carnival."

No matter who the human celebrities at Marineland, the only real stars are those docile, friendly porpoises, whales, walrus and even octopuses. As usual they were quite fascinating. The Munsters didn't have a chance with them around.

NBC's "Profiles in Courage," was a particularly interesting courtroom drama Sunday night. It dealt with a bitter difference in viewpoint between President Thoms Jefferson, who in 1807 wanted Aaron Burr convicted of treason, and Chief Justice John Marshall of the Supreme Court who resisted the pressures and insisted on giving Burr a fair trial and protecting his rights under the Constitution.

What made the well-written script of special interest was that President Jefferson emerged almost as the villain of the piece.

CBS has decided to change the name of its forthcoming night version of "As the World Turns" to "Our Private World" when it starts on May 2. CBS' fall schedule is pretty well set but "Our Private World," so far, has no place in it. However, should the two-part evening soap opera turn into a hit like "Peyton Place," somehow space would be found.

Recommended tonight: "CBS Reports," 10-11 EST — "The United Nations - Beleaguered Fortress," "Nightlife," ABC, 11:15-1 a. m. — Dave Garraway starts a week as the show's host.

Car Hit on Tracks

Found Dead in Car

A 68-year-old Poughkeepsie man was found dead Saturday night slumped over the steering wheel of his car after it jumped a curb on Lincoln Avenue a few blocks from his home. Police said Alexander Tschepurnov, of 33 South Bridge Street, apparently died of a heart seizure before the car hit a stone wall. The man was employed locally as a kitchen worker and is survived by his wife who resides in Bulgaria.

A recent national count by the Young Women's Christian Association showed more than 2,230,000 registered as members and program participants.

Phoenicia P-TA Jenkins Winner Is Mrs. Sheehan

Mrs. F. William Sheehan, president of the Phoenicia elementary school P-TA, has been named winner of the second annual Jenkins Memorial Award sponsored by the school.

Edna Hoyt, chairman of the award committee, made the presentation speech, with the actual award being made by Mrs. Robert Maroney, wife of the Phoenicia school principal.

Mrs. Sheehan was highly praised by Mrs. Hoyt and Mr. and Mrs. Maroney. Mrs. Hoyt said that Mrs. Sheehan has responded to every call for help. She also had the task of organizing the P-TA, newest in the Ontario Central school system.

Mrs. Hoyt the recipient had been indispensable to the development of the P-TA program at Phoenicia. "It is not easy—Phoenicia is a Johnny-come-lately in the Ontario Central school system and we're actually the latest school. And so we decided to make our Jenkins award recipient to the person we feel has done the most for the P-TA."

Principal Maroney praised Mrs. Sheehan as one of the driving forces in making the Book Fair so successful. He also noted her program for free ski lessons for the school children next year. She was also responsible for the Egg Hunt that was held at the school.

P-TA Receives Charter
Mrs. Dorothy Roosa, assistant director of the Mid-Hudson Congress of Parents and Teachers presented the P-TA with its charter and commended the principal and the officers. Besides Mrs. Sheehan, president, the officers included: Mrs. Tanya Smith, first vice president; Mrs. Elsie Dibbell, second vice president; Mrs. Gloria Herron, recording secretary; Mrs. Lena Gossio, treasurer; Mrs. Madeline Gugliemetti, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Grace Janitz, historian.

Mrs. Roosa advised that the Ulster County P-TA's will annex to the Taconic Council in Poughkeepsie next fall rather than the Mid-Hudson Council whose headquarters are at Nyack.

Following the regular business, a highly informative modern math panel was presented. Members of the panel included: Helen Turk, moderator; Florence Epstein, Dinah Schlasinger, Ann Maroney and Marion Blish.

An interesting question and answer period followed the panel discussion.

Simon Judges School Music

Harry Simon, Director of Music of the Ontario Central Schools, served as a judge for the recent New York State Music competitions. Simon was chosen to become an adjudicator by officials of the New York State Music Association.

Since 1958 and for the past seven consecutive years, the Ontario High School Symphonic Band has received each year the highest rating possible in New York State, a rating of A-1.

Simon's first assignment was at the Music Competitions held at Riverhead, Long Island, and at Commack, L. I. He will be traveling throughout the state to judge other competitions during the spring.

Town Topics

The ladies auxiliary of Woodstock Fire Company No. 4 (Zena) are sponsoring a first aid course. This course will last five weeks and will be held for two hours each Thursday, beginning April 22 at 7:30 p.m. in the Zena firehouse. There will be no charge and all interested persons are invited.

Gambini Is Juror

Woodstock artist William Gambini juried the works for the 30th annual Dutchess County Art Association exhibit which runs at the IBM Country Club in Poughkeepsie through April 21. Gambini and another Woodstock artist, Richard Bonny, exhibited works.

Crampton Work
"Eclipse" an original work by Rollin Crampton of Woodstock has been selected for inclusion in the Northeast Regional Art Across America exhibition which opens at Boston's Institute of Contemporary Art on April 30.

OCS Board Meets

The Ontario Central Schools District Board of Education meets in regular session tonight at 8 o'clock in the cafeteria in the main building at Boiceville. Formal board action will be taken on the proposed budget for 1965-66. The public is invited.

Werner's Return

Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Werner have returned to their Ohayo Mountain Road home from their annual winter stay at their winter headquarters and studio in Chandler, Arizona. Werner is a nationally recognized portrait painter.

Riding Club Set For Trail Ride

An 18 to 20-mile trail ride will open the season's activity for the Woodstock Riding Club Sunday, April 25, at 10 a.m. In case of rain, the ride will take place the following Sunday, May 2.

A large number of reservations already have been filed and more are expected this week. All participants are urged to be at the club grounds ready to start promptly at 10 a.m.

The trail ride is for members and their invited guests. Information concerning invitations may be obtained from Stuart Miller, chairman of the ride committee, and the other members: Mrs. Daniel Morehouse, Mrs. Paul Le Paige, Miss Nina Wilson, or any club member.

The trail ride and many other scheduled events for the 1965 season were discussed by chairman Miller at the monthly meeting of the club in the J. C. van Rijn studio in Woodstock. The club president, George M. Hard, presided.

Owners Cooperate

Property owners have been most cooperative in assisting with the opening of suitable trails for the April 25 event. It was reported, The route includes trails through the Hitzig property to Cooper Lake, up the Mink Hollow Road to a trail leading to Jack Frank's Rawhide Ranch. Mr. Frank has offered his facilities for a picnic lunch and the stabling of the horses for a rest period before the return trip. All horses will be checked at this point before beginning the return trip. The riders will provide their own picnics but Miss Nina Wilson will arrive with beverages for the group.

Besides the property owners, Mrs. LePaige and Mr. Miller have contacted the Department of Lands and Forests for permission to ride on Catskill Park property whenever necessary. They have also requested that consideration be given to proper trails in the Wittenberg Park area, when, as and if, this project gets underway.

Most horses at this time are not in condition for a difficult ride and for this original activity, most of the riding will be over flat fields.

Committee Busy

The committee has put in many hours cutting brush and generally readying the trails for Sunday's ride. The reservations to date have been made by riders from Saugerties, Kingston, Pine Bush and Woodstock. Reservations are also expected from riders in the Hurley Stone Ridge areas.

It is hoped that a minimum of two activities monthly excluding horse shows will be planned for the balance of the season. Included will be instruction for riding and driving, as well as equitation and care of horses.

Three candidates were elected to membership. They are: Miss Michelle Gibson and Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Marek, all of Woodstock.

Following the meeting, a color film, "The American Cowboy," was presented to a large audience. Refreshments were served.

New Neagoe Book Is Now in Print

An unpublished manuscript left by Peter Neagoe when he died in 1960, "The Saint of Montparnasse" has been published by Chilton Books of Philadelphia. A Rumanian by birth, Neagoe lived in Woodstock in his later years.

"Saint" is a 287 page novel based on the life of Constantin Brancusi, the sculptor who pioneered modern forms. It is illustrated with glossy reproductions of Brancusi's works. Neagoe was a long time friend of the sculptor and a fellow Rumanian and he writes exactly of the forces that drove Brancusi to leave his native peasant village and work unrelentingly toward world fame.

Lived in Woodstock

Author Peter Neagoe, who is well remembered by many Woodstockers and who lived with his wife, Anna, in the present home of the Gladstone Galleries on Lower Byrdcliffe Road, studied philosophy and Fine Arts in Bucharest. He came to the United States at 20, made his living by portrait painting, drawing cartoons and writing for newspapers and magazines.

Eventually, he turned to full time writing and, although proficient in five languages, he wrote in English. Among his published works are: Storm, Easter Sun, There Is My Heart, A Time to Keep, No Time for Tears, Winning a Wife and Americans Abroad.

Glassmaking was a major industry of antiquity.

Pollet's Works In N. Y. Exhibit

A collection of Joseph Pollet paintings will be on display through April 27 at the Robert Schoelkopf gallery in New York City through April 24. Pollet, a well known Woodstock artist, and long time resident, lived in Europe for more than a decade until a couple of years ago when he returned to America. This is his second one-man show since his return.

Metropolitan Art

One of the most important art shows in New York City opened at the Metropolitan Museum April 8 and will be on view through Oct. 17. The works, all owned by the Museum and housed in its storage racks for the most part, contain some of the finest examples of the 18th and 19th century American painting. On display will be work by Thomas Cole, pioneer American painter, who stayed in Woodstock briefly.

Academy Names Ethel Magafan

Ethel Magafan of Woodstock was among 17 persons elected to Associate Membership in the National Academy of Design, the Academy president, Edgar I. Williams, has announced.

Miss Magafan was selected with six others in the Painters class. Memberships were also voted for sculptors, architects and aquarellists (paintings drawn in transparent watercolor).

Phoenicia P-TA Jenkins Winner Is Mrs. Sheehan

Mrs. F. William Sheehan, president of the Phoenicia elementary school P-TA, has been named winner of the second annual Jenkins Memorial Award sponsored by the school.

Edna Hoyt, chairman of the award committee, made the presentation speech, with the actual award being made by Mrs. Robert Maroney, wife of the Phoenicia school principal.

Mrs. Sheehan was highly praised by Mrs. Hoyt and Mr. Maroney. Mrs. Hoyt said that Mrs. Sheehan has responded to every call for help. She also had the task of organizing the P-TA, newest in the Ontario Central school system.

Mrs. Hoyt the recipient had been indispensable to the development of the P-TA program at Phoenicia. "It is not easy—Phoenicia is a Johnny-come-lately in the Ontario school system and we're actually the latest school. And so we decided to make our Jenkins award recipient to the person we feel has done the most for the P-TA."

Principal Maroney praised Mrs. Sheehan as one of the driving forces in making the Book Fair so successful. He also noted her program for free ski lessons for the school children next year. She was also responsible for the Egg Hunt that was held at the school.

P-TA Receives Charter

Mrs. Dorothy Roosa, assistant director of the Mid-Hudson Congress of Parents and Teachers presented the P-TA with its charter and commended the principal and the officers. Besides Mrs. Sheehan, president, the officers included: Mrs. Tanya Smith, first vice president; Mrs. Elsie Dibbell, second vice president; Mrs. Gloria Herron, recording secretary; Mrs. Lena Gosso, treasurer; Mrs. Madeline Guglielmetti, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Grace Janitz, historian.

Mrs. Roosa advised that the Ulster County P-TA's will annex to the Taconic Council in Poughkeepsie next fall rather than the Mid-Hudson Council whose headquarters are at Nyack.

Following the regular business, a highly informative modern math panel was presented. Members of the panel included: Helen Turk, moderator; Florence Epstein, Dinah Schlesinger, Ann Maroney and Marion Blish.

An interesting question and answer period followed the panel discussion.

Simon Judges School Music

Harry Simon, Director of Music of the Ontario Central Schools, served as a judge for the recent New York State Music competitions. Simon was chosen to become an adjudicator by officials of the New York State Music Association.

Since 1958 and for the past seven consecutive years, the Ontario High School Symphonic Band has received each year the highest rating possible in New York State, a rating of A-6.

Simon's first assignment was at the Music Competitions held at Riverhead, Long Island, and at Commack, L. I. He will be traveling throughout the state to judge other competitions during the spring.

Town Topics

The ladies auxiliary of Woodstock Fire Company No. 4 (Zena) are sponsoring a first aid course. This course will last five weeks and will be held for two hours each Thursday, beginning April 22 at 7:30 p.m. in the Zena firehouse. There will be no charge and all interested persons are invited.

Gambini Is Juror

Crampton Work

"Eclipse" an original work by Rollin Crampton of Woodstock has been selected for inclusion in the Northeast Regional Art Across America exhibition which opens at Boston's Institute of Contemporary Art on April 30.

OCS Board Meets

The Ontario Central Schools District Board of Education meets in regular session tonight at 8 o'clock in the cafeteria in the main building at Boiceville. Formal board action will be taken on the proposed budget for 1965-66. The public is invited.

Werner's Return

Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Werner have returned to their Ohayo Mountain Road home from their annual winter stay at their winter headquarters and studio in Chandler, Arizona. Werner is a nationally recognized portrait painter.

Riding Club Set For Trail Ride

An 18 to 20-mile trail ride will open the season's activity for the Woodstock Riding Club Sunday, April 25, at 10 a.m. In case of rain, the ride will take place the following Sunday, May 2.

A large number of reservations already have been filed and more are expected this week. All participants are urged to be at the club grounds ready to start promptly at 10 a.m.

The trail ride is for members and their invited guests. Information concerning invitations may be obtained from Stuart Miller, chairman of the ride committee, and the other members: Mrs. Daniel Morehouse, Mrs. Paul Le Paige, Miss Nina Wilson, or any club member.

The trail ride and many other scheduled events for the 1965 season were discussed by chairman Miller at the monthly meeting of the club in the J. C. van Rijn studio in Woodstock. The club president, George M. Hard, presided.

Owners Cooperate

Property owners have been most cooperative in assisting with the opening of suitable trails for the April 25 event, it was reported. The route includes trails through the Hitzig property to Cooper Lake, up the Mink Hollow Road to a trail leading to Jack Frank's Rawhide Ranch. Mr. Frank has offered his facilities for a picnic lunch and the stabling of the horses for a rest period before the return trip. All horses will be checked at this point before beginning the return trip. The riders will provide their own picnics but Miss Nina Wilson will arrive with beverages for the group.

The little girl from the South was on her first visit up North. "Momma," she said excitedly as a few snow flakes whirled across the sidewalk, "popped rain!"

What every wife wants to know: how the other half lives.

Two sisters stopped in the town's department store. Suddenly one of them felt a tug on her veil. She turned around quickly to see who wanted her attention.

Blue eyes opened wide and a handbag dropped to the floor as a woman said, "Oh! I thought you were a bolt of material."

Some men are known by their deeds, others by their mortgages.

When Carter Glass first began to make himself heard in 1913, in caucuses of his party in the Senate, he talked rather ponderously and frigidly. On one such occasion the subject seem to warm him up and soon he was not only emphatic but pugnacious. At this point one of his partisans in the caucus shouted: "Partisan--Give 'em hell, Carter!"

Mr. Glass's reply has become historic.

Mr. Glass--Hell? Why use dynamite when insect powder will do?

Thinking to please the young man, the manager of the office offered to promote the office boy to junior clerk.

Manager--And, of course, it will mean a small raise, (and waited for the outburst of thanks which didn't come.)

The boy thought hard for a moment, and then said:

Office Boy--If it's all the same to you, sir, I'd rather go on looking after the postage stamps and petty cash on my present salary.

Marriage is the one subject on which all women agree and all men disagree.

A word of advice: Don't give it.

Never run after a street-car or a woman; another will be along presently.

Explorer of Depths To Check on Soviets

BY ROBERT D. CLARK
PORT ST. LUCIE, Fla. (AP) — A leading explorer of ocean depths said today he plans to ride along the bottom of the mighty Gulf Stream all the way from Florida to Newfoundland. One object of his trip by research submarine is to see whether the Russians are up to anything on the Continental Shelf, the sloping, underwater land mass beyond the visible coast. Dr. Jacques Piccard told The Associated Press in an exclusive interview.

The Swiss and eight companions also will observe and film marine life and study currents at depths as great as 1,000 feet during their projected six weeks voyage. Piccard, 44, plans to make the cruise in the Auguste Piccard, a craft named for his late father, or in a modification of the vessel. He calls the slender, instrument-packed vessel a mesoscap. The 93-foot sub won't use its electric motors but instead will drift along in the one-to-five-knot northward flow of the Gulf Stream itself.

Oceanographers, several members of Congress and high Navy officials have been invited to Port St. Lucie for a coordinating conference Thursday. It may fix a target date for Piccard's probe of the Gulf Stream. Preliminary work is expected to start this week, using two-man submarines built by newspaper publisher John H. Perry and a 100-foot surface research vessel, the Seadiver, owned by Edwin Link.

Piccard, consultant for an oceanographic filming concern, in 1960 set the world's record for an ocean descent — 35,800 feet into the Pacific's Mariana trench. The craft he made the drop in was used later by the Navy to locate wreckage of its crumpled submarine Thresher. Link, inventor of the World War II Link pilot trainer, designed an inflatable chamber that was successfully tested off the Bahamas last year as an ocean-floor laboratory for free swimmers. All three men said they were concerned over the possibility of deep sea developments in the "wet war" off United States shores. Link said he has seen ships from the Soviet Union only a mile off the Cape Kennedy moonport and rocket test complex.

A Look at Life Around The Nation This Week

CHILLICOTHE, Mo. (AP) — It looks like something out of a nightmare: 42 old horseshoes and the iron seat from an early-day farm cultivator welded together.

Sophisticates might call it pop art sculpture, the sort of thing that sells for substantial cash in cultural centers today.

Retired farmer Mat Petersen who designed it, auctioneer Hugh Campbell who sold it, and motel operator Elwood Allnut who bought it for $20 call it a chair.

Petersen, near 80, refused to discuss his creation but snorted, "I wouldn't make another one for that price!"

Campbell said he told the auction crowd "about the pop art craze back East but folks around here aren't interested in such things."

Allnut said he wanted it for a sideshow museum of oddities he is building for his motel and just thought it "interesting to look at."

But Allnut added reflectively, "I just might start calling it modern sculpture and see what it'll bring."

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Back in 1929, when Marcellus M. Murdock was in his late 40s, the boss of a pioneer aviation company told him he was too old to learn to fly.

Murdock bought a plane, hired an instructor, and he has been flying happily ever since. He celebrated his 82nd birthday last February with a lesson in a twin-engine plane and 11 days later received his multi-engine rating.

Murdock, president and chairman of the board of Wichita Eagle and Beacon Publishing Co. Inc., explained it this way:

"Flying has a peculiar fascination for me. There is a challenge. I never felt I was a courageous man, so it isn't courage. I just like it."

He has logged more than 6,000 hours as a pilot and in recent years has handled the controls of an Air Force F100 and the KC97 jet tanker plane. After his F100 flight he received a "mach-buster" button for flying faster than sound.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A slick new weapon has been added to the arsenal of gas, poison, garden tools and traps in the battle being waged by homeowners against gophers.

It's plain old bacon grease. Amelia Barber of Phoenix became concerned when a colony of eight gophers started working over her lawn.

She offered a $1 reward to college students boarding at her home for each gopher. Their reaction:

"Those gophers are highly educated and I have failed to match wits with them in the past." "I don't know anything about mechanics and couldn't set the traps." "I have never done anything like that before and don't want to start now."

So Mrs. Barber took her problem to Mrs. Ernell Clark, her next-door neighbor. Mrs. Clark disclosed she has routed gophers by pouring bacon grease in the holes and washing it down with a hose.

Mrs. Barber tried it — and now says her gophers are gone, too.

Wide Tour on Tap To Sell Goods From Empire State

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Two officials in the State Commerce Department will tour Asia and Australia in a five-week-long business hunt for New York manufacturers, exporters and farmers.

Gov. Rockefeller announced Sunday that Commerce Commissioner Keith S. McHugh and Howard D. MacPherson, head of the department's international trade division, would visit Japan, Hong Kong, the Philippines, Australia, Malaysia, India and Pakistan.

So far, the governor said, state efforts to improve international trade have been concentrated in Europe and "have boosted New York's overseas trade by more than $100 million."

Several thousand new jobs have been created by the overseas trade, he said, and small manufacturers in particular have benefited from increased export business.

The Civil War, which ended April 9, 1865, cost 600,000 lives and the utter devastation of the South.

GOP Dinner Slated on May 8

"We are proud to be members of the Republican Party and our aims are to create renewed interest in, strengthen, and unify the party throughout the Township of Saugerties," said Charles Scate, general chairman for the newest social endeavor of the Town of Saugerties Republican Club Inc.

On Saturday, May 8, at the Flamingo Restaurant, 9W, the Town of Saugerties Republican Club is sponsoring a spring dinner-dance.

Committees have been working towards the ultimate goal of a successful evening. Committees announced are as follows:

Tickets, Frank Hommel and Frank Short; arrangements, Clifford Snyder and Michael Catalinotto; advertising, William Brown and Louis Francello; publicity, Sally Brinnier, and dais and seating, Guy Rider.

Scate said this spring dinner-dance is open to the public throughout Ulster County. Those interested in tickets may contact the ticket committee or any of the officers.

More details on the speaker and honored guests will be announced.

DAR Discusses Various Topics

The April meeting of the Saugerties Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution was held at the home of Mrs. Ross Snyder, Blue Mountain.

Devotions were led by Miss Carrie Hallenbeck and the President General's message was read by Mrs. James Slater. National Defense reports were read by Mrs. Robert Freer and Mrs. William Hand. Mrs. Freer read an article by Frederick Brown Harris, Chaplain of the U. S. Senate, entitled "O Say Can You See?" Mrs. Hand read a short report on the Peace on Earth Convocation held in New York in February, described as "A conference of well meaning but incredibly naive Americans."

Mrs. Freer reported on the activities of Citizens Committee for Decent Literature. This was followed by a serious discussion. The Fluoridation of water was also considered at length.

After the business session Mrs. William Russell, program chairman for the afternoon, talked on early beginnings of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, and its activities and accomplishments through the following years. Mrs. Carroll Nieffer followed with a talk on publicity and press relations and also "DAR in Action." Both Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Nieffer pointed out the really serious and valuable work done by the Society.

In the social hour following the program Mrs. Snyder was assisted by Miss Hallenbeck, Mrs. Hand and Mrs. Freer. The next meeting will be held on May 5 at the home of Mrs. Charles Abbott with Mrs. Daniel Lamouree, regent, as program chairman for the afternoon. Annual chapter reports will be given and election of officers will be held. This will be the final business meeting of the year.

About Town Folks

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fein of Finger Street Extension recently returned from a vacation spent at the Sherry Frontenac Hotel, Miami Beach, Fla. While there Mr. Fein supervised a shuffleboard tournament for the men. The tournament for the women was won by Mrs. Fein and another guest. The Feins also attended the National Liquor Dealers Convention at the Americana Hotel, Miami.

LWV Elect Officers

Saugerties League of Women Voters at a recent meeting elected officers. Mrs. Dexter O. Arnold, former president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs was guest speaker.

Mrs. John Oakley was elected president; Mrs. Melvin Lafferty, first vice president; Mrs. Michael Schovel, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Kraft, secretary; Mrs. Maurice Patenaude, treasurer. Directors named were Mrs. Louis Parisi, Mrs. Jerome Anderson, Mrs. Terrence Martin, Mrs. John Elliott, Mrs. Lawrence Daniels and Mrs. Harry Bunnack.

Veterinarian's Woes

KLAJICEVO, Yugoslavia (AP) — Veterinarian Milan Mandic is strictly displeased with pigs. He hung his coat on a pigpen fence here during an inspection. When he put it on afterward he discovered that one of the pigs had rooted out his pocketbook and eaten it — together with the 75,000 dinars ($100) that were inside.

Explorer of Depths To Check on Soviets

BY ROBERT D. CLARK
PORT ST. LUCIE, Fla. (AP)

A leading explorer of ocean depths said today he plans to ride along the bottom of the mighty Gulf Stream all the way from Florida to Newfoundland.

One object of his trip by research submarine is to see whether the Russians are up to anything on the Continental Shelf, the sloping, underwater land mass beyond the visible coast, Dr. Jacques Piccard told The Associated Press in an exclusive interview.

The Swiss and eight companions also will observe and film marine life and study currents at depths as great as 1,000 feet during their projected six weeks voyage.

Piccard, 44, plans to make the cruise in the Auguste Piccard, a craft named for his late father, or in a modification of the vessel.

He calls the slender, instrument-packed vessel a mesoscaaph. The 93-foot sub won't use its electric motors but instead will drift along in the one-to-five-knot northward flow of the Gulf Stream itself.

Oceanographers, several members of Congress and high Navy officials have been invited to Port St. Lucie for a coordinating conference Thursday. It may fix a target date for Piccard's probe of the Gulf Stream.

Preliminary work is expected to start this week, using two-man submarines built by newspaper publisher John H. Perry and a 100-foot surface research vessel, the Seadiver, owned by Edwin Link.

Piccard, consultant for an oceanographic filming concern, in 1960 set the world's record for an ocean descent — 35,800 feet into the Pacific's Mariana trench. The craft he made the drop in was used later by the Navy to locate wreckage of its crumpled submarine Thresher.

Link, inventor of the World War II Link pilot trainer, designed an inflatable chamber that was successfully tested off the Bahamas last year as an ocean-floor laboratory for free swimmers.

All three men said they were concerned over the possibility of deep sea developments in the "wet war" off United States shores.

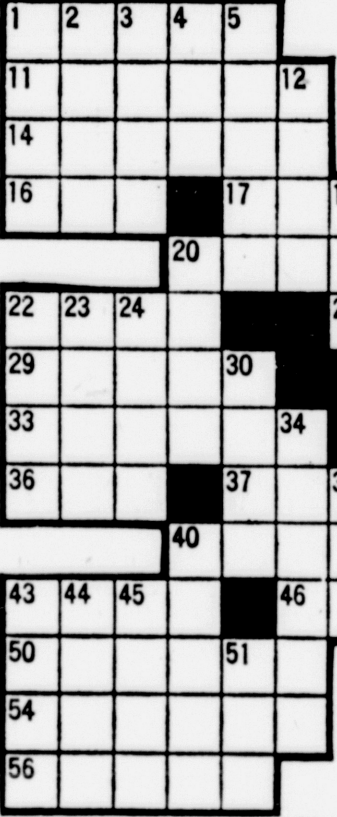

Link said he has seen ships from the Soviet Union only a mile off the Cape Kennedy moonport and rocket test complex.

each including three pieces. The first suite is made up of a "Nocturne" and "Interlude" and a "Dance Guerriere"; the second comprises "Daybreak," "Pantomime," and a "General Dance." It is these suites which will be conducted by the younger Montoux.

This performance will require an expansion of the Philharmonic to a 90 piece orchestra, with two harps, eight percussion instruments and four bassoons. Among the musicians added to the orchestra are Carol Vandervelt, flute; Kay Stonefelt, percussion; Phyllis Wright, harp; Joanne Wich, bassoon; Gene Young and William Wich, trumpets; Nell Hollander, cello; Dorothy Straub, viola; Phyllis M. Schanick, cello.

"Daphnis and Chloe" nearly an hour long, is seldom played in its entirety. Also on this program will be Hindemith's "Four Temperaments" for strings and piano, with Huguette Van Aekere playing the piano.

Reapportionment Is Subject Here for Kitchen Conference

Ulster County's Farm Bureau Kitchen Conference No. 2 was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Boice Jr., High Falls on April 10. Philip Davis spoke on the Supreme Court's decision concerning reapportionment for all the state's legislative branches. After general discussion on various ways of allowing each state to amend the present ruling, and on various ways of apportioning in the New York State legislative body, the group thought that the plan of apportionment used by the Federal government was perhaps the best solution for a state plan. This plan provides a system of checks and balances — apportionment by population in one branch of the legislature and apportionment by area in the other branch of the legislature. Whereas, total apportionment by population would concentrate all power in one largely populated area. This latter plan would give rise to much political maneuvering and would give little attention to the small voices of the less populated areas. Some of the members were unfamiliar with the possibilities offered by reapportionment in the state.

The lack of knowledge of the average voter concerning apportionment and amendments, which appear on the ballots at the polls, was brought to the attention of the group by Philip Davis. One basic reason formulated by the group's discussion was the highly technical language used in explaining proposed amendments. It was noted that being literate was not enough in deciphering wordy passages. A simplified English presentation might help preserve the interest of the readers. Apathy of the public to government problems might also relate to the lack of recognition by government agencies to the decisions made by the public. The case of the farmer's voting one way on farm government programs and the government ignoring the majority vote, was cited as a perfect example why people become apathetic towards government and apathetic towards programs, amendments, and proposals offered by government officials.

Mr. and Mrs. William Warren, High Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Davis, Kerhonkson; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Waruch, Kerhonkson; Mr. Kenneth Bell, Stone Ridge; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald M. DeWitt, Accord; and Mr. and Mrs. Myron Boice Jr., High Falls attended the meeting. The next discussion will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald DeWitt on May 8.

Bennett College, Yale Glee Club to Present Concert

The Bennett College Choir under the direction of Ruth Glazer, and the Yale Appollo Glee Club, directed by Charles Page, will present their third annual joint concert at Bennett College, Millbrook, next Saturday evening. The program, to which the public is invited, will take place in Mattison-Kennedy Auditorium beginning at 8:30 p. m.

The performance will open with six songs by Brahms, sung by the Bennett Choir, and will be followed by a group of sacred songs and spirituals by the young men from Yale. The concert will close with Schubert's Mass in G, performed by the combined choir and glee club.

Robert Allison, tenor, and Norman Hile, baritone, will be soloists in the Schubert Mass. With Glenn Holloway, baritone, Mr. Allison will also sing one of the spirituals. Ride the Chariot. Soloists for the other spirituals will be Thomas Lettters, baritone, for I Wonder and Andrew Fichter, baritone, for This Train. The Bennett Choir soloists will be Claire McCourt and Mary June Newman.

Eastern Star State Officers Make Official Visit to Greene-Ulster District in Durham

The Susquehanna Methodist Church in Durham was the setting for the official visit of Mrs. Dorothy B. Clark, Grand Matron; William D. Malbie, Grand Patron; and staff of Grand Officers of the Eastern Star of the State of New York to the Greene-Ulster District recently.

A capacity audience filled this historic church for the meeting which was preceded by a roast beef dinner at the Elm Rest House, East Durham.

Mrs. Evelyn H. Mackey, District Deputy Grand Matron of the Greene-Ulster District, presided and with Robert B. Greene, District Grand Lecturer, welcomed the state leaders to the Greene-Ulster District.

Among the 20 Grand Officers presented by the Grand Matron were Mrs. Elizabeth C. Davis, Associate Grand Matron; William F. Carey, Associate Grand Patron; Mrs. Lynn R. Thide, Grand Conductress; Mrs. Rhea W. LaVeck, Associate Grand Lecturer; Mrs. Virginia K. George, Commissioner of Appeals; Mrs. Viola B. Kingston, Past Grand Matron and present member of the by-laws committee; and Ellwood V. Franks, Past Grand Patron and present member of the board of trustees.

The Grand Officers spoke of the project of the year, explaining the five points of service covered: The Eastern Star Home and Infirmary at Oriskany, the Permanent Endowment Fund, Emergency Relief and General Welfare, the Social Service Fund, and the Rehabilitation of Hospitalized and Disabled Veterans. The Grand Leaders urged the combined efforts of all members in support of the project in order to meet the increase in funds necessary for its continuation.

Presentation of gifts to the Grand Officers was made by the line officers of the Greene-Ulster District. Participating were: Mrs. Dorothy Buscher, Radcliffe, John South, Mrs. Elinore Seymour, Mrs. Alice Erb, Donald Dingee, Cornelius Irwin, Mrs. Ruth Cross, Mrs. Florence Torgian, Mrs. Shirley Van Valkenburgh, Mrs. Dorothy Billouist, Mrs. Connie Carter, Mrs. Helen Piwowarski, Charles Maxfield and Mrs. Veronica Scheuer. A gift from the Matrons and Patrons of the Greene-Ulster District for the Permanent Endowment Fund was presented to the Grand Patron Howard Setterlund.

The District Grand Lecturer reported that, to date, 169 garnet ties had been sold and over $800 donated for the project by the members of the district.

Members of the Alice M. Scardfield Constellation of Junior Stars No. 25 and members of the Marion Constellation of Junior Stars No. 57, escorted by members of Colonial Chapter, Order of DeMolay, entertained with several musical selections. Miss Carol Haines and Miss Irene Powell, Exalted Stars of Light and Love in their respective Constellations, presented gifts to the Grand Matron. The Grand Matron expressed her thanks and pleasure in having these young people participate in the program and presented each a Carnation symbol of the year. The DeMolay members were given garnet ties.

Republican Women To Hear Address on Narcotic Addiction

The Ulster County Women's Republican Club will hold its business meeting on Thursday, April 22, at 8 p. m., at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The guest speaker will be Thomas F. Malone, county investigator for the Ulster County Sheriff's Department. Mr. Malone will talk on Narcotic Addiction in Ulster County, a subject he has great knowledge on in his work as county investigator.

Mr. Malone was appointed deputy sheriff in 1948 and became county investigator in 1963. He is a member of the International Narcotic Enforcement Officers Association, the International Association for Identification and the National Sheriff's Association.

The Ulster County committee and their spouses have been invited to be special guests of the club at this meeting.

There will be a social hour after the meeting.

Town of Ulster GOP Spring Dance Is Being Planned

Progress reports for the May 8 spring dance of the Town of Ulster Republican Club were given during a meeting of the committee workers this week, Ralph Hayner, chairman, reported today.

The dance is scheduled for Ang-El's Restaurant, East Chester Street Bypass, from 9 p. m. until 2.

Miss Margaret Burger, ticket chairman, said that the following

ing have tickets for the May 8 dance:

Mrs. Harold Atkins, Salvatore Castiglione, Harold Felton, Norman Cautitz, Donald Crescino, Joseph Corcoran, Chester Duffley, Nicholas Valenza, Mrs. Joseph Clausi, Mrs. Frank Rittie, Mrs. Albert Wilmoth, Jason Ward, James Costello and Mrs. Warren Mann.

Others reporting progress were:

Mrs. Ralph Hayner, chairman of decorations, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Atkins; Timothy Trojan, Joseph Lohmaier and Nicholas Marino, dance journal.

President Jack Smith is co-ordinator of all plans for the annual event to which the public is invited.

Awarded Fellowship

Kenneth A. Charon, procurement manager at the IBM Systems Manufacturing Division plant in Kingston, has been awarded an Alfred P. Sloan Fellowship at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for 1965-1966.

Mr. Charon, who resides at 11 White Oaks Drive, Hyde Park, was one of 45 Alfred P. Sloan Fellowship winners announced today by Dean Howard W. Johnson of the Alfred P. Sloan School of Management.

These fellowships, for a full year for education in management at M.I.T., leading to a master of science degree, were granted to outstanding young business and government executives both in the United States and abroad. The Fellows will begin their intensive year of study in management in June.

Sloan Fellowships for participation in this program are considered among the highest honors which can come to young men during their management careers. The Fellows, in their mid-30's, were carefully selected by M.I.T. from a group of exceptionally able executives whose organizations nominated them for admission to the program to accelerate their development into positions of major executive responsibilities for the future.

The Sloan Fellows will move with their families to the Cambridge area in June, to spend twelve months at M.I.T., studying in depth the fundamentals that underlie sound management decisions and the changes in management and technology. Many will complete M.I.T.'s requirements for the degree of master of science in industrial management.

"The men designated as next year's Sloan Fellows are not only among the most promising of our country's young executives," Dr. Peter P. Gil, director of executive development programs, said, "they reflect the increasing interest in providing management resources for the future. Chosen early in their industrial careers, they have 25 to 30 years of service ahead of them."

The year of study at M.I.T. will consist of a program of special courses with senior members of the M.I.T. faculty, supplemented by a program of field visits and management seminars in which the Sloan Fellows have an opportunity to meet outstanding leaders in business and government, here and abroad.

The program at M.I.T. is made possible by grants of the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation, Inc. Three of the fellowships went to young business executives from South America as part of a program to help develop managerial resources in that continent.

Mr. Charon joined IBM in 1956 as an expediter in the purchasing department at the Poughkeepsie plant. He was named assistant buyer, corporate purchasing, later that year and buyer the following year.

In 1959, he became corporate

purchasing administrator. Two years later, he was named corporate purchasing representative. Early in 1962, he was named corporate commodity manager, power units.

Mr. Charon has been procurement manager at the Kingston plant since May 1962.

A graduate of New York University with a bachelor of arts degree in economics and marketing, Mr. Charon is a member of Vassar Brothers Hospital Association.

Mr. Charon and his wife Carol are parents of three children, Kenneth, Raymond and Carolyn.

THE BRIDE'S PARENTS ARE DIVORCED

Q: I have been divorced for eight years and have one daughter who lives with me. She is going to be married shortly and I will be paying the entire cost of the wedding. My former wife has remarried but I have not. I would like to know what is proper protocol to follow in this situation. Does the name of my ex-wife appear on the invitations? Does she stand in the receiving line? I want everything to be in good taste. My feelings toward my ex-wife are very different but I still don't want to do anything to deliberately hurt or embarrass her. I would appreciate your answering these questions for me.

A: As your daughter lives with you and you are giving her wedding, the invitations would go out with your name alone. At the reception you, as host, receive the guests. Your ex-wife does not receive with you but is merely present as a guest.

Extra Politeness

Q: I was sent to our branch office in another city for several days. While there, I was invited to dinner at the houses of two of the employees from that office. Do's etiquette require that I write thank-you notes to these hostesses now that I've returned home?

A: Your thanks to them for having invited you when you left their houses, is all that is required. However, writing thank-you notes now that you have returned home would be an extra gesture of politeness.

Thanking Boy For a Dance

Q: I always say "thank you" to a boy after having danced with him. My girl friend says it is not the girl's place to say "thank you" as she is doing him the favor by dancing with him and he should be the one to thank her. May I please have your opinion?

A: After having finished a dance, he says "thank you" to her and she replies by saying, "thank you," or makes some appreciative remark such as having enjoyed the dance.

Angels' Rookie Just Misses No-Hit Effort

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Rudy May, who bounced around between seasons more than one of Dean Chance's billiard balls, has lost his opportunity to equal a 73-year-old record because of one well-placed shot.

May, Los Angeles Angel left-hander, allowed Detroit only one hit in nine innings Sunday in his first major league pitching appearance.

Bob Lee replaced the tiring May at the start of the 10th.

Charlie Jones of Cincinnati is the only pitcher ever to hurl a no-hitter in his first appearance in the majors, having accomplished the feat in a 7-1 victory over Pittsburgh Oct. 15, 1892.

Desperate Dive

May was on his way toward becoming the first modern Charlie Jones when he ran into Jake Wood with one out in the eighth inning. Wood, batting for rookie Ray Oyler, lined a shot to center field.

Angel center-fielder Jose Cardenal dived for the ball, but it fell several feet in front of him and bounced into left-center for a double. On the next play, pinch-hitter George Thomas hit a grounder through second baseman Bobby Knoop's legs for an error and the tying run.

The Angels were the third team in less than two months to own May. The Chicago White Sox sent him to Philadelphia last Oct. 15, and the Phillies, in turn, threw him into the Dec. 4 trade that broke up the pool-playing combination of Chance and Bo Belinsky.

May, incidentally, received his first start a day early when Chance developed a blister on his pitching hand.

"I was really worried about starting," May said after the game, "because I didn't really think I was ready. I hadn't pitched anything but batting practice in the past two weeks. I sort of surprised myself out there."

The Tigers broke up the Angel game with three runs in the 13th. Willie Horton racing home with the tie-breaker on catcher Bob Rodgers' passed ball.

Mantle Homers

Mickey Mantle slammed a two-run homer and a double in the Yankees' victory but suffered a bruised right knee sliding into second base in the seventh. The injury, however, was not reported as serious. Jim Gentile socked a three-run homer for Kansas City.

Tony Conigliaro and Bob Tillman each drove in three runs for Boston. Conigliaro finished with four hits, including a two-run homer. Boog Powell connected with two on for Baltimore.

Minnesota defeated Cleveland behind Jimmie Hall's two-run homer in the fourth and clutch relief pitching by Dave Boswell and Al Worthington. Boswell pitched out of trouble in the fourth and Worthington in the seventh.

Winners Score In Two Innings To Clinch Tilt

A four-run burst in the third inning and three more in the sixth carried Plattsburgh State to a 7-1 win over State University Saturday at the New Paltz diamond.

In losing their first game of the season after posting an opening victory, the Hawks of Al Miller managed only five safeties off the slants of Bob Stone, who walked five and struck out eight.

Starter Jeff Bongard was clipped in the third frame and was derailed after the visitors had scored four times. Three hits, a trio of walks and three balks contributed to the uprising.

Richie Lotze came in with one out in the fourth and gave up three unearned runs in the sixth. He allowed only one hit and two walks while fanning seven during his excellent relief job.

Third baseman Gary Maasch collected a double for New Paltz while Stone doubled and Ed Lorgan tripled for the winners.

Rodriguez's 64 Earns 2nd Place Tie at Houston

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Juan (Chi) Rodriguez saw his par-breaking effort to catch Bobby Nichols and win $12,000 in the $75,000 Houston Golf Classic fall short by one stroke, but the unpredictable Puerto Rican believes his comeback is well under way.

Nichols won his second classic in four years Sunday, but the gallery of 25,000 gave its loudest cheers and applause to Rodriguez and his final-round seven-under-par 64.

Rodriguez had decided a 63 would overcome a seven-stroke advantage held by Nichols, the 1964 PGA champion.

The Puerto Rican cast aside a brace that had been protecting a badly injured left thumb and cut loose with the tournament's best round over the 7,233-yard par 71 Sharpstown Country Club course.

Yancy Fades

Nichols started the round in a tie with Bert Yancey and quickly jumped to a four-stroke lead. The margin dwindled under pressure from Rodriguez and Australia's Bruce Devlin to one stroke before he closed out with a 70 for a 72-hole 273 — 11 under par.

In boosting his PGA money for the year to $20,425, Nichols placed his 70 beside earlier rounds of 67, 69 and 67.

Rodriguez was tied for 67th place after Thursday's opening round 73, but his 69-68-74 comeback moved him into a tie at 274 with Devlin for the runner-up spot, worth $5,600 to each.

While keeping his injured thumb in a brace, Rodriguez had won only $915 last year, although he was the PGA tour's ninth-leading winner in 1964 with $48,338.

Yancey, the 27-year-old Philadelphia pro who had or shared the lead the first three rounds, jumped to a final round 74 for a fourth-place tie at 277 with Don January of Dallas. Each won $3,800.

Chualo Meets Nielsen Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

George Chualo, whose hopes of gaining a heavyweight title bout received a setback in February at the hands of former champ, Floyd Patterson, starts on the way back tonight.

The Canadian heavy champ is scheduled to meet Omaha's veteran Bill Nielsen in Toronto in a 10-round, Chunky George is the 3-1 favorite in his home town.

In another heavyweight bout on this week's national card Big Jim Beattie of St. Paul is paired against Alonzo Johnson of Rankin, Pa. at Boston Friday night.

That same night across the Atlantic in Rome, Italy, Pone Kingpet of Thailand defends his world flyweight title against the Italian challenger, Salvatore Burrini.

It will be Pone's first fight since he regained the crown from Japan's Hiroyuki Ebihara in January a year ago.

Oscar Bonavena didn't let a little thing like an auto accident interfere in his fight with Rene Sosa at Mar Del Plata last Saturday night.

He scored a two round kayo despite the fact that on Thursday night his Flat-110 was wrecked when it skidded on a wet road, overturned and rolled down an embankment. Bonavena was at the wheel, but escaped injury.

In his last bout in the United States earlier this year the Argentine heavyweight hopeful

Celts' 143 New High In Playoff

BOSTON (AP) — "K.C. Jones played a whale of a game. They talk about Bill Russell and Wilt Chamberlain as the great ones, but he belongs in that class."

The tribute to his tormentor was paid by Los Angeles scoring ace Jerry West after Boston romped to a record 142-110 victory over the Lakers Sunday in the opener of the National Basketball Association playoff finals.

The best-of-7 series continues tonight at Boston Garden before the teams head for Los Angeles.

Neither coach was satisfied with the first game. The Lakers, already operating minus Elgin Baylor and with Dick Barnett hurting, apparently have lost Jim King for game No. 2 due to an ankle injury.

"Now we're one more man short," said Laker Coach Fred Schaus.

Boston's Red Auerbach gave his players tongue-lashing lectures on the dangers of overconfidence both before and after the victory.

Jones Key Man

K.C. Jones was the one positive factor hailed on all sides.

The Boston playmaker-succesor to Bob Cousy, rated the best defensive backcourt man anywhere, was the chief reason West got only six points in the first half as the Celtics took a 64-49 bulge. West, who averaged 46.3 points in the Western Division playoffs, wound up with 26.

K.C. Jones got 11 of his 17 points, four of his assists, three steals, an interception and permitted West only two points in the first quarter as Boston took command 32-23.

"I've always had the highest regard for K.C.," said Schaus. "Next to Russell, I've always felt he is the most valuable player for Boston. Like Russell, nobody can replace him."

Sam Jones scored 25 points and John Havlicek 22 for Boston.

Belgian Favored To Win Marathon

BOSTON (AP) — Belgium's Aurele Vandendriessche — unshaken by snow, cold and a record field of 444 entries — seeks a third consecutive Boston AA Marathon victory today concerned only about a sore right heel.

If the trade school study-hall master and physical education instructor from Anzegem wins the 26-mile, 385-yard grand from Hopkinton to Boston's Back Bay, he may rate his tribulations trying to reach here much tougher than the race.

A surprise snowfall began in Boston shortly after Vandendriessche arrived and went promptly to bed. He had spent a sleepless Saturday night because a Brussels airport strike forced him to take a train to Amsterdam where he stood in the rain awaiting a flight to London.

"I feel much better than last year," said the ever-smiling Belgian despite his trials. Through an interpreter he added he feared no one in the race but said the runners to beat were the five Japanese.

According to secretary Ed Smith, Part II of the 1965 examination will be given and other important matters will be discussed.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

A recent episode in a schoolboy bowling tournament reveals the dangerously thin ice on which some of our high school and college athletes are treading these days.

The episode was quietly buried in deference to the young men involved, their families and the school. The threat to their eligibility for high school, college, amateur and Olympic athletics was purely academic.

The story does not end there. Judging by the arrogant reaction among some of the youngsters it may have been a mistake.

To the young man who scornfully proclaimed he saw no reason to be concerned with such a "silly rule," let us say this: no amount of false bravado, bluster or contempt for the rules of eligibility will conceal the fact these youngsters knowingly flaunted the rule book. The offended may not be so charitable the next time around.

AN UNCOMPLICATED RULE:

The New York State rule for school eligibility is simple: All contestants must be amateurs. An amateur is one who has never used or is not now using his athletic skill for gain.

The rules of the American Junior Bowling Congress, with which many high school bowlers are affiliated, are much more specific.

The AJBC says that no member will bowl, substitute, or pace in any league or tournament where money or merchandise prizes are listed as awards. Whether or not the youngsters pay into a prize fund is immaterial. They cannot bowl in such a league or tournament and then refuse to accept their portion of the winnings. This is as much an infraction of the rule as accepting the money or merchandise award. The last two sentences may come as a shock to some youngsters who seem to think they can bowl in a money league, refuse any prizes and still retain their amateur status. It just doesn't work that way.

ONE-YEAR SUSPENSION:

The AJBC stipulates a one-year suspension from the last date of infraction of its eligibility rule. Spelled out in detail, the New York State Public High School Association rule is much similar to that of AJBC. They do not allow boys and girls to participate for money, merchandise or scholarship awards. If they participate for such prizes, they place in jeopardy their high school athletic eligibility.

Under the rules of the NYSHSAA, the youngster can be reinstated by the Association upon application, after a period of one year when no violation occurs. This rule means that an infraction of the rule in bowling activities jeopardizes their athletic eligibility in all sports.

GUILT BY ASSOCIATION:

These rules are designed to protect the athletic eligibility of youngsters in high school and in college. It is also to protect their amateur status. The rule of the Amateur Athletic Union, governing body of amateur athletics, is that no amateurs can compete with professionals because by doing so they make themselves professionals.

Some may think these rules are too harsh and rigid. Perhaps they are, but they are still in the book. We could forgive the recent episode as youthful indiscretion, but under the circumstances it is best that the facts of amateur sports life can be revealed to the young men.

And finally, bowing before the complicated sport that it is, we suggest the coaches screen their standard bearers a little closer the next time around.

In his last bout in the United States earlier this year the Argentine heavyweight hopeful was beaten by Zora Polley of Chandler, Ariz.

Jesus Pimentel, a Mexican citizen who fights out of Los Angeles, tries for his sixth straight knockout tonight against Fernando Sota in Oakland, Calif.

Sota, a native of Portugal, hasn't fought since losing to Zorito Valdez in Sacramento last June.

Celts' 143 New High In Playoff

BOSTON (AP) — "K.C. Jones played a whale of a game. They talk about Bill Russell and Wilt Chamberlain as the great ones, but he belongs in that class."

The tribute to his tormentor was paid by Los Angeles scoring ace Jerry West after Boston romped to a record 142-110 victory over the Lakers Sunday in the opener of the National Basketball Association playoff finals.

The best-of-7 series continues tonight at Boston Garden before the teams head for Los Angeles.

Neither coach was satisfied with the first game. The Lakers, already operating minus Elgin Baylor and with Dick Barnett hurting, apparently have lost Jim King for game No. 2 due to an ankle injury.

"Now we're one more man short," said Laker Coach Fred Schaus.

Boston's Red Auerbach gave his players tongue-lashing lectures on the dangers of overconfidence both before and after the victory.

Jones Key Man

K.C. Jones was the one positive factor hailed on all sides.

The Boston playmaker-succesor to Bob Cousy, rated the best defensive backcourt man anywhere, was the chief reason West got only six points in the first half as the Celtics took a 64-49 bulge. West, who averaged 46.3 points in the Western Division playoffs, wound up with 26.

K.C. Jones got 11 of his 17 points, four of his assists, three steals, an interception and permitted West only two points in the first quarter as Boston took command 32-23.

"I've always had the highest regard for K.C.," said Schaus. "Next to Russell, I've always felt he is the most valuable player for Boston. Like Russell, nobody can replace him."

Sam Jones scored 25 points and John Havlicek 22 for Boston.

Belgian Favored To Win Marathon

BOSTON (AP) — Belgium's Aurele Vandendriessche — unshaken by snow, cold and a record field of 44 entries — seeks a third consecutive Boston AA Marathon victory today concerned only about a sore right heel.

If the trade school study-hall master and physical education instructor from Anzegem wins the 26-mile, 385-yard grand from Hopkinton to Boston's Back Bay, he may rate his tribulations trying to reach here much tougher than the race.

A surprise snowfall began in Boston shortly after Vandendriessche arrived and went promptly to bed. He had spent a sleepless Saturday night because a Brussels airport strike forced him to take a train to Amsterdam where he stood in the rain awaiting a flight to London.

"I feel much better than last year," said the ever-smiling Belgian despite his trials. Through an interpreter he added he feared no one in the race but said the runners to beat were the five Japanese.

Kingston Umpires Meet Tonight at 7

Members of the Kingston Baseball Umpires Assn. will meet tonight 7 p. m. at the Recreation Center, 97 Broadway.

According to secretary Ed Smith, Part II of the 1965 examination will be given and other important matters will be discussed.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

A recent episode in a schoolboy bowling tournament reveals the dangerously thin ice on which some of our high school and college athletes are treading these days.

The episode was quietly buried in deference to the young men involved, their families and the school. The threat to their eligibility for high school, college, amateur and Olympic athletics was purely academic.

The story does not end there. Judging by the arrogant reaction among some of the youngsters it may have been a mistake.

To the young man who scornfully proclaimed he saw no reason to be concerned with such a "silly rule," let us say this: no amount of false bravado, bluster or contempt for the rules of eligibility will conceal the fact these youngsters knowingly flouted the rule book. The offended may not be so charitable the next time around.

AN UNCOMPLICATED RULE:

The New York State rule for school eligibility is simple: All contestants must be amateurs. An amateur is one who has never used or is not now using his athletic skill for gain.

The rules of the American Junior Bowling Congress, with which many high school bowlers are affiliated, are much more specific.

The AJBC says that no member will bowl, substitute, or pace in any league or tournament where money or merchandise prizes are listed as awards. Whether or not the youngsters pay into a prize fund is immaterial. They cannot bowl in such a league or tournament and then refuse to accept their portion of the winnings. This is as much an infraction of the rule as accepting the money or merchandise award. The last two sentences may come as a shock to some youngsters who seem to think they can bowl in a money league, refuse any prizes and still retain their amateur status. It just doesn't work that way.

ONE-YEAR SUSPENSION:

The AJBC stipulates a one-year suspension from the last date of infraction of its eligibility rule. Spelled out in detail, the New York State Public High School Association rule is much similar to that of AJBC. They do not allow boys and girls to participate for money, merchandise or scholarship awards. If they participate for such prizes, they place in jeopardy their high school athletic eligibility.

Under the rules of the NYSHSAA, the youngster can be reinstated by the Association upon application, after a period of one year when no violation occurs. This rule means that an infraction of the rule in bowling activities jeopardizes their athletic eligibility in all sports.

GUILT BY ASSOCIATION:

These rules are designed to protect the athletic eligibility of youngsters in high school and in college. It is also to protect their amateur status. The rule of the Amateur Athletic Union, governing body of amateur athletics, is that no amateurs can compete with professionals because by doing so they make themselves professionals.

Some may think these rules are too harsh and rigid. Perhaps they are, but they are still in the book. We could forgive the recent episode as youthful indiscretion, but under the circumstances it is best that the facts of amateur sports life can be revealed to the young men.

And finally, bowling being the complicated sport that it is, we suggest the coaches screen their standard bearers a little closer the next time around.

Koufax Pitches LA To 6-2 Win in Debut

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodgers' arthritic left-hander, learns today whether he's a pitcher or a patient.

Temporarily labeled for use only on Sundays, Koufax went to work for the first time this season against Philadelphia and admittedly struggled with his control despite allowing only five hits in a 6-2 victory over the Phillies and Bo Belinsky.

The 29-year-old strikeout artist fanned seven but walked five men — an unusually high figure for him — and consistently ran out the count on many batters. Still, Koufax was satisfied with his performance.

Timing Was Off

"I was wild, but I've pitched only three innings since March 30," Koufax explained after Sunday's game. "I had no pain — no hitch in my arm. But my timing wasn't exactly right. I didn't have that good rhythm. I'll get it back with work."

Does that make Koufax a full time pitcher or a part time patient?

"If the elbow doesn't stiffen I should be able to make my next start in rotation, Friday," he said, pointing out he would have to wait before learning how his arm reacts to the strain of a nine-inning workout.

It was left to two relievers to turn in the day's top pitching performances — Bill McCool striking out all three batters he faced to preserve Cincinnati's 2-1 victory over St. Louis and Billy O'Dell hurling hitless ball for the final four innings in Milwaukee's 9-6 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Elsewhere, Gary Kroll's fourth-inning pitch in a rain-shortened second game gave the New York Mets a 7-1 victory over San Francisco after the Giants had started the doubleheader with a 4-1 victory. Houston defeated Pittsburgh 3-1 before the Pirates took the nightcap 5-4.

An infield single by Tommy Davis that Bo Belinsky couldn't field opened the door for the Dodgers. John Roseboro followed with a single and Jim LeFebvre scored both with a triple. Ron Fairly's sacrifice fly brought in the final run of the inning.

That was enough for Koufax, who gave up the Philadelphia runs on a homer by Dick Stuart.

McCool came on for the Reds in the ninth inning with the bases loaded and preserved the victory for Sammy Ellis by proceeding to strike out the heart of the Cardinals' batting order — Bill White, Ken Boyer and Dick Groat.

Pete Rose and Frank Robinson each stroked three hits for Cincinnati, including a homer off Curt Simmons.

Godwin Pigeon Tops Ace Field

A pigeon owned by John Godwin of Kingston was clocked at 45 miles per hour to win first place in competition against more than 150 racing birds in the 150-mile race from Deep River, N. J. to Kingston Sunday.

Twenty member clubs of the Kingston-Clster Racing Pigeon Club were represented in the wing of 150 birds.

Trailing the Godwin pigeon in order were birds owned by: 2. Tony Lanzaroni, Highland; 3. Charles Freer, Kingston; 4. Fred Polizzi, Mount Marion; 5. R. Theil, Bloomington.

The next race is scheduled Sunday, April 25, from Washington, D. C.

Atlanta Leading International

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Balance was supposed to be the key word when the International League opened, and Atlanta is showing the rest of the league what it can do with its mixture of baseball veterans and aspiring rookies.

The combination paid off Sunday when 21-year-old rookie Bill Robinson smashed Rochester pitching for five hits in nine trips to the plate to boost Atlanta to 3-2 and 5-4 victories over Rochester in a doubleheader.

Adding lustre to Robinson's performance were veterans Frank Funk, Gene Stephens and Bubba Phillips.

Funk, facing only three over the minimum of 27 batters in his first game pitching stint, set the Red Wings down on four hits. Stephens and Phillips pounded out three hits each.

In other action, Buffalo downed Columbus 8-2 for its first victory of the season but dropped the second game to the Jets 3-2; Syracuse beat Jacksonville 8-3, and Toronto whipped Toledo 6-1.

The doubleheader victory gave Atlanta sole possession of first place, a half-game ahead of Syracuse, which is undefeated in two games.

Robinson's batting spurge gives him six hits in 13 at bats for the season.

Stephens doubled in a run to break a 2-2 deadlock in the ninth inning to give the Crackers' first victory. Atlanta then rattled Red Wing pitchers Howard Stethers and Ken Hunt for five hits and three runs in the sixth inning of the second contest to pile up the winning 5-4 margin.

Buffalo rallied for five runs in the sixth inning to sew up their first victory of the year, overcoming a 2-1 Columbus lead.

Jack Damaska gave the Jets the second game with a run-scoring double in the ninth inning which broke a 2-2 deadlock.

Stock Car Racing Postponed at Victory

A heavy rainfall just before the first race was to get underway forced cancellation of the stock car racing Saturday at Victory Speedway in Middletown.

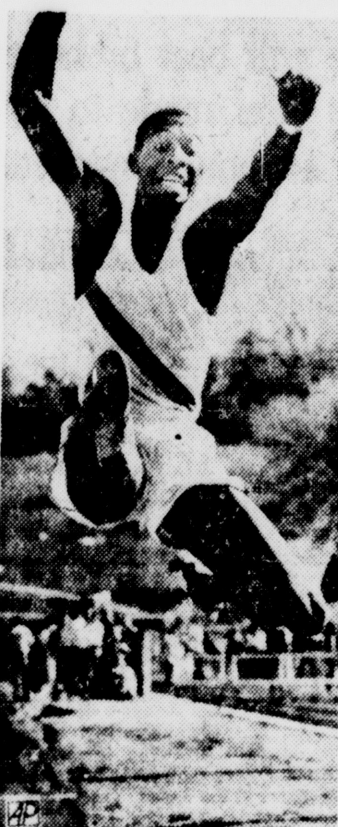

Racing will continue this Saturday at the Speedway, which has also carded a combination show on May 22 when the ARDC midlets will be on hand.

BOWLING

Area Keglers Shuffle Standings in Colonial

Three Kingston area teams moved into the top ten of the first annual Colonial City Handicap Classic at Sangi's Bowlero, but Lenox House of Pittsfield, Mass., held firm in first place with a 3294 gross and 3054 net.

Reynolds Studio of Kingston is now third with a 3127 gross; Masons, Inc., of Saugerties, 8th with 3088 and Bonnie's Tavern, Kingston, 10th with 3070.

SETS RECORD—New Mexico's Clarence Robinson strains on a 26-foot, 2½-inch leap in broad jump to set a new Kansas Relays record at Lawrence, Kas., April 16. He bettered the old record for the meet by 8½ inches. (AP Wirephoto)

Ebel's Market of Glasco held second place with 3220.

Suskie Rolls 596

Pete Suskie's 596 paced Reynolds to 2722 net to go with 495 handicap. Mason's had 2557 in the wood and 531 handicap, as Pete Fondino led with 537.

Joe Roche's 568 topped Bonnie's Tavern 2536 in the wood, with 534 handicap.

GLORIA EMASHOWSKI led the Woodstock Women's Major

3 Brothers Sweeps Schovel Tree Team

Three Brothers Egg Farm dealt Schovel Tree Service hopes of winning a second straight Mid Hudson Major League title a severe jolt by sweeping the defending champions Friday at the Campi-Tarsio Lanes.

While Schovel was struggling with only 2814, the Egg Farm five of Milt Tsitsera tallied 2996 to knock Schovel out of the top spot.

Tompkins and Baxter Insurance went three to take a one-game lead with five weeks left.

Tom Carlino banged 627, Vince Carpio 624 and Harold Baker 608 for Three Brothers. Only a 609 by Larry Petersen was respectable for the losers.

Top individual effort for the evening was a 760 by Jim Torelli of Vollar Sales. He walloped 258, 277 and 225. Greg Voci of the same team had a 277 single and Vollar banged 1057, 1074 and 1056 for 3187. Jack Houghtaling of Schoenta's opened with nine straight strikes in his final game and finished with 276 while pacing Schoenta's Hotel to a 1121 solo.

With five weeks left, Tompkins and Baxter has a 55-38 record while Schovel is second at 54-39. Vollar Sales shows a 52-41 mark and Modern Vending is also in the race with 50½-42½. Three Brothers is seventh at 48-45 and Schoenta's moved up a notch to 12th with a 42-51 record.

Houghtaling paced the 600 shooters with 215, 205 and his 276 for 696.

Others, Joe Shier 672, Greg Voci 674, Jim Lawson 672, Larry Demitas 664, Mike Ruggerio 656, Lou Campi Sr. 652, Al P. Montreal Has Stanley Cup Lead

MONTREAL (AP) — Billy Reay, coach of the Chicago Black Hawks, is an exception to the rule in National Hockey League circles.

While baseball managers and football coaches have a habit of playing musical chairs by going from one team to another, an unsuccessful hockey coach seldom gets a second chance.

Reay did get a second chance, and he's making the most of it. Reay's 1963-64 team missed the NHL championship by one point and then failed in the playoffs.

This year the Hawks finished third after leading the league much of the season. But the Hawks' management showed confidence in Reay. They signed him to another contract in the middle of this year's semifinal series after the Hawks had fallen behind Detroit by losing the first two games.

That the Hawks were able to overcome Detroit's lead was largely because of Reay's patience and confidence.

The Hawks eliminated the Wings 4 games to 3 in the semifinals.

Once again the Hawks have fallen behind. They lost the opener of their best-of-7 championship series to Montreal Saturday night.

"They did an excellent job and played well," said Reay even though the Hawks were without the services of Pierre Pilote and Kenny Wharram, both of whom were injured in the final game against Detroit.

"If we continue to play this well, we'll win the series," he said.

The series continues in Montreal Tuesday night and then the scene shifts to Chicago for games Thursday and Sunday nights.

Koufax Pitches LA To 6-2 Win in Debut

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodgers' arthritic left-hander, learns today whether he's a pitcher or a patient.

Temporarily labeled for use only on Sundays, Koufax went to work for the first time this season against Philadelphia and admittedly struggled with his control despite allowing only five hits in a 6-2 victory over the Phillies and Bo Belinsky.

The 29-year-old strikeout artist fanned seven but walked five men — an unusually high figure for him — and consistently ran out the count on many batters. Still, Koufax was satisfied with his performance.

Timing Was Off
"I was wild, but I've pitched only three innings since March 30," Koufax explained after Sunday's game. "I had no pain — no hitch in my arm. But my timing wasn't exactly right. I didn't have that good rhythm. I'll get it back with work."

Does that make Koufax a full time pitcher or a part time patient?

"If the elbow doesn't stiffen I should be able to make my next start in rotation, Friday," he said, pointing out he would have to wait before learning how his arm reacts to the strain of a nine-inning workout.

It was left to two relievers to turn in the day's top pitching performances. Bill McCool struck out all three batters he faced to preserve Cincinnati's 8-2 victory over St. Louis and Billy O'Dell hurling hitless ball for the final four innings in Milwaukee's 9-6 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Elsewhere, Gary Kroll's four-hit pitching in a rain-shortened second game gave the New York Mets a 7-1 victory over San Francisco after the Giants had started the doubleheader with a 4-1 victory. Houston defeated Pittsburgh 3-1 before the Pirates took the nightcap 5-4.

An infield single by Tommy Davis that Bo Belinsky couldn't field opened the door for the Dodgers. John Roseboro followed with a single and Jim LeFebvre scored both with a triple. Ron Fairly's sacrifice fly brought in the final run of the inning.

That was enough for Koufax, who gave up the Philadelphia runs on a homer by Dick Stuart.

McCool came on for the Reds in the ninth inning with the bases loaded and preserved the victory for Sammy Ellis by proceeding to strike out the heart of the Cardinals' batting order. Bill White, Ken Boyer and Dick Groat.

Pete Rose and Frank Robinson each stroked three hits for Cincinnati, including a homer off Curt Simmons.

Retires 1st Straight
O'Dell, acquired from San Francisco, took over for the Braves in the sixth and retired all 12 batters he faced after Milwaukee had pulled ahead behind the heavy hitting of Ed Mathews and Denny Menke. Each counted a homer among his three hits.

Jesus Alou stroked three hits for the Giants and figured in three runs in the opener. Jack Sanford pitched the first six innings for San Francisco and allowed only four hits.

Kroll, posting his first major league victory, also started the Mets' winning four-run rally in the 6½-inning nightcap with a single in the fifth inning. He scored the tie-breaking run on Ed Kranepool's double.

John Bateman drove in three runs with a pair of homers in support of Bob Bruce's six-hit pitching as the Astros took the opener from the Pirates.

Pittsburgh came back to win the nightcap, breaking a 4-4 tie in the eighth inning on a walk. Joe Morgan's throwing error and a single by Bob Bailey. Jim Wynn drove in three Houston runs with three hits.

Godwin Pigeon Tops Ace Field

A pigeon owned by John Godwin of Kingston was clocked at 45 miles per hour to win first place in competition against more than 150 racing birds in the 150-mile race from Deep River, N. J. to Kingston Sunday.

Twenty member clubs of the Kingston-Ulster Racing Pigeon Club were represented in the wing of 150 birds.

Trailing the Godwin pigeon in order were birds owned by: 2. Tony Lanzaroni, Highland; 3. Charles Freer, Kingston; 4. Fred Polizzi, Mount Marion; 5. R. Theil, Bloomington.

The International Federation of American Homing Pigeons will award diplomas to the winners in the near future.

The next race is scheduled Sunday, April 25, from Washington, D. C.

Atlanta Leading International

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Balance was supposed to be the key word when the International League opened, and Atlanta is showing the rest of the league what it can do with its mixture of baseball veterans and aspiring rookies.

The combination paid off Sunday when 21-year-old rookie Bill Robinson smashed Rochester pitching for five hits in nine trips to the plate to boost Atlanta to 3-2 and 5-4 victories over Rochester in a doubleheader.

Adding lustre to Robinson's performance were veterans Frank Funk, Gene Stephens and Bubba Phillips.

Funk, facing only three over the minimum of 27 batters in his first game pitching stint, set the Red Wings down on four hits. Stephens and Phillips pounded out three hits each.

In other action, Buffalo downed Columbus 8-2 for its first victory of the season but dropped the second game to the Jets 5-2; Syracuse beat Jacksonville 8-3, and Toronto whipped Toledo 6-1.

The doubleheader victory gave Atlanta sole possession of first place, a half-game ahead of Syracuse, which is undefeated in two games.

Robinson's batting spurge gives him six hits in 13 at bats for the season.

Stephens doubled in a run to break a 2-2 deadlock in the ninth inning to give the Crackers' first victory. Atlanta then rallied Red Wing pitchers Howard Stechers and Ken Hunt for five hits and three runs in the sixth inning of the second contest to pile up the winning 5-4 margin.

Buffalo rallied for five runs in the sixth inning to sew up their first victory of the year, overcoming a 2-1 Columbus lead.

Stock Car Racing Postponed at Victory

A heavy rainfall just before the first race was to get underway forced cancellation of the stock car racing Saturday at Victory Speedway in Middletown.

Racing will continue this Saturday at the Speedway, which has also carded a combination show on May 22 when the ARDC midwinters will be on hand.

BOWLING

Area Keglers Shuffle Standings in Colonial

Three Kingston area teams moved into the top ten of the first annual Colonial City Handicap Classic at Sangi's Bowlero, but Lenox House of Pittsfield, Mass., held firm in first place with a 3294 gross and 3054 net.

Reynolds Studio of Kingston is now third with a 3127 gross; Masons, Inc., of Saugerties, 8th with 3088 and Bonnie's Tavern, Kingston, 10th with 3070.

3 Brothers Sweeps Schovel Tree Team

Three Brothers Egg Farm dealt Schovel Tree Service hopes of winning a second straight Mid Hudson Major League title a severe jolt by sweeping the defending champions Friday at the Campi-Tarsio Lanes.

While Schovel was struggling with only 2814, the Egg Farm five of Milt Tsitsera tallied 2996 to knock Schovel out of the top spot.

Tompkins and Baxter Insurance won three to take a one-game lead with five weeks left.

Tom Carlinio banged 627, Vince Carpinio 624 and Harold Baker 608 for Three Brothers. Only a 609 by Larry Petersen was respectable for the losers.

Top individual effort for the evening was a 760 by Jim Torelli of Vollar Sales. He walloped 258, 277 and 225. Greg Voci of the same team had a 277 single and Vollar banged 1057, 1074 and 1056 for 3187. Jack Houghtaling of Schoentag's opened with nine straight strikes in his final game and finished with 276 while palcing Schoentag's Hotel to a 1121 solo.

In addition to Torelli's big blast, Nils Linell hit 209, 256 and 268 for 733.

Houghtaling paced the 600 shooters with 215, 205 and his 276 for 696.

Others, Joe Shier 672, Greg Voci 674, Jim Lawson 672, Larry Demitas 664, Mike Ruggerio 656, Lou Campi Sr. 652, Al P. Montreal Has Stanley Cup Lead

MONTREAL (AP) — Billy Reay, coach of the Chicago Black Hawks, is an exception to the rule in National Hockey League circles.

While baseball managers and football coaches have a habit of playing musical chairs by going from one team to another, an unsuccessful hockey coach seldom gets a second chance.

Reay did get a second chance, and he's making the most of it. Reay's 1963-64 team missed the NHL championship by one point and then failed in the playoffs.

This year the Hawks finished third after leading the league much of the season. But the Hawks' management showed confidence in Reay. They signed him to another contract in the middle of this year's semifinal series after the Hawks had fallen behind Detroit by losing the first two games.

That the Hawks were able to overcome Detroit's lead was largely because of Reay's patience and confidence.

The Hawks eliminated the Wings 4 games to 3 in the semifinals.

Once again the Hawks have fallen behind. They lost the opener of their best-of-7 championship series to Montreal Saturday night.

"They did an excellent job and played well," said Reay even though the Hawks were without the services of Pierre Pilote and Kenny Wharram, both of whom were injured in the final game against Detroit.

"If we continue to play this well, we'll win the series," he said.

The series continues in Montreal Tuesday night and then the scene shifts to Chicago for games Thursday and Sunday nights.

Heavy, Wet Snow Provides Setting For White Easter

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The weatherman took his eye off the calendar over Easter as a heavy, wet snowfall covered much of New York State, dumping up to 7 inches in some Upstate areas.

Temperatures were well below those registered across the state on a snowless Christmas Day, and poor road conditions contributed to traffic accidents that claimed at least 25 lives over the weekend.

The late date for Easter, generally a harbinger of sunny times for church-goers and egg-hunters, was added cause for consternation among those whose plans were upset by the unseasonable weather.

Easter parades in New York City, however, were spared the brunt of the foul weather. They marched in 50-degree weather and under partly cloudy skies.

But up and across the state, high temperatures reached only into the 30s and the 40s. Binghamton recorded a 7-inch snowfall in a six-hour Sunday afternoon storm. Elmira was hit by a 5 1/2-inch fall in a storm that closed the city's airport for several hours.

Other Upstate areas received snowfalls ranging from a trace to 3 inches or more. Most of the snow had melted by nightfall.

The Weather Bureau provided these contrasts between Christmas and Easter high temperatures, with the Yule readings listed first:

Albany, 62-43; Buffalo, 58-34; New York, 60-31; Syracuse, 61-41; Utica, 65-42.

Cold weather, with chances for snow flurries across much of the state, would continue at least through Tuesday, the Weather Bureau said.

Mental Patient Home on Leave Kills Four, Self

TONAWANDA, N.Y. (AP)—A mental patient home on leave killed his wife, three daughters and then himself while police had a telegraphed request to pick him up, a Veterans Administration spokesman said Sunday.

Tonawanda Police Chief James G. Oldenburg acknowledged receiving the telegram to pick up Thurber Cassidy, 37, on Friday. But, he said, his men did not act on it because it was not "in writing."

The bodies of Cassidy, his wife, Agnes, 36, and the girls, Barbara, 10, Deborah, 8, and Beverly, 4, were found Saturday night in the family home in this city near Buffalo. Scattered through the house were a bloodstained hatchet, hammer and plumber's wrench.

A medical examiner said the family had been dead for about 12 hours.

VA officials and Erie County Dist. Atty. Michael Dillon announced Sunday night they would investigate details of the telegraphed request and lack of police action.

Police and the medical examiner said Cassidy had struck at the girls after stabbing his wife. He then plunged a knife in himself, officials said.

Cassidy had been undergoing mental treatments since shortly after his discharge from the Navy 18 years ago, his mother, Mrs. Emerson Cassidy, told the Buffalo Courier Express Sunday.

She said that in recent months, her son had become "extremely religious" and that at times he purported to be a prophet.

A penciled note, that police said Cassidy had written, said: "Dear Mom and Dad, God told me to."

Cassidy had been home from the Veterans Administration Hospital at Canandaigua since January, 1964. Robert Ryan, assistant hospital director, said Sunday.

Ryan said a telegram was dispatched Friday to Oldenburg requesting Tonawanda Police to pick up Cassidy and turn him over to VA authorities in Buffalo.

Oldenburg said a Western Union operator read the telegram to him over a telephone about noon Friday. He conferred with James L. Tippet, legal advisor to the police. Oldenburg said Tippet advised him not to do anything until a written request was received from the hospital.

Police had no legal nor medical reason to deprive Cassidy of his freedom, Tippet said Sunday.

Guest Speaker Named for Meet Of Dairy Council

Dr. Robert Holland, head of the Department of Dairy and Food Science at Cornell University, will be guest speaker at the 15th annual meeting of the Dairy Council of the Mid-Hudson Area at 7:45 p.m. Tuesday in the De-laval Building on Dutchess Turnpike, Poughkeepsie. The public is invited.

Dr. Holland will show slides of his visit last year to East Africa where he spent a year establishing a teaching program in Dairy and Food Science at Egerton College, Njoro, Kenya.

A special guest at the meeting will be Miss Marjorie Heath New York State Dairy Princess. The Dairy Council, which has been conducting a health and nutrition education program 15 years in the Mid-Hudson area, is financed on a volunteer basis by local milk dealers and producers. Ulster County members serving on the board of directors include Robert Gusewich, Robert Kelder, Richard Emerson and David Jewett.

Salvation Army Sets Vacation School This Week

The Salvation Army will be conducting a Daily Vacation Bible School at 94 North Front Street, April 19 through April 23 from 9:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m.

There will be classes in craft, recreation, religious instructions, learning of a short play. The Calling of Samuel. Lunch will be served at noon.

The school is under the direction of Mrs. Brigadier Jacob Hohn. Mrs. Captain Roberts Dries will be coming from Waterbury, Conn. Salvation Army, to assist. Other teachers will be Mrs. Lillian Halstead, Mrs. Edward Smith, Mrs. Dorothy De-Hoff and Mrs. Dorothy Kelderhouse.

The children will be giving a program at 7:30 p. m. Friday, April 23 to which the public is invited. The play The Calling of Samuel will be presented and there will be a general review of what the children have learned. Their craft work will be on display.

Warming Trend Is Forecast for Later in Week

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Extended forecasts prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from 7 a.m. Tuesday to 7 a.m. Sunday:

Eastern New York—Temperatures are expected to average near normal levels for early springtime. It will be cool at the beginning with a warming trend later in the week. Several periods of precipitation likely as rain or showers about Wednesday or Thursday and at the end of the week.

Western New York — Temperatures will average near normal with warming later in the week. Rainfall about mid week and near the end of the week will average one quarter to one half inch.

Temperature normals — Daytime highs, mid 50s to low 60s. Nighttime lows, mid 30s to low 40s.

Saugerties Boy, 3, Hit Crossing Road

A 3-year-old Saugerties boy was injured shortly after 1 p.m. Easter Sunday when he was hit by an automobile as he was crossing the intersection at Ann and East Bridge Street, in that village.

Officer William Johnson said Philip Magee, of 45 East Bridge Street, was taken to the Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill, and treated for lacerations of the forehead and right ear and bruises of the head. He was admitted after treatment.

Johnson said the boy was with his brother, Henry, when Philip darted from the south sidewalk into the path of a car driven by John H. Culleton Jr., 39, of Rt. 1, Box 1B, Saugerties. The driver told Officer Anthony Scarselli that he first saw the boys standing on the sidewalk, and suddenly Philip darted in front of his car. Culleton said he applied the brakes but the 1963 sedan, owned by John D. O'Brien, of 706 Balsam Street, Liverpool, skidded several feet and hit the boy, knocking him to the pavement.

Two Dutchess Fires

While Harold Davidson, of 60 Taylor Avenue, Poughkeepsie, and his family were away on Easter Sunday, fire broke out in their home and did heavy damage. The fire was discovered by Walter Bilvov, who resides on the second floor of the house. He summoned firemen to the scene.

At 1 a. m. today, fire of undetermined origin destroyed an unoccupied bungalow on Route 9D south of Beacon. Firemen from that city and Glenham quelled the flames. The owner of the building was not identified.

EASTER SUNDAY MISHAP—Thomas Herlihy, 13, of Silver Springs, Md., under treatment for leg and shoulder injuries at the Benedictine Hospital, was reported in fair condition today. He was injured in a mishap at Fair and Pearl Streets at about 10:20 a. m. Sunday, police said, when the bicycle he rode rolled off a curb and caught in the rear bumper of the car above driven by George A. Koulos, 59, of 34 Kingston Terrace. The boy was visiting in the city. He was taken to the hospital by Fatum ambulance. (Freeman photo)

Civil Service Exam

Men are wanted for jobs in connection with the medical care of male prisoners in Federal penal and correctional institutions. The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced a new examination for Medical Technical Assistants who must be qualified by training and experience in general nursing and in two additional specialized fields such as medical laboratory, x-ray, pharmacy, physical therapy, or dentistry. Qualified applicants begin at $5,505 a year and if successful in the planned training program will be promoted to $6,630 a year. Persons interested in qualifying in this examination should ask for Application Form No. 335-B in order to see the detailed requirements and instructions. Applications must be filed with the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Public Health Service, U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Washington, D. C. 20203. Applications will be accepted until further notice.

Announcements and appropriate application forms may be obtained from Leo W. Darwak, Examiner in charge at Central Post Office, Kingston, or from the Board of Examiners above.

Wins Driving Test

NEW YORK (AP)—The Ithaca, N.Y., Journal took first place in its division in the 1964 safe driving awards announced Sunday by the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

The Journal's honors came in the private motor carrier division, group A, newspapers having a daily circulation up to 20,000 copies.

The ANPA has conducted a safe driving campaign since 1941 in cooperation with circulation managers.

3 Cited, 1 Hurt In Area Mishaps

Three motorists were cited and an Accord young woman was injured as the result of traffic accidents investigated over the weekend by Ellenville State Police.

Beverly Schoonmaker, 19, of Accord, sustained lacerations of the forehead at 3:45 a. m. Sunday when a car in which she was a passenger hit a bridge abutment on Route 213 east of Route 209, Stone Ridge. The car, driven by William C. Misseth, 18, of West Barrington, R. I., went out of control on a right curve.

Troopers said Robert Boyle, 40, Kerhonkson, was summoned on a charge of failing to keep to the right, after his car hit a private light pole off Route 209 south of Accord. The vehicle, investigators said, crossed the highway after hitting the pole and struck three pieces of farm equipment in a parking lot.

Dennis Connor, 17, of Ellenville, also was cited for failure to keep right after his car failed to negotiate a left curve on Route 55 west of Napanoch. The vehicle went off the shoulder, crossed the highway and hit a dirt barrier and rolled down a 10-foot embankment.

Troopers also reported Jeffery Kuehane, 17, of Brooklyn, was issued a summons for driving without a license, after his car went off Route 52 east of Walker Valley, after a left rear tire blew out.

Mental Patient Home on Leave Kills Four, Self

TONAWANDA, N.Y. (AP)—A mental patient home on leave killed his wife, three daughters and then himself while police had a telegraphed request to pick him up, a Veterans Administration spokesman said Sunday.

Tonawanda Police Chief James G. Oldenburg acknowledged receiving the telegram to pick up Thurber Cassidy, 37, on Friday. But, he said, his men did not act on it because it was not "in writing."

The bodies of Cassidy, his wife, Agnes, 36, and the girls, Barbara, 10, Deborah, 8, and Beverly, 4, were found Saturday night in the family home in this city near Buffalo. Scattered through the house were a bloodstained hatchet, hammer and plumber's wrench.

A medical examiner said the family had been dead for about 12 hours.

VA officials and Erie County Dist. Atty. Michael Dillon announced Sunday night they would investigate details of the telegraphed request and lack of police action.

Police and the medical examiner said Cassidy had struck at the girls after stabbing his wife. He then plunged a knife in himself, officials said.

Cassidy had been undergoing mental treatments since shortly after his discharge from the Navy 18 years ago, his mother, Mrs. Emerson Cassidy, told the Buffalo Courier Express Sunday.

She said that, in recent months, her son had become "extremely religious" and that at times he purported to be a prophet.

A penciled note, that police said Cassidy had written, said: "Dear Mom and Dad, God told me to."

Cassidy had been home from the Veterans Administration Hospital at Canandaigua since January, 1964, Robert Ryan, assistant hospital director, said Sunday.

Ryan said a telegram was dispatched Friday to Oldenburg requesting Tonawanda Police to pick up Cassidy and turn him over to VA authorities in Buffalo.

Oldenburg said a Western Union operator read the telegram to him over a telephone about noon Friday. He conferred with James L. Tippet, legal advisor to the police. Oldenburg said Tippet advised him not to do anything until a written request was received from the hospital.

Police had no legal or medical reason to deprive Cassidy of his freedom, Tippet said Sunday.

Saugerties Boy, 3, Hit Crossing Road

A 3-year-old Saugerties boy was injured shortly after 1 p.m. Easter Sunday when he was hit by an automobile as he was crossing the intersection at Ann and East Bridge Street, in that village.

Officer William Johnson said Philip Maceo, of 45 East Bridge Street, was taken to the Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill, and treated for lacerations of the forehead and right ear and bruises of the head. He was admitted after treatment.

Johnson said the boy was with his brother, Henry, when Philip darted from the south sidewalk into the path of a car driven by John H. Cullerton Jr., 39, of Rt. 1, Box 1B, Saugerties. The driver told Officer Anthony Scarselli that he first saw the boys standing on the sidewalk, and suddenly Philip darted in front of his car. Cullerton said he applied the brakes but the 1963 sedan, owned by John D. O'Brien, of 706 Balsam Street, Liverpool, skidded several feet and hit the boy, knocking him to the pavement.

Two Dutchess Fires

While Harold Davidson, of 60 Taylor Avenue, Poughkeepsie, and his family were away on Easter Sunday, fire broke out in their home and did heavy damage. The fire was discovered by Walter Bilyou, who resides on the second floor of the house. He summoned firemen to the scene.

At 1 a. m. today, fire of undetermined origin destroyed an unoccupied bungalow on Route 9D south of Beacon. Firemen from that city and Glenham quelled the flames. The owner of the building was not identified.

Civil Service Exam

Men are wanted for jobs in connection with the medical care of male prisoners in Federal penal and correctional institutions. The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced a new examination for Medical Technicians, which must be qualified by training and experience in general nursing and in two additional specialized fields such as medical laboratory, x-ray, pharmacy, physical therapy, or dentistry. Qualified applicants begin at $5,505 a year and if successful in the planned training program will be promoted to $6,630 a year. Persons interested in qualifying in this examination should ask for Announcement No. 355-B in order to see the detailed requirements and instructions. Applications must be filed with the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Public Health Service, U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Washington, D. C. 20203. Applications will be accepted until further notice.

Announcements and appropriate application forms may be obtained from Leo W. Darwask, Examiner in charge at Central Post Office, Kingston, or from the Board of Examiners above.

Wins Driving Test

NEW YORK (AP)—The Ithaca, N.Y., Journal took first place in its division in the 1964 safe driving awards announced Sunday by the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

The Journal's honors came in the private motor carrier division, group A, newspapers having a daily circulation up to 20,000 copies.

The ANPA has conducted a safe driving campaign since 1941 in cooperation with circulation managers.

3 Cited, 1 Hurt In Area Mishaps

Three motorists were cited and an Accord young woman was injured as the result of traffic accidents investigated over the weekend by Ellenville State Police.

Beverly Schoonmaker, 19, of Accord, sustained lacerations of the forehead at 3:45 a. m. Sunday when a car in which she was a passenger hit a bridge abutment on Route 213 east of Route 209, Stone Ridge. The car, driven by William C. Misseth, 18, of West Barrington, R. I., went out of control on a right curve.

Troopers said Robert Boyle, 40, Kerhonkson, was summoned on a charge of failing to keep to the right, after his car hit a private light pole off Route 209 south of Accord. The vehicle, investigators said, crossed the highway after hitting the pole and struck three pieces of farm equipment in a parking lot.

Dennis Connor, 17, of Ellenville, also was cited for failure to keep right after his car failed to negotiate a left curve on Route 55 west of Napanoch. The vehicle went off the shoulder, crossed the highway and hit a dirt barrier and rolled down a 10-foot embankment.
